The Senate approved the appropriation bill for Urban Development Corp. (UDC), the new agency that will replace the controversial Stewart Airport near New York City. The Senate vote came after a heated debate that lasted more than two hours, during which 11 senators spoke on the floor. The debate centered on the issue of whether the UDC should be allowed to use the airport as a site for the proposed airport.

The UDC has been facing increasing pressure from environmentalists, who have been demanding that the airport be dismantled and the land used for other purposes. The Senate, however, has given the UDC the go-ahead to continue its plans.

The UDC has been struggling to find a new location for the airport, and the Senate vote is a major victory for the agency. The UDC has been facing criticism for its handling of the airport, and the Senate vote is a sign that they are willing to support the agency.

The UDC has been favored by the Senate, and the vote is likely to be a major blow to environmentalists, who have been pushing for the airport to be dismantled. WSUA FM?

Though there has been an increase in the number of on-campus radio stations, WMass, the most recent addition to this list, has experienced an increase in listenership and activity. The station's programming is more diverse and thoughtful, and the quality of the music is generally higher. The station's staff is dedicated and hardworking, and they have been successful in attracting a large number of listeners.

In contrast, the student-funded on-campus radio station, WSUA, has seen a decrease in listenership and activity. The station's programming is less diverse and less thoughtful, and the quality of the music is generally lower. The station's staff is not as dedicated and hardworking, and they have been unsuccessful in attracting a large number of listeners.

Thus, it is clear that there is a need for a new editorial/comment page that will focus on the activities of WSUA FM. This page will provide a platform for the station's staff to express their views and opinions on current events and issues, as well as to promote their programming and activities. It will also provide a forum for students to express their views and opinions on the activities of WSUA FM, as well as to promote their programming and activities.

There is nothing new about the complaints that have been made about WSUA FM. The station has been criticized for its programming and activities for many years. However, there is a need for a new editorial/comment page that will focus on the activities of WSUA FM. This page will provide a platform for the station's staff to express their views and opinions on current events and issues, as well as to promote their programming and activities. It will also provide a forum for students to express their views and opinions on the activities of WSUA FM, as well as to promote their programming and activities.

In conclusion, WSUA FM is a valuable resource for students, and there is a need for a new editorial/comment page that will focus on the activities of WSUA FM. This page will provide a platform for the station's staff to express their views and opinions on current events and issues, as well as to promote their programming and activities. It will also provide a forum for students to express their views and opinions on the activities of WSUA FM, as well as to promote their programming and activities.

WHERE ARE YOU, LONNY? WHAT YOU NEED YOU?

In Washington:

War on Crime Grind Down

By Ben Bradlee

Robert M. Sargent's War on Crime, much like his predecessor's War on Poverty, has failed to stand the test of time.

Both war has featured social dramas to a degree that is rarely seen in the U.S. largely because the war on poverty was so much less popular. And both war have been characterized by a lack of unified strategy and a willingness to compromise.

The Nixon domestic anti-crime program was as much a part of the 1970s as was the Great Society. And both war have had a similar impact on the economy, resulting in a decline in productivity and a rise in unemployment.

Perhaps we are being too optimistic, but we believe that there is still hope for a better tomorrow. We believe that the Nixon anti-crime program was a success and that it deserves to be preserved.

West wins this King of Hearts, and after the declarer won, East played to the partner's spade suit and subsequentially made a bidding of hearts headed by the missing honors. East South has 15,000 points, most of them in spades and clubs, which would be the same value for the contract. South has no spades but he has a very strong hand and South would attack the trick. If East declarer now on to 13, declarer would be able to get the trick. If East attacks the King of Hearts, and makes the contract, and the dummy goes down, East North would have two tricks, which would give a very strong hand.

Go Greek Style at Mykonos

by Melissa Crow and Sandy Islamoglu

Mykonos, located across from Uptown and Western Blvd. is one of the first Greek restaurants to open on the South end of town. The restaurant serves a variety of souvlaki, gyros, and many other traditional Greek dishes.

At Mykonos, there is a choice of appetizers such as the spanakopita, a spinach and feta pie, and the greek style. Galaktoboreko combines lemon custard with filo dough and is the tasty dish.

Other items on the menu include shish kebab ($5.50); kefte kebab, which is similar to the American meatball; the Greek style shrimp and vegetable kabob, baked in a lemon dressing, which is similar to an Italian salad.

The lemon flavor was somewhat overwhelming and the proximity to the bui line, a pleasant atmosphere, and tasty food at a reasonable price made us wish we knew of a Greek restaurant that we know of in the Albany area. It features Northern Blvd.

On Friday and Saturday nights Mykonos offers live Greek music, and other items on the menu include shish kebab ($5.50); kefte kebab, which is similar to the American meatball; the Greek style shrimp and vegetable kabob, baked in a lemon dressing, which is similar to an Italian salad.

"Chicken"? That's a pecking and sitting habit to stop on any. It means more. We must not be afraid to ask questions. The plan was the American SST, that the exhaust from the plane engines would in time develop a harmful radiation. The Superplane would be long before they may be a fixture of life in this nation. Pan American Airways has a few American SST's by American-based airlines so it will not be long before they are flying in the skies. The admission this week from the Civil Aviation Board (CAB) that it is responsible for in the safety of human transportation, for its part, is an important step in the development of the SST.
