LAND NEEDED BY STATE
Recognition in Legislature

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature for the purpose of purchasing the land between State College and the Albany High School. The bill provides for the appropriation of $60,000 for this purpose, in addition to the $5,000 which has already been granted to secure an option on the land.

The rapidly growing registration is making the need of State College for more ground more apparent every year. Particularly is the need of dormitory space, additional laboratory space, a library, a gymnasium, and a building for the use of the 30th High School.

Is the interest of the members of the student body in this matter merely a passive one, or is each one willing to do his share to see that the need is met? Remember it depends on you; so don't leave the job for the next one. Make an endeavor to see the Assemblyman of your district and urge him to support the bill.

CHANGE IN VACATION

The attention of the students is called to the change in the date of the winter vacation.

Formerly, the recess began at 5:30 the Tuesday preceding Easter Sunday, and ended the Tuesday morning after Easter, exactly seven days.

According to the new rule, the recess begins at the close of recitations on Thursday preceding Palm Sunday and ends the Tuesday morning after Easter, exactly ten days; the general dates for this year being from April 7 to April 18.

PHYLLIS NOTED

Miss Pierce delivered a very interesting address at the State Normal School of Cold Spring, last Friday, January 25. The subject of the address was: "Choice or Chance: Which shall rule my life?" Miss Pierce pointed out to the students that deliberate choosing is better than being controlled by circumstance. She told them how they might enrich their lives by bringing culture into their homes, and that the cost of doing this is not such a tremendous burden.

Dr. Brinton attended the conference held Friday and Saturday at Teachers' College, Columbia University.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation has invited the students and faculty of the State College to help in raising a million dollar fund in commemoration of Woodrow Wilson.

'22 SUPPORTS DORMITORY FUND

Every one of us knows, rather vaguely perhaps, that the alumnae have started a campaign for the State College Dormitory Fund. They are still undergraduates and thus very familiar with the actual living conditions of students. Whether their homes are in Albany or not, realize to the utmost the great need for college dormitories.

It is the personal business of each of us to see that every freshman to whom this new plan applies and in further it with all the power in us.

The plan is briefly this: all alumnae are asked to pledge that it is their intention to contribute twenty ($20.00) dollars a year for five years to the Dormitory Fund. The payment of this money is not compulsory; for any reason whatsoever, each alumnae who pledges himself finds that he is unable to meet this obligation because of some unforeseen trouble, he need not pay. The matter is left to his own sense of honor.

Each graduating class, as it leaves State College, is to be asked to help in the work as well as those men and women who are alumnae now.

Without even analyzing our position as to this new movement college spirit makes us want to help all we can. Not many of us can count on help from outside our college spirit makes us want to help all we can. Not many of us can count on help from outside sources. Our help must be from within ourselves.

A FABLE—BY AESOP, JR.

Long, long ages on the land of men was a young man who never smiled; and he was a young man of keen eyes. One night in a dream a spirit of the god appeared to the smirking young man, and he said unto him: "The gods are pleased to help the race of man and to let them read the minds of their fathers. I have chosen you to gather together the faults of man and write them on a tablet for the souls of men to read." When the young man woke, he dreamed a dream, and set forth with the task. First he bade many tablets of stone and laid them under a mighty tree. Then he sat by the side of the road and wrote on all the tablets of all that passed by; and soon one tablet was full and he began to chip the faults of man on the second tablet. And one day there came to the man a young man who said, "Come, let's do this work together, and be friends." But the first young man scornfully began to chip a sentence beginning, "Fools that talk."

The man chipped tablet after tablet and placed them all about him.

JUNIOR-FRESH GAME
On the gym court Monday afternoon, January 16, the juniors clashed with the freshmen in a rather one-sided contest. The fresh put up a stiff fight but it was unsatisfactory against the superior pass work and skill of the juniors. The final score was 11-0 in favor of the juniors.

The boys on the court made a spirited defense and even when the junior's defense was broken they fought back the score to the maximum.

The following is the box score of the game:

OTHER COLLEGE FUNDS

Alumni have shown a greater interest in their colleges during the past year than at any time before. A large number of universities have been carrying on drives for funds, making a special appeal to their alumni, and they have responded with great loyalty. The graduates of the class of 1919 were interested in this more than any other class, and from them must come the strongest support for their Alma Mater. The money raised in these drives is in instances used to meet general expenses, but a large portion of this will be used for dormitories and other buildings.

When we are discussing plans for dormitories at State College, it is interesting to know how some other colleges have raised and are raising money for their dormitory expenses. The following are some colleges which have recently made drives for funds.

Yale University has had no drive for a specific sum, but every graduate is expected to make a contribution to the Yale Alumni Fund according to his ability. The annual contributions amount to about $750,000. This amount has been used to meet the war expenses, but a large portion of this money raised in the drives is in instances used to meet general expenses, but a large portion of this will be used for dormitories and other buildings.

In the Harvard drive each alumna was expected to make a special appeal to her Dormitory and to the graduate who graduated a long time ago than any other, and was expected to contribute a certain amount for each year out of college.

China's declaration of principles and the firm assertion of her rights before the bar of international law, that the world opinion will remove the cause and threat of war. It will do more for China. The present Chinese government is not strong enough to hold the country together. It will establish a true and lasting order that will exist for a thousand years. The people of China will not only have peace but will also enjoy the fruits of an invigorated China.
