Student Vote Calls for Reduced Representation

by Kirk Cates

SUNYA faculty members are being asked to vote on a proposal to reduce faculty representation in the University Senate. According to President Fredrick Volkewin, 80 percent of the faculty members believe the Senate should be reduced to encompass a smaller voting body. The referendum stimulated a response of 325 faculty ballots out of a potential voting body of approximately 1,000.

Oliver Roberts, who administered the referendum, said it was a very positive response. "We are in effect more responsive to the faculty now. We have a smaller number of people voting on a larger number of issues." Roberts said that the results of the referendum will be presented early next week. Elections Committee Chairperson Alan Ken Gordon said that the referendum will be included in a separation of faculty voting to be presented early next week.

The option that was favored separately elected faculty body. "The viable alternatives have been presented, and the faculty members favor reducing the size of the Senate and increase the proportional representation of faculty members," said Volkewin.

According to Volkewin, the referendums were calling for proportional representation of faculty members, which means that the Senate will be a "whole game of voting faculty."

The 49-year-old spokesman, who has been a political activist for many years, continued, "We want money for the hostages. The Shah's death was an example of extreme measures being used to get what they want."

Soviet-led invasion similar to that in Czechoslovakia is raising the gravest concern over the future of this Warsaw Pact state, whose internal turmoil has raised fears of a military intervention. The Polish state news agency, PAP, carried late Wednesday by the Polish state news agency, warned that the possibility of such an intervention has come, it said. "The development of the situation in Poland is one of the gravest concerns that we have today," it continued, in what may have been an allusion to the "Prague spring" of party leader Alexander Dubcek. Carter Warns Soviets

WARSAW, Poland — The White House warned the Soviet Union Wednesday that the possibility of a military intervention in Poland is one of the gravest concerns that the United States has today. The warning came in a statement by President Carter, who said that the United States is "concerned" by the developments in Poland and that the Soviet Union should take "immediate action" to end the situation.

The idea of the Equal Rights for Fathers (ERFF) chapter, as a group whose mission is to fight for the equal rights of fathers, has been popularized by the group's most recent and successful efforts.

ERFF was formed in 1978 by a group of fathers who felt that their rights were being denied in court proceedings. The group's purpose was to provide a support network for fathers who were facing the trauma of divorce.

The Houkodisplay, or Holodisplay as it is also known, is a revolutionary new form of entertainment that is quickly becoming popular around the world. The technology behind the Houkodisplay is based on the use of holograms, which allow for the creation of images that appear to be three-dimensional and can be viewed from any angle.

The Houkodisplay was first introduced in 2004 and has since become a staple in many homes and businesses. The technology is especially popular in the entertainment industry, where it has been used to create new forms of movies, concerts, and stage shows.

One of the most exciting aspects of the Houkodisplay is its ability to bring characters from movies and video games to life in a way that is both entertaining and educational. The technology is also being used to create new forms of gaming, where players can interact with characters and objects in a virtual environment.

Despite its many advantages, the Houkodisplay is not without its detractors. Some critics argue that the technology is too expensive for many people to afford, and that it can be difficult to set up and use. However, the Houkodisplay is likely to continue to grow in popularity as more people become familiar with its capabilities.

In conclusion, the Houkodisplay is a disruptive technology that is changing the way we think about entertainment. It is a technology that is both exciting and challenging, and it will be interesting to see how it evolves in the years to come.
