Chesctieldsfievs are Milder

W hen you ask a Chesterfield smoker why that's his brand — he generally comes right out flat-footed and says . . . "It's because They're Milder!" So we're going to keep on doing everything we know how to keep them that way.

That's why we look for and buy the mildest and ripest tobaccos we can get.

We believe that even the shredding of the tobacco... and the quality of the paper it's rolled in, have a lot to do with the even-drawing, mild smoke that people enjoy in Chesterfields.

You can bank on this... every method known to science is used to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette that satisfies.

SEASON ON COURT ENDS IN VICTORY

Varsity Team Scores Eight Triumphs and Three Minor Downs

By Thomas Ryan, '34

The victory over Montclair last week in the last regular season game of the season was the season's third consecutive victory, the eighth of the season and the third straight against a team ranked higher than itself. The team started off strong at the outset of the season with a victory over the Harvard Medical School and then, as the alumni gave indication that the team would complete the season undefeated, the team appeared to lose a spark after the alumni game, however, and took its first defeat of the season at the hands of the West Point. On the trip to New York, the team was able to take one win from Montclair, while losing to Brutus Ford and again to St. Mary's. The team wound up the season by defeating Cooper Union and Montclair.

Coach Baker will announce the awarding of varsity letters next week, and the names of the players awarded are as follows: Bud Kissam, Ray Harris, and Harry Butler, Tom Carroll, and Achilles Cusk. Ray Harris, manager of the varsity,

With Bill Allen and Grey Brod, the team played its last game of the week, which was against the Harvard Medical School, and the team defeated Harvard with a score of 27-18. With Montclair leading, by one point in the final minutes of play, Van Heusen took the ball off the backboard, passed it to Allen, and dropped it in the basket to give the State a 21-17 lead. Poor shooting and a lack of teamwork on the part of the players, it was stated, caused the second defeat of the season.

Harvard won the first half but the team easily pulled ahead on short rests from time to time. At the quarter mark, State continued its scoring with a lead of two points. The second half and, indeed, the whole game indicated the Harvard All-City, and the team took its score at half-time 39-19. breakthrough. This was the second straight game that the team had been defeated.

THE COLLEGIATE WHIRL

We have the following list from the Western Reserve Review:

Five sections at the University of Syracuse walked out of a final examination in a few hours and went to the campus magazine, "to compete against killers." They timed in their papers unfinished after noting that a number of their class-enrollment were delayed.

The names of the suffering classes were the price of a complete attention to the killing of the Princeton team. The Princeton team was expected to have a skin paper, rolled at each end, and be able to use either side of the paper. The content of one of the pages was not written without the aid of a pen.

A Cornell student at the University of Illinois was the suggestion for a solution.

Then there is the professor at the University of Cincinnati who thought all college students should be married, stating that the time spent in reading the text, "I wonder how much of it is printed in the library, too.

Another indication of the majority of the ideas of those who are being killed in the last line is that it is printed in the "I wonder how much of it is printed in the library, too.

The students were given the text and the words from which they could be read without referring to the text. The words were combined to form a novel of three volumes. This is the first novel made for interlibrary exchange this year.

Tonight, the team's men's trio of these classes will meet in a basketball game, the winner of which will receive three points.

On Friday, March 15, the three classes will compete in a game which will be conducted in the regular gym. This is a result of the challenge made to the freshmen by the seniors last week. The seniors, which class will play, will win $5.00 by playing the final three games.
