HOCKEY TEAM LOSES TO R. P. I. — SCORE 4:2

Saturday afternoon the R. P. I. hockey seven defeated the State College team by a score of 4:2 on the Western avenue rink. The game was hard fought all the way. But for the very poor condition of the ice the Purple and Gold seven would have made a much better showing. The R. P. I. men were by far the heavier crew and this came to them to good advantage. The State College men who had hoped to depend entirely on their speed to win, were showed up materially by the rough ice.

R. P. I. scored two goals in the first half while State College went scoreless. This was due mostly to the great work of Bowser, the Rensselaer goalie. The State College men came back strong in the second half and had the puck in their possession most of the time but again Bowser spoiled many a well aimed shot. Cassavant, who as usual started for State College was particularly good in the latter half of the game. The many bad spots in the ice hardly slowed him badly in his rushes. One gained the impression that the presence of Cassavant in the line-up during the second half would have won the game for State College.

GIRLS INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Frosh, 7 — Juniors, 26.
Frosh, 9 — Sophs, 2.

The Freshmen girls' basketball team, with Helen Nolan, captain, and Bethal Cunning­ham, manager, entered the interclass championship series last Thursday morning. The Freshmen girls worked hard and put up a plucky fight to win, but even then the game was far from being an easy victory for the Juniors, be­cause of their effective team work and Dorothy Austin's accurate shooting. In spite of such defeat the Freshmen showed off by their general play that they are made of good stuff and will prove it in the future. Miss Gray refereed the game.

In the line-up were:

Juniors: Austin — Cunningham, Centers
Shanks — Seddon — Manning Austin — Coleman, Guards
Keefe — Nolan, Rotations Kenny
First half — 2:57, Keefe for Shanks, Hill for Kenny.
Second half — 2:57, Kenny for Coleman.

Friday morning, however, the Frosh turned the tables, and in a fast, close game defeated the Sophs. At the end of the first quarter the Sophs were ahead 13 to 11.

PROFESSOR STINARD TO LECTURE FRIDAY

Topic is "Cuba," Lecture Will Be Illustrated.

Owing to conflicting dates the lecture which was to have been given by Professor Stinard Thursday has now been scheduled to take place Friday afternoon at 3:45 in the Audito­rium. This lecture is expected to do. Like Colgate, R. P. I. I. judged the team by past performances and did not allow for Coach Wachter's work.

Coach Wachter is receiving compliments from all sources upon the wonderful showing made by the team, especially against Colgate and R. P. I. He is achieving wonderful suc­cess with his Williams five above.

When the final whistle blew both virtually broke loose. Enthusiastic State College root­ers mobbed the victorious team and carried the players from the court on their shoulders.

Stanley Fitzgerald was the first to score, making a basket from the foul line. Woolsey made good on a try from the foul line a minute later. Both teams passed the ball well and several of the players missed attempts to score from the field. Woolsey scored from the foul line again and put Rensselaer in the lead. A dou­ble.

COLGATE SURPRISED AT STRENGTH OF S. C.

Maroon Held to 32:21 Score.

The Colgate team, which played here last Thursday evening, received the surprise of its life when the State College five not only refused to give them a little practice game, but even seriously threatened to defeat their strongest combination. Not until the last two minutes of the game did Colgate put away the victory. Up to that time the score stood only 24 to 21 in their favor, but in the last struggle superior weight and condition told the story. The first half ended with a score of 14:13, which is a most remark­able showing for the State College five, who at the consideration that Colgate is

ATTEND THE HOBART GAME.

While it is hardly believable, yet it is a fact, that many of the students have not attended a single basketball game this season.

And, verily, there are members of the faculty who have no better record. The basketball team is about to end a season which is the most remarkable any State College team has ever had.

Manager Pearsall scheduled only teams from the best colleges, and as a result State College has secured a good standing in the intercollegiate world. He and his assistants have worked hard for your interests. The men on the team have played the game in a manner that has brought honor to you and your College. Coach Wachter has given of his best to make the season a success. Do you appreciate what those men have done for you?

Yes. Then prove it by going to the game Saturday night. Let us get together and show that we, after all, are of the stuff college men and women are made of. Let the men sing. "Have you bought your ticket?" Let everyone of us work hard to make the last appearance of our team on the court this season an occasion long to be remembered. Let us endeavor to send Hobart home defeated, if possible, but, defeated or not, let us be sure to give them the unmistakable impression that they met a good team and a live college.

THE MEANING OF THE VICTORY.

Not one of us who witnessed the glorious victory of our basketball five over R. P. I. last Saturday evening but has acquired a deeper feeling of loyalty for our College and a better appreciation of what it all means. We have heard much about love of Alma Mater; volumes have been written; appeal upon appeal has gone forth to love the College and to be loyal. Yet all the oratory of a decade and all the efforts of a hundred writers never achieved that wonderful transformation in the student body which that single basketball game on last Saturday evening brought about. Twenty minutes of the hardest fighting a State College team has ever done brought, it is true, a victory over

R. P. I. to us, but beyond that, and of much greater significance, it brought with it the awakening of real spirit, real love of College, genuine loyalty to the Purple and Gold. No one can estimate how much that means. It certainly means that hereafter nothing will be impossible, that the students will gladly sacrifice their utmost for the good of State College.

Jones, Fitzgerald, Cunningham, McFarland. We have no hall of fame for them, but if a niche in our hearts is a good substitution for it, and in our memory they have been placed never to be forgotten. These men have come through a season of adversity, of heartache, of head ache, with a determination to make good and a stubbornness of purpose which are amazing. Every contest they entered, no matter what the strength and the reputation of the opponent, found them fighting to the limit. From week to week their game improved until in the end they achieved what to many had seemed the impossible, the defeat of the strongest

R. P. I. team that has played the game in years. It did one good for our old rivals go down to defeat before our men. It was-our answer to their and other colleges' apparent unwillingness to recognize us as one of their number. We have forced them to do so. They will realize now that the Normal School on the hill has grown into a college that must be reckoned with.

STUDENTS ARE READY FOR VOTE.

In class meetings held last Friday morning both the Junior and Sophomore classes voted in favor of a tax on the students to defray the expenses incurred by all student activities. The Sophomores in an open vote unanimously decided that a ten-dollar tax is the proper sum to assess. While this vote seems a fair representation of the sentiment of the studentbody in general, yet much more reliance can be placed on the result of a secret ballot taken among the Juniors. Each of the latter stated the amount he or she favored, and the result was that out of one hundred and thirteen Juniors twenty favored a tax of five dollars, fifteen one of seven or seven and a half and seventy-eight one of ten dollars. Since no tax will affect the present

Seniors next year they will undoubtedly be in favor of any reasonable amount decided upon. The Freshmen alone are still to be heard from. There is only a very slight possibility, if any, of the ability of the first year people to block the measure, should they desire to do so, and besides we believe that they, like the Underclassmen, favor the same.

The time is ripe for the measure to be introduced. All arguments pro and con have been heard; all minds are made up; there is no time like the present to take the vote.

DR. DRAPER GIVES LECTURE.

Dr. Edwin L. Draper re-presently spoke before the class in Chemistry Methods on

"First Aid." He said that one of the troubles that doctors run across was that a large number of people try to accomplish too much in the first aid treatment they administer, and that a great deal of damage is done. First aid work, except for minor cuts and burns, should be only of the kind that will be best until the doctor arrives, and he should be summoned at once if the injury is at all dangerous.

Carbolic acid should not be used as an antiseptic, as it not only is a deadly poison, but forms a coating on the surface of the wound which will not permit the passage of the acid to that part of the wound where the foreign material is congregated. Mercury bichloride is also dangerous because of its having" Miss Perine deliver air that it is a poison; at the same time, the wound is generally insufficiently washed to do any good. Hydrogen peroxide is a good, and may be used diluted with an equal volume of water.

The best treatment to give a wound is to wash it out with a good white soap and lots of warm water, and then bandage it, with a dressing of clean woven material. Dressings, such as carbolized vaseline, are generally worthless.

In speaking of burns, Dr.

Draper said that carron oil, made by mixing equal parts of linseed or olive oil and limewater, was a good thing to apply, although physicians now were letting the air get directly to the burn in many cases.

All through Dr. Draper's talk he advocated the policy of "let

The first basket of the quarter was scored by A. Nolan, who scored the first field basket of the half after about fifteen minutes of play, field baskets by Goegey and Miller giving the Albamans a good lead and when the whistle sounded the score stood 10 to 6 in favor of State College.

Rensselaer played a stronger game in the second half, and when the whistle sounded the score stood 16 to 10 in favor of State College.

The game ended with R. P. I. struggling hard to score from the foul line.

Woolsey, big Rensselaer pivot man, who is considered one of the best in the country, having four personal fouls in favor of State College. Here Jones, R. P. I., was banished from the game, but Woolsey and Fitzgerald scored. Fitzgerald and scored, tying the game, 22 to 22.

This basket put Rensselaer in the lead after about five minutes of play, field baskets by Goegey and Miller giving the Albamans a good lead and when the whistle sounded the score stood 10 to 6 in favor of State College.

Fitzgerald made the biggest of the twenty-one points scored by his team. He scored three baskets from the field and in addition shot fives in his usual excellent manner, making eleven out of thirteen shots count, a percentage of .846. The Slate College dances, directed by Miss Jack Wilbur and Edwin Johnston, will continue during the second half of the year every Friday at the usual time, 4:30 to 6:30.

These dances were very popular and started many people on the road to be good conservative dancers.

The College Orchestra will be used and every one is cordially invited.

NEWMAN CLUB NOMINATES CANDIDATES FOR OFFICERS.

The newly established Newman Club met last Friday afternoon for the purpose of further organization. Professor Louis B. Ward, State College '14, now a member of the Albany High School faculty, presided temporarily. Josephine Keating, '17, gave a report on the progress of the organization, whereupon candidates were nominated for the various executive offices.

A series of lectures and entertainments will be given in St. Patrick's Hall until the completion of the club rooms in the Vincentian Institute. Monday evening, March 5th, one of the beginning of the series. The tickets, which admit one to all the lectures, are free to all who will make good use of them. Application for the same should be made to Professor Louis Ward.

Y. W. C. A.

To-day at 4:40 Dr. Molden­hawer will give the second of his talks on the "Book of Revelations." Don't stay away because you didn't come last week; the first talk was introduc­tory. If you have any doubts as to the interest of these talks ask someone who was present last Wednesday, or, better still, come and see for yourself.

Five Mission Study groups are being formed. "Comrades in Service" is the subject for two of these groups, one led by Esther Aldrich on Tuesdays at nine-twenty, the other by Verna McCann on Thursday at one o'clock. A third group will study world missions and world peace on Thursdays at two-fifty with Marion Putnam. A challenge to service is the subject for a group to meet Mondays at two-fifty with Helen Pay. The fourth group, which is open to juniors and seniors only, will consider Mis­sions and Sociology on Thurs­days at two-fifty, with Myra DeMond. Can't you join one of these?

CHEMISTRY CLUB.

At a meeting of the Chemistry Club, held recently, John MacCracken gave a very interesting talk on "Industrial Alcohols." He mentioned briefly the various sources from which alcohols are obtained and told about some of their uses, such as solvents for different substances, their use in explosives, and particularly their use as a fuel in internal combustion engines. The difficulties of using it for this last mentioned purpose are: first, a source of obtaining the alcohol without using up any of the needed food-stuffs from which it may be manufactured; and second, a substance that will be entirely satisfactory as an agent for denaturation, there being large prizes offered for such a substance. Of course, a specially constructed engine must be used, as the ordinary gasoline engine will not work satisfactorily with alcohol.

Miss Verna McCann was ap­pointed as reporter for the Club and will assume the duties at once.

KAPPA NU.

We welcome to membership Kathryn Besley '18, Mildred O'Malley, Eileen Keele, Mac Cronin and Aileen Russell spent the week-end of February 10th at St. Stephen's College. Amanda Hall on Hudson.

A very enjoyable house dance was held at the Kappa Nu House Monday evening, February 19th.

COLLEGE LABORATORY OPENED.

Albany Medical Students Greatly Benefited by New Equipment.

A new physiological laboratory was recently installed in the Albany Medical College costing about $2,000. This addition, which does much to place the college on a level with the best in the country, was made chiefly through the efforts of Dean Thomas Ordway.

The latest equipment was obtained and about $1,000 more will be expended next year for further improvements. Because of the new labora­tory, several classes may be added to the college course. For the past few years students have been obliged to work in the Bender laboratory and much time was lost each day on the trip between the two places. Dean Ordway said, while it will still be impossible to do all the work in the college laboratory, however, very little will have to be done at the Bender laboratory in the future.

Another innovation at the college will be the installation of a smoking room which is nearing completion. Until last fall smoking was permitted in the halls between classes, and at Dean Ordway's request the students refrained from smoking in the building.
