WILL THE COOKE THAT LAYS ITS EGG

It is time to stop quibbling over minor differences, and take a broad view of a matter of vital importance to every student in this college, the value and worth of the student organization.

The student association, and student budget are, in many cases, a substitute for the taffy and toffee which is the student body. Their real function is to act as a rubber band for the institution and to prevent all phases of the college from being stretched out of shape. Student budget is not for State college but for other colleges. Without the student budget, state colleges would have no organized clubs organizes, which is the backbone of the college. State college would have pot bellies and pot bellies for the student body would be in a state of aching.

The delineation of a fraternity is the one step necessary to secure to State college the full benefits of those from its intercollegiate activities. Both men and women of the college should become the members of the student association. They would be the best supporters of so desiring an organization.

BOOKS: MRS. HARRING FULFILL

The Stronger Death at President Harding's funeral is a true story of how the Harding administration was carried on. It shows how the White House was managed and how the President's life was saved. It is a revealing account of the events of the Harding administration.

The book contains some very interesting facts about the Harding administration, which, in many ways, are not commonly known. It is a valuable book for anyone who is interested in the history of the United States and the Harding administration.

The book is well written and easy to read. It is a must for anyone who is interested in the history of the United States.

Definite Plans Formed

For Scholastic Society

The committee working on arrangements for the scholastic society met with President E. J. Wight to discuss the scholastic society. It was decided that definite plans should be made for the society. The committee is to report on the plans to the president at the next meeting.

The committee consists of: 1. Howard Green, chairman; 2. Donald C. Langendorf, secretary; and 3. A. H. Young, treasurer. The committee is to meet regularly and report to the president at the next meeting.

The committee is to make plans for the society and report them to the president at the next meeting. The society is to be organized and the plans made for the society will be discussed at the next meeting.

SPORT SHORTS

The baseball team has moved to new quarters in the clubhouse at Ridgefield, and from the wired and wireless communications that filled the air after the first day's work-out, it is clear that the men are looking forward to the season with great enthusiasm. The team has plenty of ventilation, in fact, too much for some of the players.

It is too early to make judgments of the baseball material at this time, but it is clear that the team is well organized and ready for the season.

The team is working hard at work rooming and conditioning for the season and is already giving indications of State's reputation on the field.

French Utilizes Radio Programs In Teaching

Acting as director of public relations for the schools of Grand Prairie, Michigan, William M. French, 29, former editor in chief of the State College News, has utilized the radio programs of his school, besides teaching, to influence the students of the city such radio presentations as may be helpful to their work and school work.

He has compiled a tabulation in which the several radio programs are noted and assigned for the students according to its suitability to the grade in which he is enrolled. The most interesting and instructive parts of the nightly presentation are also listed for the students.

French also teaches journalism and history in the high school.
