Newman Alumni Bazaar

Extensive plans are under way for the Newman Alumni Bazaar which is to be held at Newman Hall, 741 Madison Avenue on November 29th, the ticket sales for which are to be held under the auspices of the Alumni association. Members of the student body will not only not be accepted but are earnestly solicited. Handkerchiefs, collars, aprons, coffee pots, and any other examples of good hand work are what the Alumni are hoping for. The proceeds of the Bazaar will be applied to the mission in China.

(Continued on page 4)

CALENDAR

Friday, November 10
Chemistry Club Meeting
Room B, 4:00 P. M.

Saturday, November 11
Eastern Branch Alumni Meeting
Cafeteria, 6:30 P. M.

Sunday, November 12
Y. W. Vesper Service
Auditorium, 4:00 P. M.

Monday, November 13
French Club Meeting
Room 100, 6:00 P. M.

Mathematics Club Meeting
Room 201, 4:15 P. M.

Tuesday, November 14
Y. W. C. A. Meeting
Room B, 3:00 P. M.
A QUESTION OF COMMON SENSE

During the past few years the question whether or not "Alma Mater," as we know it, has the characteristics of a real college anthem, has come up for discussion at various times. The contest has waged from one side to another, and the situation has remained unchanged. Nothing has been done.

Now the situation has come up again. A new song book is about to be published. Shall the Alma Mater be included as State's own college song? There are many reasons why it should not be.

In the first place the average person finds it hard to remember if he isn't a Guili-Carel, he can't get up to the top notes with a stopper. The almonds in it are rare, making it unpopular. And so it hasn't been very much used at student gatherings.

The tune is a borrowed one. It does not primarily belong to us. Therefore it does not stand as characteristic of State College. Any other college or group of the students anywhere has the same right to use it as we have.

At the present time "College of the Empire State" is usurping the honor as our college anthem. It is sung by every student of the Colleget who's got together. It is popular because it is something that a real college song should be. It has a majestic swing with its jerky rhythm cannot equal. It is expressive of the college spirit, the loyalty that traitifies State College. "College of the Empire State" has a tune of its own and is by an alumni group can use it. It is written so that all voices can reach the notes and harmonize well with mixed voices.

The question is coming up whether we should not lay aside all college spirit. A student who will not do for the good of his school should be forced to leave his school. I don't know this, but soon find out. The majority of the freshmen have discovered the fact already.

The Upper classmen, or so-called "Alma Mater" can do all in their power to kill the "Spirit" in the freshman.

It is their duty to foster the ideas of State and help him into the stages of the reality, instead of drowning him in an overflow of "regular" college student.

"Lack of School Spirit"

For a few moments, I am going to talk about the lack of school spirit. A student who will not do for the good of his school should be forced to leave his school. I am going to ask you to detach yourself from prejudice of all kind, to surrender your selfish ideas, and to accept the true status of the school. The best of facts, in a word, to solve this problem of causes of this lack of school spirit.

When a freshman enters State he brings with him the idea of the big things he is to do for his college. He comes with the fixed conviction of being a rock star. He comes to a school where the only thing that is lacking is the "College Spirit." Many students are anxious to do all they can.

The Upper classmen in this institution of learning do not believe that the freshman has a brain or an idea. At least that is what is shown by their attitude.

School spirit is buried in an overflow of so-called class rivalry. Class members compete with each other to kill the "Spirit" and not kill it. It is up to the Upper classmen and the Sophomore.

What are you going to do about it?

— J. J. L., '24

GUILD OF ORGANISTS HOLD MEETING AT COLLEGE

The guild of organists of which Dr. A. F. Thompson is the Dooc, met at college Wednesday evening, November 1. The members were guests of Dr. Thompson on that evening and enjoyed refreshments in the college cafeteria. Plans were made for a program for the work of the year. There is to be a recital some time in December. A definite date has not been set.

An investigation is being made of the church music department and choir work. The different churches of the capital city state history will be discussed, as well as those of the other churches. There will also be an investigation of the keyboard work which will be most interesting and which will instruct in the rise and development of church music.

HOME ECONOMICS NOTES

Mr. Douglas, a former member of the State College faculty, spoke October 31 to the Home Management Class on Child's restaurant system in the United States. Mr. Douglas is an inspector, whose duty it is to see that the restaurants are managed according to Mr. Child's original plan. Mr. Douglas pointed out some of the definite reasons which have helped to make the restaurants famous.

For example, he said that the waitresses were organized into a class in which they are carefully informed about the rules of waiting on table. Each waitress is an intelligent high type of girl to whom courtesy is not an unknown virtue. Mr. Douglas said that right here was one fine opportunity for a Home Economics girl to enter into the field of restaurant management. He spoke further of the extensive plans for operation, to change the color scheme gradually, and to introduce a color to a whole. More changes are now being made to educate the public as to the right kind of food to eat. Mr. Douglas took the last few minutes of his talk to answer any questions which came up.

Miss Gilbert, who in her series of talks has talked with us through the European home, continued her lecture, telling us of this week's meeting of German music. Miss Gilbert supplemented her talk with pictures and other illustrations.

STATE COLLEGE NEWS, NOVEMBER 9, 1922
'ROUND THE COLLEGE

Pai Gamma entertained her faculty members at bridge Saturday afternoon, November 4, at the home of Mrs. Robert B. Harris, '18. Miss Ruth Buxton, of Russell Sage, '25, and Miss Barbara Harris, '25, were among the guests.

Gamma Kappa Phi entertained her faculty members at dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cline, '12, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the college. Professor E. F. Reynolds, '21, and Miss Frances Lawrence, '20, were among the guests.

Delta Kappa Delta entertained her faculty members at dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cline, '12, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the college. Professor E. F. Reynolds, '21, and Miss Frances Lawrence, '20, were among the guests.

IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo’s time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipse dixit. No one checked Galileo’s conclusions. The groundwork of Renaissance science now? Galileo gave us science—but little real knowledge.

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo’s time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipse dixit. No one checked Galileo’s conclusions. The groundwork of Renaissance science now? Galileo gave us science—but little real knowledge.

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo’s time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipse dixit. No one checked Galileo’s conclusions. The groundwork of Renaissance science now? Galileo gave us science—but little real knowledge.

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo’s time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipse dixit. No one checked Galileo’s conclusions. The groundwork of Renaissance science now? Galileo gave us science—but little real knowledge.

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo’s time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Ipse dixit. No one checked Galileo’s conclusions. The groundwork of Renaissance science now? Galileo gave us science—but little real knowledge.
fearless enthusiasm. He came to a answered several questions which

Box Candy Hair Nets

one find the answer to all questions.

Twenty-one. In him can Twenty-fortune of hearing him again.

many of the students. His very

Personality seemed to inspire his

of negatives which he answered

Its problems with all the enthusiasm

by saying, "Thou shalt love God.

CD by saying, "Thou shalt love thy fellowmen." In world of negatives which he answered

Thou shalt love thy fellowmen." In if rightly presented, but the blindness regarded too piously, it can not understand and will not

Twenty-one can find in Christ

the only answer to its demand for fearless enthusiasm. He came to a world of negatives which he answered

"Thou shalt love God. Thou shalt love thy fellowman." In Christ there is unifying youth. He spoke youth's language and faced problems with all the enthusiasm of Twenty-one. In him can Twenty-

one find the answer to all questions.

He belongs to youth.

Dr. Clausen, after his talk,

answered several questions which cleared vague doubts in the minds of many of the students. His very

personality seemed to inspire his listeners who left the meeting, wishing that they might have the good fortune of hearing him again.

Milne High School Holds Dance

A reception and dance for the students of Milne High School was given under the direction of the Milne High School Students Council in the gymnasium Saturday evening, November 4. The music for dancing was furnished by Charles Reilly and his confederates. Miss Rice and Miss Cushing emceed.

The first business meeting of the class of '26 was held November sixteenth after History 2 lecture. President Collor presided and discussed the amount of dues, need for class song and cheer leaders and a banner. An appeal was made to the freshmen to support their class and, by a strong only further the best interests of State College. In loyalty to this ideal and to the class of '26, all freshmen must attend the meeting to be held November thirteenth, after History lecture, as the election of class song and cheer leaders will take place, and there is important business to be transacted. The nominations for song leader are Helen Becker, Peg Flannigan and Thalia Vervir; for cheer leaders, Helen Rising and Vivian Crissey. Class picture will be taken Friday evening after chapel.

Department of Music Presents Program in Assembly.

(Continued from 1)

Winter Song," and Kipling's poem,
"The Gypsy Trail." Edward Vines sang the solo parts of the second number. The musical program closed with the chorus' singing of "Sleep, Sleep, Beauty Bright," a setting composed by Mr. Caudly of the faculty for William Blake's well-known poem.

STAHLER

Central Avenue's Leading Confectionery
and Ice Cream Parlor

A large line of fancy box chocolates, booklets, favors, etc.

Whipped Cream Served Here

Ice Cream, Sodas and Candy, Hot Chocolate, Hot Fudge

Try a "Teddy Bear" or "Eastern Sundae"

Box Candy

Peanut Butter Kisses

P. O. Station 25

Phone West 3959

Ketchums & Snyder

297 Central Avenue

Conserv your vision

Have your eyes examined

Francis E. Cox

The Uptown Optometrist

171 Central Avenue

Phone West 3756-J

Eyeglasses Spectacles