Commando Training Planned For State Men In Short Time

Coach Huthkett Plans Difficult Obstacles To Defy State Men

The most extensive physical training to be offered at State since the days of the First World War will be given this year to members of the Commando training group. Coach Huthkett, who will have the training under his direction, has selected a course of cut-throat training.' This is in marked contrast to the usual limited physical activities conducted in the past.

Coach Huthkett, who will have charge of the activities, will select the group which will be given the training. He gave a clue to the type of training by stating that he would not disclose the names of the members of the group until they are selected. It was revealed that he expects the number of men to be from 20 to 30.

In the past, similar activities have been given under the direction of Capt. H. H. Burrows, now in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He will have charge of the group.

There's enough broken glass around to make a man think he's not being safe for the trip to the polls. But don't be foolish. You can still do your civic duty, and be safe, too. Get your tax ticket, get your voting place and be back in safety before the election is over. And don't forget to vote on your ballot. There are many other important issues at stake.

The West College News hardly endures Einstein's Baud, dueling concerning the subtle tax reforms. Last week the News outlined proposals to be presented to Congress today. Though these proposals would not have altered Einstein's Baud, dueling, there was concern among the college students that the proposals were contradictory to the principles of the tax system. It was feared that if such reforms were passed, the college would not have been able to function properly. In the end, the proposals were passed, and the college was able to continue functioning.

The Weekly Bulletin

To the Editor:

I would like to express my concerns regarding the current state of affairs. The recent increase in tuition fees has created a financial burden for many students. As a result, I believe it is imperative that alternative funding mechanisms be explored.

Yours sincerely,

The Rockwell Kent article discusses the modern world's attitude towards war. Kent's perspective is that of an artist and intellectual, and he believes that war is a manifestation of the human condition. He argues that war is not a solution to the problems facing the world, and that it only serves to perpetuate the cycle of violence.

Rockwell Kent speaks on attitude toward war

Rockwell Kent, an artist and intellectual, speaks on the modern world's attitude toward war. He believes that war is a manifestation of the human condition and that it only serves to perpetuate the cycle of violence. Kent argues that art is a powerful tool for understanding the world and that it can help us to see beyond the surface of things. He calls for a more peaceful world, where art and education can flourish.
