Council Receives Siena Apology; Defeats Move To Close Union

Student Council's Wednesday morning meeting included discussion of a resolution aimed at preventing the spread of the student ap-opera catering union with council members. The resolution, which was passed unanimously, called for the formation of a new council to be comprised of representatives from all organizations and the student body. It was also decided that a special committee be appointed to study the possibility of forming a new council.

Short Order

We were at first drawn to the comedy, then to the music. It was the strain was beginning to show in the Suez Canal dispute and the possibility of a new route. Due to Dulles' strong position, the London Times to accuse him of "grave disapproval," the one thing that might have dissuaded Nasser, a hasty in judging Mr. Dulles' intentions.

Governing Use of Camp Dippikill

Issues Decision To Freshmen

The present Camp Board, composed of twelve members, four of whom are freshmen, met last week to decide the fate of the camp. The board met to discuss the proposal of the Freshmen Council to change the regulations governing the use of Camp Dippikill.

This political club will work on ID cards. This wide range of duties will give those interested in student government an opportunity to work on a problem of the camp.

Camp Board was told by the Freshmen Council that the proposal of the Freshmen Council to change the regulations governing the use of Camp Dippikill is not acceptable to the board. The board only wishes to see the Freshmen Council propose changes to the regulations governing the use of Camp Dippikill, as opposed to the Freshmen Council proposing that the regulations governing the use of Camp Dippikill be changed.

This decision was made after a meeting of the Camp Board on Thursday, October 19, 1956. The board was presented with the proposal of the Freshmen Council to change the regulations governing the use of Camp Dippikill. The board then voted to present a recommendation to the Freshmen Council that the regulations governing the use of Camp Dippikill be changed. CHARLIE CHAN: Moves Into Town, Gambling Hits Cafeteria Crow

What can you buy with a $10.00 bill? How many burritos can you buy? How many hot dogs can you buy? How many cans of soda can you buy? How many slices of pizza can you buy? How many video games can you buy? How many books can you buy? How many tickets can you buy?

There are many ways to spend your money, but there are certain things you can't buy with a $10.00 bill. For example, you can't buy love, happiness, or friendship. You can't buy health, peace, or freedom. You can't buy knowledge, wisdom, or insight. You can't buy beauty, truth, or justice. You can't buy charity, will, or grace.

The $10.00 bill is a symbol of our society. It represents the value we place on certain things. It represents the worth we place on certain people. It represents the dignity we place on certain institutions. It represents the respect we place on certain traditions. It represents the admiration we place on certain achievements.

The $10.00 bill is a symbol of what we value. It is a symbol of what we believe. It is a symbol of what we hope. It is a symbol of what we fear. It is a symbol of what we desire. It is a symbol of what we dread. It is a symbol of what we cherish. It is a symbol of what we despise.

The $10.00 bill is a symbol of our society. It represents the values we hold dear. It represents the beliefs we hold sacred. It represents the hopes we hold dear. It represents the fears we hold distant. It represents the desires we hold fast. It represents the hatreds we hold fierce. It represents the values we hold firm. It represents the hatreds we hold fierce.
You Can Win A Cash Award—and Scholarship Money For Your College in Reader's Digest $41,000 CONTEST
Open to All College Students (Faculty, too!)

Nothing to buy—nothing to write
...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest most people? Here is a chance to test your guess—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $8,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the Country ... and you can match the decisions of the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far fewer graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norvegian, Portuguese, and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find ... you know more about people than you think!

Here's what you do. Study the descriptions (at the right) of the articles in the October Reader's Digest—then circle the complete article. Then select the six which you think readers of the magazine will like best. This will be compared with a nationwide survey conducted among a cross section of Digest subscribers.

(And if your entry is the best from your college, you may find $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.) Then simply list the six articles in order of preference—that is, in the order of popularity, from first to sixth place.

You may win:

$500 cash 1st prize
$1000 cash 2nd prize
Any of TEN $500 cash prizes
Any of 100 $10 prizes in book credit from your local college bookstore.

And if your entry lists from your college is the earliest one to be returned.

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES
1. Read the descriptions in this advertisement, then select the complete article. Then select the six which you think readers of the Digest will like best.

2. In the space under each description, opposite the word "SECOND," write the number of the article you think will be the most popular of all. This contest is open only to college students, 17 years old and over. You may enter as often as you wish.

3. Postcard ballots will be given to you and your classmates in your school's dormitory, or on the campus. Additional ballots are available on request.

4. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1956. Additional copies may be used as often as you wish.

Any of TEN $500 cash prizes
Any of 100 $10 prizes in book credit from your local college bookstore.

Entry blanks are available at your college bookstore. Visit the school library or your local bookstore for details.

Your chance to be one of the ten $500 winners is the greatest when you enter the Digest's $41,000 contest. Don't delay. Enter now. Enter with the widest possible win.

Just pick in order the six articles you think most readers of October Digest like best.

Which six articles will readers of the October Digest like best?
