State Rumps Over Siena 75-49, Tight Defense Overwhelms Indians
by Mike Gillman
State's Peds thoroughly trounced Siena's Indians before a packed crowd at the Washington Avenue Armory Saturday night. Playing an excellent defensive game, State ran away with the contest from the start. Coach DiGiorgio's team played tough ball and was determined to avenge last year's 36-32 upset by the Indians. Albany started an all-senior team with Crosscut and Jan Zeh as the seniors. Tom O'Donnell in the pivot and Ray Weeks and Bob Zeh as the guards.

The Peds were on fire from the opening tip and State went into an unexpected 2-1 lead. Bob Mihlert hit on a free throw for Siena. Bob Zeh connected with a basket and State was ahead 4-1. One of the Indians immediately with 13 seconds. This made State 7-1 and Dick O'Donnell hit a free throw. On the other end of the court, Dick O'Donnell hit a three-pointer and the Peds were ahead 10-3. More than two minutes later, when Tim Sternberg hit a three-point shot, the Peds were ahead 15-3 and never looked back.

The defense was the key to this game. The Peds held Siena to a season-low 49 points and limited Siena to a season-low 28 percent shooting from the field. State's defense was so effective that Siena was forced to take shots from the three-point line.

I; These projects total a cost of $47.9 million. The funds are intended to implement library holdings until 1970. The Master Plan will specify the construction of nine new academic buildings which will complete the construction of eight more academic buildings. The ten State University Colleges are receiving $55 million. Another $30 million is available to current and prospective students at Cornell and Alfred Universities for the acquisition of equipment and materials.

The University operating budget for the current fiscal year will be approximately $30,000,000. The budget will be increased by approximately $20,000,000 in the fiscal year 1966-67. The increased budget is expected to result in an average of $39,000,000 for the next fiscal year.

Several new positions have been added to the faculty. Prof. Dr. O. J. F. Draper, who is a member of the Department of History, will be the new chair of the History Department. Prof. Dr. J. E. F. Dunlop, who is a member of the Department of Economics, will be the new chair of the Economics Department. Prof. Dr. J. E. F. Dunlop, who is a member of the Department of Mathematics, will be the new chair of the Mathematics Department.

The Board of Trustees has approved the appointment of Prof. Dr. J. E. F. Dunlop as the new chair of the Department of Mathematics. Prof. Dr. J. E. F. Dunlop will also be the new chair of the Department of Economics.

Prints, Drawings, Collages, Photos; Revealing Diversity of Exhibitions

By Gilbert Williams

"Our response to the editors of the Albany Student Press in favor of prints, drawings, photographs, and collages is an extension of the ways in which we perceive the world around us. Our recent exhibition, "Prints, Drawings, Collages, Photos; Revealing Diversity of Exhibitions," was inspired by the desire to explore the potential of these mediums to convey ideas and emotions in a way that words alone cannot.

State Wins Close Game As Crossett Scores 27

Building up an 18-point lead early in the first half and playing like they couldn't do anything wrong, the Albany State basketball team hung on desperately in exchanging hands nine times before the Warriors could finally cling to the lead for the first time and was Hartwick's decision 85-81 score.

Dick Crossett got off to a fast start by scoring 13 points in the first 18 minutes, establishing himself among the all-time great players. In just two years at Albany, Dick has 179 points, and he's already earned the respect of his teammates.

As a sophomore, Dick went undefeated in his freshman year. His record for that year was 10-1, and he was 18-0 this year. Dick is off to a fast start this season, and he's on his way to becoming the record-holder for the most wins in a season.

The game was extremely close throughout, with both teams playing at a high level. At the end of the first half, Albany State led 42-41, and they managed to hold on to the lead despite a tough fightback by Hartwick.

In the second half, both teams continued to battle fiercely, but Albany State managed to hold on to the lead and win the game 85-81.

The day's "main event" turned into a rout early in the second half, and the score was 64-49 in favor of Albany State. This win was a big boost for the team and helped them prepare for their upcoming games.

The Trustees Extend Tenure For Mme. Wolkon's

Madame Catherine Wolkon's, Chairman of the Russian Language and Literature Department, was granted a special ten-year appointment by the Board of Trustees of the State University of New York at Albany. As a result of the extended appointment, Madame Wolkon's was able to retire at the end of the 1946-47 year, having reached the mandatory retirement age of 70.

The Trustees extended the request of President Fred C. Collins of SUNY. He submitted a letter to them on September 15, requesting the extension because of the continued service of unique problems faced by the Language Departments at this time.

Most recently he has been involved in an article on the rise in enrollment for publication. The article is scheduled to appear in the January issue of the Journal of Higher Education.

Frosh Wrestlers Face Tough Year

The Albany State frosh wrestling team scored two wins in their first two matches against the University of Vermont and the University of Connecticut. They have yet to face any strong opposition.

In the first match, the frosh wrestlers beat the Vermont team 27-23. The team started off strong with a 6-0 win against the Guilford team. In the second match, they won against the University of Connecticut 25-9.

The team will take on a tough schedule in the coming weeks, with matches against larger and more experienced teams. They will need to step up their game to keep pace with the competition.

The team's next match is scheduled for January 15 against the Harvard University. They will be looking to build on their early success and continue their winning streak.
