FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE...SMOKE CAMELS

Smoking Camels a Pleasant Way to Encourage and Aid Digestion

Harry, worry, and strain tend to interfere with normal processes of digestion—actually slow up the flow of the digestive fluids. It is a natural fact that smoking Camels helps to keep digestion on the proper track, through remov­ing and increasing the flow of the fluids necessary to good digestion. Done well! Smoke a Camel!

You save a comforting "hlt", a feeling of well-being, as you enjoy the delicious fragrance of your Camel.

Camels open a new world of pleasures, where seldom and rare flavor reigns supreme.

You can smoke Camels solemnly. They never get out of your service or take your name. Camels are your right!

INSTITUTIONS and colleges in eastern United States were thrown into turmoil when the raging waters of swollen rivers flooded their campuses, cut off water and electricity. Classes became irregular, and many were poorly attended because of difficulty in reaching campus buildings and because of students' interest in flood activities. Many institutions threw their buildings open to flood refugees and aided in their care.

COLLEGE students themselves are the Hollywood's basic conception of college life: the conventional idea of the life they know and the long, oft mentioned point in the movie's script to which they look forward with keen interest. It is here that the college student is given his idea of what a college is and what he wants to get out of it. What is he looking for?

The average college man is a retired athlete, a man of the world with college prestige, and a man who wants to be on the top of his class. He looks for the honors roll, but he also looks for the opportunity to be a part of the college scene. He looks for the chance to be a part of the college life, to be a part of the college community.

University of Wisconsin is Host To Annual Student Assembly This Week-End.

Six members of the varsity debating team of the University of Wisconsin will participate in the annual student assembly which is being conducted in two parts this week-end at the University of Wisconsin. The first part of the assembly met in Buffalo on Thursday and Friday of last week and the second part met in New York City on Saturday of last week.

Dr. W. F. Whitaker, president of the University of Wisconsin, announced that the assembly was an annual event of the University and that it would continue in the years to come.

The assembly is attended by students from all parts of the United States and Canada, and is sponsored by the National Student Association.

VACANCIES IN FACULTY POSITIONS REQUIRE FOURTEEN REPLACEMENTS.

Fourteen members of the present faculty at State College will be appointed to fill vacancies in various departments of the college. The vacancies include: assistant professor in the English department; assistant professor in the History department; assistant professor in the Political Science department; and assistant professor in the Economics department.

The vacancies require replacements in the following departments: English, History, Political Science, Economics, and Philosophy.

The college administration has announced that the replacements will be appointed for the next academic year.
Lounge Is Open

For Student Use

The Lounge of Richardson Hall, closed thus far this year except for special events, is again available for general student use, according to Mary Lam, '36, chairman of the Lounge committee.

The following rules, drawn up by the committee in conjunction with Miss Helen H. Morello, dean of women, and approved by Dr. A. H. Brubacher, president, will govern the use of the Lounge for the remainder of the year:

1. No smoking, dancing or eating.
2. Use, but do not abuse, the furniture. Maintain a sitting position; tables are not available as desks; waste paper belongs in waste paper baskets.

Reporter Tells Story of Unfinished Library Mural

The college "students" who invade the library are asking, "What is the white painted panel in the center of the north wall? Is it another part of the mural?"

After due investigation by the inquiring reporter, it seems that the door, which always provided an observatory location for talkative students, has been removed. The white scar is the only remaining vestige of its former existence.

But—and this is important—starting June first, the mural will be continued, not only on that wall, but on the other walls of the library.

Someone says that these will create an atmosphere more conducive to study...
