Anchoring the West Podium. However, construction is first to be begun some time in April and its completion is, at best, several years off. The University Bookstore will probably run at a deficit again this year, ninth to the dismay of FSA officials and the administration of most students. Across the street, Kinesiology's Robert Coast, underwriting of the book's $500 discount for students, and the lack of space in the bookstore are responsible for most of the loss.

The campus bookstore last year ran at a deficit of $71,000. Another was $15,000 more. In an interview, Robert Cost, Executive Director of FSA, cited some of the changes in the bookstore's operations to students on required textbooks and the lack of space in the bookstore as accounting for the bulk of the loss.

According to Cost, faculty members replace textbooks every three to five years. They purchase new editions of textbooks for students on required textbooks and the lack of space in the bookstore is, in his words, impossible. (The book is out of print so the bookstore is forced to purchase new editions.)

The most disconcerting aspect, and an indirect cause of the bookstore's woes, is the acute lack of space. Cost notes that on a per student basis, the bookstore is looking at stores on the order of 200 square feet.

The bookstore's woe is the acute lack of space. Cooley points out that the biggest worry is the acute lack of space. Cooley says that the bookstore's woes are likely to persist as universities continue to increase the size of their buildings. The University Bookstore is planning to open a new facility on Broadway in the next few years.

The campus bookstore last year ran at a deficit of $71,000. Another book will probably run at a deficit again this year, ninth to the dismay of FSA officials and the administration of most students. Across the street, Kinesiology's Robert Coast, underwriting of the book's $500 discount for students, and the lack of space in the bookstore are responsible for most of the loss.
ALBANY STUDENT PRESS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1971

Student Fee Approved

GONSETA, N.Y. AP — A constituent student, the student association, government, and the national student government of the local State University College have approved a student fee proposal.

The proposal was presented by the student association and the national student government.

The fee proposal was approved by a vote of 3 to 1.

America is hard to see

Eugene McCarthy for President—1968

ALBANY STUDENT PRESS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1971

Council Endorses AMIA Decision

By Jeffrey P. Bernstein

Ministers of AMIA and Central Council engaged in heated debate at Central Council's weekly meeting Thursday night over AMIA's demands for a resolution on the internment of Buddhist monks.

Central Council challenged the right of Buddhist Monks of America to hold meetings outside the Central Council's premises and to distribute literature to students.

The students' right to freedom of speech and association was the central issue in the debate.

Kennedy Opposes Volunteer Army, New Deformers

By James H. Pfeifer

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Senator Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., called Thursday for continuation of the volunteer army during wartime. Kennedy opposed permanent defeat of the draft and the extension of the draft.

Kennedy also proposed that all new student and military personnel be established in the volunteer army.

President Nixon has proposed the permanent defeat of the draft and the extension of the draft.

Kennedy attacked.

Student Fee

Weekend Hours & A Student Discount

Now you can enjoy Elegant Dining and drinks in one of the Finest Restaurants in the Albany area.

$1.50 discount* with a meal card

For reservations call (518) 437-8033

Monday - Friday: 5:10 - 8 p.m.
Saturday: Noon - 10 p.m.

* Terms and Conditions Apply.
On Escape

by E. F. Shapero

Many have said and written about escape. However, most of the literature has been about the need for it and we all know how much we hate it. However, much writing has been good. I have been interested in reading about escape, and I find that this is a good way to pass the time. I would like to offer another angle on the issue.

First of all, we must define what escape is. It is a way to escape the rules of society. A simple yet powerful idea, and one that is not hard to grasp. But, what are we supposed to do? Do we forget, ignore, or escape from society? The answer is clear: we must escape.

One of my favorite forms of escape is animating characters. To me, this is a way to escape from the real world. It is a way to express myself. I find that when I animate, I am able to forget about the world around me.

Some people have said that animation is a way to escape from reality. While I agree with this, I believe that it is more than just that. It is a way to escape from the stress of everyday life. It is a way to express oneself. When I animate, I am able to forget about the world around me.

In conclusion, I would like to say that everyone should try to escape. To escape from the real world, or to escape from the stress of everyday life.

E. F. Shapero
Sauersmen Up Record to 11-5

With two victories this past week, the Sauersmen Basketball Team stretched their win-loss mark to 11-5. The victories came on Thursday night (73-57) and Saturday night the team lost to Hobart College 115-90. The teams played their home opener at the University Pool, and the rest of the team is completely new on this year's roster.

The Albany team is never with their home court and held a sizeable rebound edge, 29 to 15. At the half, 37-26. In the second half, the Danes broke loose to put a game away, 46-21, and held a 34 point lead at the final whistle, 73-57.

The key man in the game was Jock Jordan, who scored 17 points and pulled in 15 rebounds. The victory came at the expense of Oneonta College, who have bettered one of their last eight outings. The only blemish on their record is a loss to Saratoga Springs.

The Albany-Cortland games are traditionally close. Seven of the fifteen previous games between the two clubs had been settled by less than four points, four of these games had been decided by just one.

The Albany team is never with their home court and held a sizeable rebound edge, 29 to 15. At the half, 37-26. In the second half, the Danes broke loose to put a game away, 46-21, and held a 34 point lead at the final whistle, 73-57.

The key man in the game was Jock Jordan, who scored 17 points and pulled in 15 rebounds. The victory came at the expense of Oneonta College, who have bettered one of their last eight outings. The only blemish on their record is a loss to Saratoga Springs.

The Albany-Cortland games are traditionally close. Seven of the fifteen previous games between the two clubs had been settled by less than four points, four of these games had been decided by just one.

The Albany team is never with their home court and held a sizeable rebound edge, 29 to 15. At the half, 37-26. In the second half, the Danes broke loose to put a game away, 46-21, and held a 34 point lead at the final whistle, 73-57.

The key man in the game was Jock Jordan, who scored 17 points and pulled in 15 rebounds. The victory came at the expense of Oneonta College, who have bettered one of their last eight outings. The only blemish on their record is a loss to Saratoga Springs.

The Albany-Cortland games are traditionally close. Seven of the fifteen previous games between the two clubs had been settled by less than four points, four of these games had been decided by just one.
THE S.A. LAWYER will be here Tuesday from 7-9 pm in CC346
no appointment necessary
to discuss any legal questions, insurance problems, law schools, hassles, etc.

Behind the scenes at: Peter Pan

Albany Student Press

Vol. LVIII No. 7

State University of New York at Albany

Wednesday, February 10, 1971

FIVE CENTS off campus

Albany Student Press

The U.S. Is In Laos and the Campus Reacts

Plans Made

Rally on Campus; Protest at Capitol

by Kenneth Boone

U.S. Air Power Used in Laos

Three Americans Killed

The U.S. State Department said the South Vietnamese offensive in Laos is turning over its role in the war to the Saigon government. The operation, which began over the weekend apparently without prior warning, was the first major ground operation in Laos by the South Vietnamese armed forces. The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.

The U.S. State Department said the operation was to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam. The operation, which began over the weekend apparently without prior warning, was the first major ground operation in Laos by the South Vietnamese armed forces. The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.

The South Vietnamese military launched a ground attack into Laos on Monday, a U.S. defense official said, as the United States stepped up its efforts to protect its supply lines from the communist North Vietnam.

The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.

The U.S. State Department said the South Vietnamese offensive in Laos is turning over its role in the war to the Saigon government. The operation, which began over the weekend apparently without prior warning, was the first major ground operation in Laos by the South Vietnamese armed forces. The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.

A large number of students turned out Tuesday night to protest the actions in Laos.

The U.S. is In Laos and the Campus Reacts

Vol. LVIII No. 7

State University of New York at Albany

Wednesday, February 10, 1971

 Plans Made

Rally on Campus; Protest at Capitol

by Kenneth Boone

U.S. Air Power Used in Laos

Three Americans Killed

The U.S. State Department said the South Vietnamese offensive in Laos is turning over its role in the war to the Saigon government. The operation, which began over the weekend apparently without prior warning, was the first major ground operation in Laos by the South Vietnamese armed forces. The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.

The U.S. State Department said the South Vietnamese offensive in Laos is turning over its role in the war to the Saigon government. The operation, which began over the weekend apparently without prior warning, was the first major ground operation in Laos by the South Vietnamese armed forces. The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.

The U.S. is In Laos and the Campus Reacts

Vol. LVIII No. 7

State University of New York at Albany

Wednesday, February 10, 1971

 Plans Made

Rally on Campus; Protest at Capitol

by Kenneth Boone

U.S. Air Power Used in Laos

Three Americans Killed

The U.S. State Department said the South Vietnamese offensive in Laos is turning over its role in the war to the Saigon government. The operation, which began over the weekend apparently without prior warning, was the first major ground operation in Laos by the South Vietnamese armed forces. The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.

The U.S. State Department said the South Vietnamese offensive in Laos is turning over its role in the war to the Saigon government. The operation, which began over the weekend apparently without prior warning, was the first major ground operation in Laos by the South Vietnamese armed forces. The operation was described by the Saigon government as an effort to protect American supply lines intact in South Vietnam.