SENIOR MEN WILL COACH Will Give Methods In Physical Work

First steps in extension of the men's athletic program for this year were indicated by a larger percentage of the college men being taken Monday night when Dr. Brubacher addressed a meeting in the gymnasium. He outlined parts of the athletic program for the year and announced the inauguration of a new plan whereby all men will receive regular training in athletic coaching. It is Dr. Brubacher's opinion that the male high school teacher finds his usefulness to the school board increased greatly if he is able to coach a team as well as instruct in a subject.

Coach Baker also spoke regarding athletics. He appealed for support for himself and the teams. The coach has announced that there are several assistant managerships in men's sports open as well as the opportunity for educational purposes. The men's sports managers, he announced, will be chosen from this year's assistants.

Mr. Crane was manager of basketball this year. Stephen Merritt, manager of baseball, has been acting as temporary manager of football, pending action by the athletic council to fill the place of Charles H. Cole, who is not in college.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Strict enforcement of college traditions and fallowing of school regulations was again promised by Edmund Crane, Student Assembly President, speaking last Friday at chapel. Women students who violate college traditions will not be eligible for sorority bids by State College authorities unless they apologize publicly through Myasnita to the student body, and no student who breaks the college's traditions can run for or hold class or association office, he reminded the meeting.

Mr. Crane restated the rules adopted by Myasnita, the intercollegiate council, and other bodies last year. Edith Higgin, a member of Myasnita, and college traditions and sorority rules were read. Sittings for senior pictures for the Pedagogues have been begun, it was announced.

The orchestra will welcome instrumentalists to complete its ranks.

Alma Fallc, song leader, led the singing of several college songs and the freshmen were introduced musically.

REGISTRATION

The registration for this year has at last been tabulated. The total number is still far in excess of the normal capacity of the school, although entrance requirements were much stricter than heretofore. There are 8 graduate students, 72 seniors, 89 juniors, 278 sophomores, and 347 freshmen. The total registration therefore is 1,091.

Dr. Brubacher Will Represent State Centennial Celebration

Dr. Brubacher will represent State College at the Centennial Celebration of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute held at Troy, Friday and Saturday of this week. Delegates from more than two hundred colleges, engineering schools, and universities of Canada and the United States will assemble to listen to men of national and international importance in the educational world. Among the speakers will be: Secretary Herbert Hoover, Latin College, O.S.C.; President of the Society of Civil Engineers of Italy; Arthur Swaney, C.E., President of the Engineering Institute of Canada; Soviet Alfred Sore, L.L.D., Ambassador from China to the United States; President Vincent Flood, of Cornell; President Angell of Yale; President Davis of Wisconsin; President Stratton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; President Sheldon, of the National Academy of Sciences.

AT BANKERS' ASSOCIATION

"The Permanent Values in School Savings" will be the subject of the address Dr. Brubacher will give Friday, October 10, at the annual convention of the State Bankers' Association to be held at the Westchester Baltimore Country Club.

SPOKE AT KINGSTON

At Kingston, September 25, Dr. Brubacher addressed the annual teachers' convention of Ulster County on the subject "Education for Freedom." The organization can not, emphasizing that the organization can not, because of its partisan nature, have any official connection with the student organization, Mr. Crane made clear that his position as president of the association is in no way connected with his political efforts.

Mr. Crane pointed out that students who are twenty-one in many cases neglect their right of franchise and that it is particularly appropriate that future teachers take an active interest in politics.

All students, whether twenty-one or not, will be eligible for membership.

Two hundred of the five hundred students already have had Republican clubs functioning for some time. The remaining three hundred are perfecting organization for an active campaign.

For preliminary organization, an executive committee of seven students, including three seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores is being chosen. The executive committee will elect its chairman and will meet the first Tuesday of each month. Other committees for publicity, membership, finance, and executive work will be chosen later when the club's membership is partly enrolled.

Official faculty sanction to organize the club has been secured, Mr. Crane said. Edward Easton, chairman of the Republican committee in Albany county, has been assisting in preliminary work and in communicating with the National Republican Committee at Washington.

BAKER PROMISES SUCCESS

State men Monday evening enjoyed their first genuine talk from the new coach and physical director, Mr. Rutherford Baker. Perhaps State's former spirit has come back; perhaps it is merely the natural expression of men anticipating a fight. At least, every man sensed a greater feeling of responsibility, a bigger field for opportunity. Behind it all was the vision of the gridiron. State can come back! The only prerequisite is that the appeal for new men be recognized. Mr. Baker promises the winning of approximately a dozen games of the three major sports—if the men come out!

In the college gym each man will control and discipline in turn those interested in physical education. By this plan every graduate will have a working knowledge of each particular phase of the work itself and the attained initiative to govern a student body of considerable size. Co-operation alone is our secret to success.

IMPRESSIONS OF A FRESHMAN

Everyone has his zero hour at some one stage of what apparently seems to be a rather dangerous undertaking. I confess I had mine, when State's rear door closed behind me and I was numbered one of her freshmen. To all outward appearances I was very calm, very collected, as all freshmen are upon registration day, but at heart it was wilderness rather than calmness. I had anticipated being chased through the corridors by a howling mob which would undoubtedly be the sophomores. However nothing of this sort has happened. As a matter of fact things have run their course almost too smoothly, making me still undecided in regard to the sophomores. I attended all the lectures on my schedule, and attempted to answer the many and varied questions asked in the Intelligence Tests. With the commencement of lessons my troubles began. As all upper classmen realize the radical difference between a college and a high school, picture my dismay upon receiving a history assignment of five chapters and one hundred pages in a reference book. According to the time worn statement that "the worst is yet to come" my prospects are still exceedingly bright with the tortures of the Sophomore Get Wise Parr yet to be endured.

Y. W. RECEPTION

Y. W. gave a hearty welcome to the members of the "Campaign" Class on Friday evening, September 26, at its annual reception to the freshmen. Generous portions of wondrous fun were served at the beginning of the program arranged. The new State College Band is one to be proud of by everyone who had the great opportunity and honor of hearing it at its first appearance of the season unreservedly agreed. Mr. F. H. Candlyn was present particularly to hear the result of his efforts and was exceedingly impressed. These green instruments in the form which for many years social occasions have revealed representations worthy of fame on Broadway disclosed the pick of Broadway in "One Rainy Day," a charming little dance; the second number portrayed real anguish of broken hearts; the third represented true contrast between the audible and the inaudible. Truly nice things always are short, as this part of the entertainment proved. The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing, the music being furnished by college talent. During the intermission refreshments were served and dancing continued until eleven o'clock.

Beacons of the sky

Between Cleveland and Rock Springs, Wyo., along the night route of the air mail service, tall beacons have been placed every twenty-five miles.

Revolving on great steel towers, General Electric searchlights, totaling 1,992,000,000 candle-power, blaze a path of light for the airplane pilot.

What the lighthouse is to the ocean navigator, these beacons are to the conquerors of the air.

TELEPHONE DIRECTORY
WITH STUDENT NAMES
WILL BE ISSUED SOON

The official telephone directory, the first in the college's history, will be issued within two months, Eleanor Callery, chairman of the committee, said yesterday. Tabulation of the cards collected in the library last Friday has been going on this week, she said. The directory will be issued in convenient pamphlet size and will be sold to students at a nominal rate to cover the cost of preparation.

The new directories will fill a long-felt need, the committee believes. Students have been unable to communicate with many of their friends by phone during the evening, because the instruments at their residences are listed under other names. The daily classes can be located at the college, but in the evening this is not possible.

The committee appointed from the student association is: Eleanor Callery, chairman; Elizabeth Johnson, Harriet Butler, Abby Crawford, and Genevieve Kenvney.

Frosh To "Get Wise" Tonight, Sophomores Promise Acid Test

"When a seller needs a friend"
(with apologies to Grieg)

Freshmen will "get wise" tonight. Sophomores announced all preparations ready yesterday. Myskania has approved the arrangements and they have been given Dean Pierce's sanction. Despite the guarantee against sudden death or serious injuries afforded by the official approvals, the sophomores insist they have prepared an initiation program that no freshman will ever forget. According to the committee members who were appointed by President Ralph Harris two weeks ago, nothing has been left undone to provide all possible fun for the sophomores. Advantage has been taken of the devices and schemes in use in former years and these have been improved upon and supplemented so that tonight's affair promises to be very interesting.

Following the initiation program, which all freshmen are required to attend, the sophomores will turn hosts and entertain the class of 1928. Dancing has been arranged. Members of Yoshikawa and faculty representatives will attend. Medical men and first aid appliances will be provided by the sophomores. Dr. Cheadle will be in reach by telephone.

Alma Falle is general chairman for the sophomore's charge of music and the Will Zeh of refreshments. Subcommittees are working with them.

WILL ROGERS
GREAT HISTORIAN

You have all thought of Will Rogers as one of the newest comedians of the day, but did you ever view him as a teacher of history? The history of recent events? Professor Ridley maintains that "Will Rogers has one of the greatest minds in the country." He versed in the news of the present day "Will" spits it to the public from the stage in a popular and fascinating manner.

"Mr. Rogers," said Professor Ridley, "is the most sought after man in New York as an after dinner speaker and as a guest in private homes." Surely, the Prince of Wales showed his good taste when he expressed his liking for Will Rogers.

Corn Roast, Saturday, October 4.

What does it mean? It means that Canterbury Club and their friends are going to explore the byways around the Country Club, and plan the events of the coming year. It stands to reason that this year will bring inspiring speakers, poppy programs, and novel activities to the Club; for the food, fire, and friends will clear minds and encourage ideas.

Let everyone interested come and bring a pet project for exploitation. Meet at the end of the Country Club car line at four o'clock.
