Affairs Of State

By Frank Wesselmann

From the far north to the southern latitudes, the College News office is a bustling beehive of activity. As the season of elections approaches, the office is flooded with candidates vying for positions on the student council. The candidates must present their platforms and campaign vigorously to gain the support of the student body.

One of the most pressing issues facing the student council is the budget, which must be balanced to ensure the continued operation of the various student organizations. The council is responsible for allocating funds to the organizations and must carefully consider the needs of each group.

In addition to the budget, the student council is also responsible for overseeing the extracurricular activities offered by the college. These activities include sports teams, music groups, and clubs, and the council must ensure that they are held to the highest standards of excellence.

In conclusion, the student council plays a vital role in the college community, and its members must be dedicated and committed to making sure that the needs of the students are met. The council must be able to make difficult decisions and work together to achieve its goals.

State Initiates Phi Beta

Bertha Lewis, W. Min., Professor of English, has announced that the college will initiate a new chapter of the prestigious Phi Beta Kappa society. This chapter will be the first to be established at the college and will be open to upperclassmen who have demonstrated exceptional academic ability.

The purpose of this initiative is to recognize the outstanding achievements of students and to encourage them to continue their studies. The chapter will be administered by the college's Dean of Students and will be open to students who have completed at least 60 credits and have a minimum GPA of 3.5.

Bridge Life

By Ralph Meselemman

This is a bridge of vision. It is a bridge that connects the past with the future, the present with the past. It is a bridge that spans the chasm between the old and the new, the familiar and the unknown.

The bridge is made of stone, and its stones are the dreams of people. The bridge is made of wood, and its wood is the memories of life. The bridge is made of iron, and its iron is the strength of spirit.

The bridge is a symbol of the human condition. It is a symbol of the struggle for survival, the struggle for humanity. It is a symbol of the power of the human spirit, the power of the human mind.

The bridge is a symbol of the future. It is a symbol of the hope that tomorrow will be better than today, the hope that tomorrow will be brighter than today.

House Howls

By Howard M. Smith

This week, the college's House Howls will be held in the college's Main Auditorium. The Howls will feature performances by various student groups, including the college's a cappella group, the College Notes.

The Howls will also feature a dance, with music provided by the college's DJ team. The dance will be open to all students and will provide a chance to socialize and have fun.

The college's House Howls are an annual event, and they are always a great success. The college's students look forward to them every year, and they are always a great way to kick off the new year.

Drop Out or Fall Out?

This seems to be the question these days as students, faculty, and department chairs are finding themselves swamped with papers, mid-semester exams, and even some mid-term break. This year, the "drop out rate" seems to be headed for an all-time high.

It is our feeling that students are unable to operate under pressure and strain of 14 weeks of school without even a "rest period. We do feel that it is possible for a student to put forth their best efforts in beginning a new semester without any rest or relaxation between semesters.

Others are able to afford their students and faculty at least two or three days break between semester or an early Spring vacation. If they can do it why can't we? This year we shall have to say yes. They "get out later in the summer, so their other vacations are shorter. We do not think this is true.

Do we feel that getting out of a school one week early in the year is worth having to come from one semester to the next in the short space of one day and then continue for days straight with only home-work-filled weekends to rest and relax?

So what happens? We get an early Easter vacation, the week before Easter, and the day after it's back to school—now time. Yes, we are licker and we are sure some of you are too.

This is not merely a student grip, but mutual feelings of the faculty as well. Why then do the administrators persist in retaining the need for a mid-semester break?

New Label Needed

Soph Excells as Milne JV Coach

The Milne Junior Varsity basketball team recently completed its first year in quite a number of years. Their second place finishes in the Capital District League followed by the annual AAU tournament. This included a second meeting against the fiercely competitive Minneola High School and the annual AAU competition. The Milne team was more than satisfied with the achievements of the JV team, yet, the following season, they must raise the bar to new heights.

Senate OK's News Budget;
Rivalry Cost Questioned

The State College News will have a new budget for the 1960-61 school year. Senate approved the budget by a vote of 28 to 4. The budget is expected to cost $35,000. The Senate debated the budget for two days. Some senators questioned whether $35,000 is enough for a newspaper. Others thought the budget was reasonable. A motion to increase the budget was defeated by 7 votes.
