Odorizzi And Smith Co-Captains
Spring Baseball Practice Begins

by Howard Lowry

"Spring is in the air and we're ready for another year of baseball. Our team is looking forward to a successful season." said Coach John Barthelmes. The coach was full of enthusiasm as he led the team through their first practice of the season. "We have a strong group of returning players and some exciting new faces," said Coach Smith. "I'm confident that we have what it takes to have another winning season."

Tennis Team Improved;
Number One Player Back

by Jim Muncy

On Saturday, April 10, the Albany State tennis team played a home match against the State University of New York at Oneonta. The team won 8-2, with a strong performance from the number one player, Stan Rosen. "Stan is back and better than ever," said Coach John Slocum. "I'm excited to see him lead the team this season."

Golf

"Golf is one of my favorite sports," said Coach Julian Dumont. "I'm excited to see the team improve this year." The team played their first home match against the State University of New York at New Paltz this weekend. "We need to focus on our technique and strategy," said Coach Dumont. "I think we have the potential to do well this season."

Sabreman Defeat North Adams

by Richard Wilcox

North Adams was defeated by the Sabreman, 10-2, in their home match on Saturday, April 10. "Our team is ready to take on any challenge," said Coach John Slocum. "We're excited to see what we can do this season." The Sabreman went on to win their next match against the State University of New York at New Paltz, 10-2.

Housing Assignment Program Begins

by Patricia Fasano '65

The Housing Assignment Program for the upcoming academic year began with the drawing of room selection numbers. Students were able to choose their preferred roommates and determine their room number. "I'm excited to see how the program will work," said Senator William Sinnott. "It's important to give students a say in their living situation."
NYU's Dr. John Fogg Keynotes Observance of Pan-American Week

In connection with Forum of Pulitzer observance of Pan-American Week, Pro­fessor of Political Science Dr. John Fogg spoke on "The Cuban Crisis: On Our Plate or Torn to Shreds." In 1894, there was a secret meeting at Draper 349, in which a group of students began organizing a program for raising funds for the Cuban cause. The purpose of this meeting was to provide financial support to the Cuban rebels who were fighting for independence from Spain. The group decided to hold a fund-raising event, which was tentatively scheduled for April 17, 1894. The event was expected to raise $1,000 for the Cuban cause.

Dr. Fogg noted that the Cuban cause was crucial at that time because the United States was considering annexing Cuba. However, the United States did not annex Cuba, and the cause was eventually resolved through diplomacy and the Treaty of Paris.

The event took place on April 17, 1894, and it was successful in raising funds for the Cuban cause. In total, $1,000 was raised, which was a significant amount at the time. The funds were used to support the Cuban rebels and to further the cause of Cuban independence.

In conclusion, the Cuban Crisis of 1894 was a pivotal moment in American history, and it is important to remember the sacrifices made by the Cuban people and the efforts made by the United States to support the Cuban cause. The event held on April 17, 1894, was a significant step in the process of supporting the Cuban rebels and in the eventual resolution of the Cuban Crisis.
CORE Stall-Unwarranted

The Brooklyn chapter of CORE has announced plans for a "sell-in" for freedom on the opening day of the World Fair. Their proposal is to block the main entrance to the Fair with stalled trains to dramatize the goal of non-violent action.

We realize that Negroes have waited too long for legal rights and opportunity and there will have to be a push towards continual education to push for anything anymore. We consider this an irresponsibility on the part of a group which ignores the rights of others in a determination for self.

Earlier Dean's List

Dean's List finally made the long-overdue appearance last week.

Dean's List is in other universities an uncommon occurrence of a few weeks of the end of the semester. This presents quick challenges for students without a strong drive to succeed.

One can see no reason not to do just as quickly as possible.

A special area of strong support for Wallace was in the New York City area. An even better example is the University of California in Berkeley, where the students were voting enough money to buy the Negro cause.

The campaign for Wallace was conducted with a national exposure of the same kind that has been used for the past few years.

This completely uncirculated clock system has been successfully operated in some areas of the country causing inconvenience to faculty and students alike.

But we feel that these inconveniences are more offset by the unsettling influence that the clock system has had on the University in general.

When we say unsettling, we mean it in the sense that the clock system is unsettling to any of the University's student body that has yet to succumb to the ravages of complacency, evaluation, re-evaluation, and centralization in general.

The clock system is essentially a throw-back to the good old simple, uncomplicated days of Albany State College for Teachers. It is a pleasant reminder of a time when this institution was not subjecting itself to intense doubts about its present, and especially its future.

We support the University on its policy of keeping the clocks in the various dormitories and academic buildings as unaccounted for, inaccurate, and confounded. It is at least a start to keep the campus from being too organized.

We consider this an irresponsibility on the part of a group which ignores the rights of others in a determination for self.
Music, Drama : Student Initiative Prompts Developments
Futterer Organizes D.&A. in 1919
English I Class Begins Orchestra

by Daddy Futterer

Though occasional plays, choral concerts, and musical assemblies were presented since 1890 at Stale, the first drama and music programs did not flourish as a regular activity until 1919 when Miss Agnes E. Futterer became a faculty member and 1920 when Dr. Harold Thompson and Professor T. P. Candlyn organized the music class.

Before major music and drama groups were organized, presentations were limited to the Shakespearean plays produced by Adelene Klein-Cairns. During German Club plays, sorority playlets and musicals, a chorus singing class, and a small orchestra. A dramatics club was organized in 1919 to fill a "long felt need" for some organized effort to discover and help any artistic talents students possessed. The members studied early plays, the writings of Longfellow, and the play, "Pandora." The group presented small plays almost every year.

However, meetings were not well attended and the group did not receive much support from the administration. The newly organized music program was supported by the administration and students. The dramatics club was not only supported by students and administration, but also by community members.

The first organized musical group at Stale was formed in 1923 when a group of interested students formed a group and decided to name it the Shakespearean Players of Stale. The group met weekly, the first Friday of every month, in the new campus.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community.

Under the auspices of the Council of Dramatics and Arts (now known as the Dramatics and Arts Council), the group continued to meet. The group was essentially a club where all the members were involved in the production of plays. The group's name was changed to the Stale Dramatics Club in 1929.

In 1925, Miss Futterer left Stale and was succeeded by Dr. Conner. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.

The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months. Miss Futterer's plans called for the group to meet once a week and participate in the production of plays for the community. The group continued to meet throughout the year, with the exception of the summer months.
Baseball Season Opens Today; Weeks Slated to Pitch at Siena

Friday afternoon at three o'clock, State opens its 1964 baseball season with an away game against the Siena Indians. Despite reports to the contrary, the Loudonville Club field will be ready for the game, weather permitting. To take care of the round tables in this informal season, Coach Harding has chosen a new pitcher in Ray Weeks. Ray’s three victories last year as half for the Pod and he is counted on for an even better performance this year.

The starting infield includes co-captain Dick Odenzi, the plate and third at first base. Rounding out the diamond will be Mike PIZZULLO and Joe Mazza Aaron Miller and Doug Morgan will make up the outfield and second base.

Field baseball players lay down a bat in a practice session; as catcher Don MASON starts for the ball.

Meanwhile, Coach Harding is busy planning for today’s opener. Bugle call will be followed by the singing of the National Hymn. The program will be:

- Opening comments by the coach
- National Hymn
- Fielding line-ups
- Code of sportsmanship
- Announcements
- National moment of silence
- National anthem
- Announcements
- Base running
- Batting
- Base fielding
- Pitching

The baseball team has been working hard this winter and Coach Harding expects a good game in their first contest of the year.

New Program Awaits Class of 1968 Orientation Committee Ends Rivalry

A completely new orientation program will await the members of the Class of 1968 when they arrive in September. Mr. Neil C. Brown, the Student Personnel office and the Freshman Orientation Committee have revised the Freshman Orientation Program.

Preliminary orientation week will be followed by a series of three-day periods during the summer. During these three-day periods, groups of incoming freshmen will be advised by counselors hired by the University. The Freshman Orientation Committee will also advise the new students on financial aids available to them.

Orientation Objectives

The objectives of the summer orientation program, as set forth in the Freshman Orientation Committee's report, are:

1. To familiarize the student with the University's facilities and services.
2. To provide an opportunity for the student to meet other members of the Class of 1968.
3. To introduce the student to the academic environment of the University.
4. To assist the student in adjusting to the University environment.

Orientation Schedule

The orientation schedule will consist of three one-week sessions during the summer. Each session will include:

- Orientation sessions
- Field trips
- Social events
- Academic advising

The orientation sessions will take place in the morning, and the field trips and social events will take place in the afternoon.

Excerpts From Governor's Message

Excerpts From Governor's Message:

"The University has reached another milestone in its history, and we are pleased to announce that the University has hired a new president. The new president will be a young man with many years of experience in higher education. He will take office on July 1, 1964.

The new president's background includes extensive experience in the field of higher education, with particular emphasis on the role of the university in society. He has a strong commitment to the principles of academic freedom and the importance of research.

Excerpts From Governor's Message:

"The University has hired a new president..."