PROMOTE 42 TO LARGEST NEWS STAFF ON RECORD

ST. LAWRENCE NINE PLAYS STATE TODAY

Varsity Wins From Jamaica Teachers by Score 9-1

Saturday

CARR AND GRAHAM HEROES

“We want everyone up at Ridgefield this afternoon, to support the Purple and Gold in its battle with the nine from St. Lawrence university,” said Charles Cole, manager of baseball, this morning. “We have a snappy team,” he continued, “and I feel that we can duplicate last Saturday’s victory with the proper support from the student body.”

Joseph Graham will be on the mound for State and he is said to be in perfect form. Last Saturday in the game with Jamaica he allowed only six scattered hits. The team gave him wonderful backing, Baker said.

LaVerne Carr, 29, was the big hero of the game with the Jamaicans last week which resulted in a 9 to 1 victory. He lifted the horsehldc far enough to entitle him to a non-stop trip around the bases. He came through again with a trip of two men on and scored both of them. Graham was also in form with the stick, getting three safeties out of four times up. One of his clouts took him to second base and brought in a run. He crossed the plate himself twice.

After the game, Coach Rutherford, 41, declared: “Graham and Carr have been the greatest talents we have seen this year,” he continued, “and I feel that if we can get another team to support the team with the proper enthusiasm we can get another victory.”

TO INSTALL OFFICERS IN CHAPEL JUNE 4

Installation of student body officers will take place Monday, June 4, in the chapel at 3:15 p.m. Installation of officers for the coming year will take place in the auditorium. A New York State College for Teachers Student Sullivan will give the address of installation.

Mr. Pim, the absent-minded old Englishman, impersonated by S. Miles Paul, will pass by tonight and tomorrow night in the auditorium of the Historical Society of New York. The performance of the play will be announced promptly at 8:15 Monday. Students may gain admission upon presentation of student tickets.

The play is the annual production of the advanced dramatics class, and is said to be the most finished production yet turned out by the class.

Newspaper Staff

Dr. Moldenhawer Ends
Y. W. Lecture Series

"Our Prayer" was the title of the last of a series of four lectures given by Dr. Moldenhawer of Westminster Presbyterian Church, at the meeting of Y. W., held at College Thursday. "Prayer is the purified expression of the soul," said Dr. Moldenhawer, urging the students to consider seriously that "more things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

At this meeting, the installation of the new cabinet took place.

Eitel Dubois, in a short impressive ceremony, formally became president.

The other members of Y. W. cabinet are as follows: vice-president, Hilda Sarr, '27; secretary, Margaret Patel, '27; treasurer, Mildred Landry, '26; undergraduate representative, Margaret Stotenbach, '26; chairman of meetings, Ruth Fiske, '27; minutes, Ruth Lane, '26; grading chair, Grace Anne Malt, '27; assistant editor, Katharine Blenis, '26; copy reader, Helen Watts, '27; assistant business manager, Margaret Benjamin, '26; advertising manager, Helen Gordon, '26; advertising editor, Anna Koff, '26.

The list of promotions was the longest in the News history. Promotions, the board announced, were as always, made on merit. Van Kleeck, the editor-in-chief, was first of the staff in amount of copy in the paper this year. In the tabulation made of the issues from September to the middle of April, he contributed 914 inches. Barkley, receiving managing editor-elect, was second with 514 inches, and Van Kleeck conducted one section of the news-writing class. Brezee, who was promoted from a reportership to be a senior associate editor, followed with 351 inches. Higgins, now managing editor, was fourth with 140 and also did a major part of the year's proof-reading. Barkley, Fay and Gunn, all promoted to be senior associate editors, were next in order.

Zimmerman, business manager-elect, led her department in amount of advertising sold. Similar standards were followed in the other promotions.

Several of the staff are also employed on other newspapers. Brezee is State College for Teachers reporter for the Albany Times Union and Van Kleeck occupies a similar position for the Albany Evening News and the Knickerbocker Press. Zajan corresponds for the Schenectady Gazette. Shillinglaw was employed by the Times Union.

Many of the staff are honors class high school students and pupils.

In the business department, Dorothy Hamilton, '27, Erwin Bink, '27, Katharine Saxton, '28, Francis F. Geffin, '28, Anne Holmes, '28, Thomas I. Fallon, '28, and Mildred Landry, '29, were promoted to be assistant business managers.

In the subscription, Ruth Kelley, '28, was made assistant subscription manager.

Anne Koff, '26, and Joyce Persons, '26, are retiring associate editors, Elnah Krieg, '26, retires as reporter.

SPANISH CARNIVAL

"Los Viajeros" and Nameless
Faculty stunt Feature

Spanish Carnival, the brilliant success of last Friday night, was attended by a record-breaking crowd. The audience, curiously awaiting the entrance of the queen, were finally rewarded when Catherine O'Leary, 26, appeared, attended by Evelyn Graves, 26, Anna Goymer, 27, Corinna Williams, 27, and Ruth Cox, 27, with Mary Margaret Silmas, and Mary Elizabeth York as pages.

The curtain opened upon the first of the two scenes of "Los Viajeros," a one-act play adapted from Booth Tarkington's "The Travelers," by department, Marcelle Street, Ruth Miss Alfred T. Hill of the Spanish department. Miss Margaret McKay and Alexander Cooper played the roles of the guest at the hostel, managed by a deaconess, Marcella Street, Robert Shillinglaw, Virginia Decker, and Ralph Stanley completed the cast.

The feature of the evening was the "nameless" faculty stunt, directed by Miss Mary Grinn, assisted by Don Quixote and his companion, Sancho Panza, were delightful impersonations by Miss Grinn and Miss Ethel L. Hueck. Miss Helen Oliff was the gallant father of Mathilda, Dr. Harry W. Hastings, who broke poor Don Quixote's heart when she lifted the mask that concealed her beauty. Dr. Caroline Crossdale, Miss Margaret Meyer, and Miss Anna Keim played as magnificent Spanish ladies. Dr. T. Frederick 11. Candlyn, the patient husband, his earnestness, saw through the masquerade.

A cabaret scene was the finale of the program. Alice Neuser, Charlotte Jones, Ruth C. Morey, and Grace Chippendale portrayed the Peruna and the Tritons, Margaret Kern, and Thelma Valente danced to the tunes Ruth McNutt gave a tambourine "Rumba."

MUSIC ASSOCIATION
SPRING CONCERT GIVEN;
CANDLYN IS DIRECTOR

The Music Association under direction of T. Frederick H. Candlyn presented its Spring Concert in the College auditorium, Saturday evening, May 15. The orchestra, the women's chorus and the mixed chorus each presented several groups of selections. The assisting artist for the evening, Erle Hummel, violinist, was accompanied by his brother, Stanley Hummel. Mr. Hummel is well-known to Albany audiences and was enthusiastically received by the entire audience, led by Professor Candlyn.

Accuracy, Initiative Keys to Journalistic Success,
Barkley Says, Sketching News’ History for “Cubs”

“Accuracy and initiative are the keys to success on the News staff,” Sarah Barkley, ’27, associate editor, declared at the meeting of the News’ newswriting class devoted to a discussion of the college newspaper. The News has gradually yet surely improved, Miss Barkley said. She compared the News as it was in 1917, when the first issue was published, with those succeeding years to the present time.

“October 4, 1927, will be the News’ tenth birthday,” Miss Barkley said. “The paper started as a project of the class of 1918, under the editorship of Alfred Dedricke. At first it was financed by subscriptions. Editorial and jokes were featured. In the spring of 1917, the News was taken over by the college and it has remained a college project since, supported by a part of the student budget.

President A. R. Brubacher has never ceased to encourage college students interested in this work,” Miss Barkley continued, “and its success is to a great extent due to this encouragement.” Dr. Harry W. Hastings, now chairman of the English department, organized a Press club also.

Miss Barkley said the number of candidates for positions on the News staff is rapidly increasing. This year there are about thirty cub reporters, more than ever before.

“Promotion of staff members only through merit is one of the News’ major rules and one of the main reasons why the News is becoming a bigger success each year,” she concluded.
