SC Airs Plans On School Camp

The Student Union Board, through the initiative of Mary Brezny and Robert Kleeck, Assistant Commissioner of Athletics, has undertaken a program to prepare the facilities for the Assembly of the State College students. The program will include the preparation of the site near Warrensburg, N. Y., which is about 75 miles north of Albany. The site the camp encompasses is an undeveloped spot of land approximately 700 acres near Warrensburg, N. Y. This site would serve as a frosh camp and could not be used for a frosh camp sometime in the future.

The Only Link...

For the first time in eleven years Alumni is playing host to the Inter-Collegiate Association Convention, which convened here yesterday and will continue through tomorrow. The purpose of the Association, the annually held convention, is to "establish and maintain a closer relationship among the various colleges of the State University." This is the first time our State University has hosted the convention, and we sincerely hope that the conference is a success.

The committees also deserve praise for the excellent job they have done. The various events are being well publicized, and every student in the State is invited to attend. The student body has been aroused, so let's see a good turnout.

"Should I have phoned first, Gladys? ..... uh... or... Gladys?"

It's a known fact that the phone is the heart of our communication. It's the one device that can instantly connect you with anyone, anywhere in the world. But it's also important to be aware of your surroundings and your ability to use the phone effectively. For example, if you're talking on the phone while walking down the street, be sure to keep your phone to your ear and not in your hand. This way you can make sure you're not accidentally pressing any buttons or dropping the phone on the ground. It's also important to be aware of your social environment and the potential for accidental noises or interruptions. For example, if you're talking on a phone while sitting in a crowded room, be sure to keep your phone to your ear and not in your hand. This way you can make sure you're not accidentally pressing any buttons or dropping the phone on the ground.

Week's Offenses

By DAVID KENDIG

This week I dropped in at some of the 'planes this past week to see what was going on. It seems to me that the students are more-or-less getting along. However, as I walked about, I saw that the students were not running each other down. They seem to do it with a smile on their face. They are considered good sports.

Communications...

When we ask questions, they are answered. When we ask for help, they are given. When we need advice, they are offered. When we need information, they are provided. The students are more than willing to help you.
