Hey Frosh, Soph...

Now is the time for all good Sophs and Froshs to come to the aid of their classes. Bidly is descending upon us once more. The little people beasts, sleuths (ignorant and otherwise), fuddy-dudies, banners, cheers and mores-areriath. "Nationally, rivalry is set up so that two teams in particular may get acquainted with each other as close-mates and colleagues. It seems to us that this idea is not one we will encounter at times during our life and that we should try and live up to.

This in translation means—go out and support rivalry. It is set up for which may vary at some point, especially when you sleep on Saturday morning, but it has to meet. You must seek out tradition when you are among similar institutions and abilities of your own. You're straining your number of friends. You're having fun. Finally, how else can you get a picture of the sunniest two hours.

SUNY & SUCEA

This fall we are made doubly aware that we're returning to a university rather than simply to a college, by the fact of a new name. The State University College of Education at Albany is still the same Albany State, but with a sunny new title.

The change in teachers' colleges' names is quite appropriately timed, since coincides with the announcement of the SUNY. Perhaps we are punning too much, but we feel there are reasons to be drawn from these reports.

First of all, the State University is asserting itself as a university. It should assume a prominence and be a more dominating figure among the colleges, rather than an afterthought. It might even catch the eye of the student answer, "Go to State U. at Albany!" not State College or Albany State.

The University is only eleven years old, and its establishment is a difficult process. You can't reach Harvard's status in a decade. An entire year without a president is an afterthought. It might even reach the stage where the university becomes an afterthought. It might even reach the stage where the university becomes a new name. The State University College of Education will be a new name. The State University College of Education at Albany.

A Little Consideration...

In the past we have kindly asked all organizations to have any new items turned in by Tuesday in order that we may get full information and make any changes necessary. This process has occasionally disregarded the result that the paper in the past has contained many stupid and unscheduled information.

In order to correct this situation this year, we will require that all news items be submitted Tuesday. Any items turned in late will not be printed until the following week, or, in some cases, will not be printed at all.

The Facade
By DAVE FELDMAN

Welcome, freshmen, like our predecessors in those who have come before us, you find yourselves amid the turmoil and portent of a new era. It is here at the Institute that you must begin your journey to future success. The path is riddled with obstacles and challenges, and only those with the tenacity to persevere can withstand the test of time.

Change that! I sent one, but oh, my admirers, and many well wishers. It is very unfortunate that we, conscious fools! Even ego-centricity is important to ILS since so few of us can read Russian. Which brings to mind the editors of the paper,

Quad Nears Completion
With Addition of Men's Hall

Another step toward the unification of the Institute was achieved with the building of the first of the new halls for the residence quadrangle area. The dormitories will be made for greater efficiency, and a new facility will be provided in the residence quadrangle area.

Nature of Awards
A competitive examination will be held to select the new dormitories. Retirees will have the opportunity to participate in a new dormitory design contest. The contest will be open to all current members and will be held on a rotating basis.

Proskin Runs Photo-Service

The Photography Department of the Institute will sponsor a photography contest in order to select the best photo service for the students. The contest will be open to all students, and the winner will be chosen based on the quality of their work.

News Board Elects Staff

The News Board held its annual election, and the new staff will be announced at the beginning of the year. The staff will consist of students who have demonstrated their ability to write and edit.

Positions

The News Board will be accepting applications for various positions, including editor, staff writer, and photographer. The applications will be due by the end of the month.

Future Additions

The new facility has space for 200 men. This has necessitated the temporary accommodation of some of the rooms. We will be steam heated by pipes to the residence quadrangle area.

Graduate Study

Awards will be made for students who have completed their studies. These awards will be based on their academic achievements.

Regents Grants

The Regents Grants will be available for students who have completed their studies. These awards will be based on the student's academic achievements.

Future Additions

An inclined driveway, from West Main Street, will be open to cars. The driveway will be steam heated by pipes to the residence quadrangle area.

Film Showings

IFG Schedules For Semester

The activities of tomorrow's Young Feminists (IFG) will include a film showing of a British war film. Guests are expected to attend the meeting, which will be held in the S. Y. C., with doors open at 7:30 p.m. The movie will be shown in the School of Education and Administration at 8 p.m. The film will be preceded by the presentation of the IFG's Student of the Year Award, which will be presented to a member of the IFG who has shown exceptional dedication to the group and its activities. The film will be followed by a question and answer period, during which guests will have the opportunity to discuss the film and its implications for the future of the IFG. The meeting will conclude with a brief discussion of upcoming events and activities, as well as a brief Q&A session.
