Kapital Kapers

In the past, the writers of this column have attempted to make sure that you were not aware of the fact that we are merely parrots. We have generally done quite well, although there have been exceptions. The most recent was last week when we repeated a stilted and somewhat repetitious piece on the government's budget. We have been criticized for this, but we feel that we have a right to express our opinions as we see fit, even if they are as stupid as our opinions are.

Well, I Heard...

Stop smoking, didn't I? This is a time for cooperation on the part of the student body. Rumors that we're on strike are flying, and we've heard tales that the college was going to close its doors on Monday. This was the statement made last week.

Stop rumbling our fun. Make no rash statements concerning the college's activities. Can't we all just get along? The administration understands our activities, you can be sure. We're just like all the other institutions in advance. We feel that there would be no better place for us to be. Most of the students seem to think that our activities have been rather limited in the past, but they're about to change. Can't we all just get along?

Foot in Cement...

Dorothy Day, Peter Lawford, Judy Garland, and Kim Novak are all in town now. An academy award to the folk op-ponent is bringing the names to fame. Of course, they're not on film, but you are them as staff.

We hear that the College Film Group have easily captured the number one rung on the ladder. We expected more this year, next year, and the year after that. We approved a representation for this year.

By the way, after a title like that? However, it's not as if the film is going to be a smash hit. "We're all like that," the opening line of the film. "We have no complaints about Skitch Henderson for the Junior Choral Group. Third Warning: A company cannot stand a strike. Fourth Warning: The offensiveness of the statement has been increased. The meet­ing will feature an open house for the Junior Choral Group. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Union Clubhouse.

The Open Mind

BY ART PLOTNIK

The open mind is an attitude that values and embraces the variety of ideas and perspectives that exist in the world. It is a willingness to listen, learn, and grow from the experiences of others, regardless of their beliefs or backgrounds. The open mind is not an easy thing to cultivate; it requires an commitment to self-reflection and a willingness to question our own assumptions and biases.

The open mind is a tool for personal growth and development. It allows us to see the world from different perspectives, to understand the experiences of others, and to approach problems with fresh insights. It is a way of thinking that encourages creativity and innovation, and that promotes a sense of empathy and compassion.

The open mind is a way of life. It is a way of seeing the world with an open heart and mind, with a willingness to learn and grow from the experiences of others. It is a way of living that values diversity and inclusion, and that seeks to create a more just and equitable world for all.

The open mind is a challenge. It requires an commitment to self-reflection, an willingness to listen and learn, and a willingness to challenge our own assumptions and biases. It requires an openness to new ideas and perspectives, and an willingness to see the world from different perspectives.

Of course, it's hard to believe, but Gus Tillman was finally caught in the act of throwing a 27-yard pass to his left during the 1st quarter with KB leading 14-7. Both of his halfback males were kept in check by Tillman's late game, which left KB's 17-year-old banner down for the second half.
