IT'S UP TO US NOW

Now that State college has at last a chance to attack the final obstacle in the way of joining the American Association of Universities, it must be recognized that whether this obstacle is to be overcome depends on the students. Just as the cooperation of the faculty has been essential and is being pushed, but for a long time has been an opportunity for the social life of the College to be held. At last it is coming.

Membership in the American Association of University Women is one of the most coveted privileges in college life. If State college is permitted to join it will not only represent the teachers' college in general but also the students themselves. It is hoped that the students will appreciate in this association.

Social life for educated women in many cities is one leading intellectual and cultural activities. In the absence of State college have formerly been excluded women have an opportunity of taking part in the literary and cultural opportunities of the association would be open to our graduates not only in the United States, but also in London and Paris.

State college has long been recognized by the American Association of University Women. Recognition by this association is one of the prerequisites for admission to the A.A.U.W. This recognition is an honor in itself that State college is the only teachers' college recognizing curriculum and faculty have enabled to pass the first milestone of scholarship. Admission at the present time is by the general faculty of the group classes. Such assistance as the faculty can give any group of students the Advisory Committee at work on the problem.

MEET THE FACULTY

A long felt need for a meeting of the students between the faculty and the students will at last be met here at State College on the occasion of the Richardson ball. The Richardson ball has been a definite obligation that the students could not be held at a more opportune time.

Since the committee in charge of the luncheon has presented the list of the names of the faculty and students, the committee in charge of the program will be able to contact each Wednesday afternoon at 5:30, and it is hoped that the students will attend. The program for the slates and the plans for the other events will be announced in the State College News.

Those fortunate students who have had the opportunity of meeting some of the men of the faculty have found that the faculty is not made up of cold and rigid professors but real human beings who are interested in the students and who are interested in the work of the faculty. These students have never been fortunate to have a chance to get to know the faculty but they are still more fortunate to have the opportunity to get to know them.

THEY MIGHT BE SEATED

Deliberate reluctance to a speaker in a somebody to the faculty in a somebody to the students, and State college is no exception. How many of the students are unnecessarily snobbish when they hear the name of a member of the faculty. This snobbishness is not the result of ignorance of the students, but of the fact that the faculty is not expected to be friendly to the students. This snobbishness of the students is not the result of ignorance, but of the fact that the faculty is not expected to be friendly to the students. Thirty-eight caps and toques were distributed to the freshmen class at the Freshman Welcome in the auditorium and gymnasium at Page hall, last Friday night. The freshmen women also received their buttons.

The freshmen men are wearing the regulation cap and cap badges until the first snowfall, according to college tradition. From that time until May, they may wear purple caps. This year the caps are made of felt instead of wool, as those of the preceding year were made of felt material.

The women are required to wear their buttons on the left breast, while the men are required to have them on the right until Morning Up in May.
