STATE COLLEGE IN THE WAR

Students, Faculty, Alumni and Organizations
Respond to Country's Call

The great war has already drawn heavily upon the resources, both material and human, of the colleges throughout the country. We have visibly at least, felt the strain more than many of our neighbors. The current of our college life has run so smoothly during this year our country has been at war that the casual observer would be inclined to say we have not been affected by it. An examination of the college catalogues will show, however, that our Freshman class numbered 366 in September, 1916, and 182 in September, 1917. This is the direct result of the war. Our attendance of upper class men has been remarkably good, and the Dean reports that with a very few exceptions, all of the three lower classes have registered for next year. Undoubtedly we shall experience a further drop in registration. The sum of our patriotic endeavors, of our willingness to sacrifice, of our determination to preserve the heritage of our fathers may be relatively small, but its weight will be found in the balance and on what we firmly believe to be the right side. Our way of life, our free institutions, the very foundations of our faith in Divine Providence are on trial. Here at State College we mean to do our part to serve the heritage of our country and to sustain the spirit of the war slogan, "to make the world a fit place for free men to live in must be carried through."

New York State College for Teachers intends to train 100 men for the national army. These men will be inducted into the service for this special training which will be given in the following subjects: Chemistry, two classes; two in Metals, two in Electric Work, two in Auto Mechanics, one in Machine Shop, and one in Plumbing. These classes will be trained in the shops of the college, the High School and in Students' garages on Central Avenue. Professor Douglas will be director of the entire work, and Mr. Burke, Mr. Alexander, Mr. Weaver and Mr. Van Deusen will assist in the training of these classes.

"DEMOCRACY" LECTURES

In order to foster the spirit of the war slogan, "to make the world safe for democracy," the faculty instituted during the winter a series of lectures upon the general subject of "Democracy," which did much to give our renewed conviction that this business of making the world a fit place for free men to live in must be carried through. The sum of our patriotic endeavors, of our willingness to sacrifice, of our determination to preserve the heritage of our fathers may be relatively small, but its weight will be found in the balance and on what we firmly believe to be the right side. Our way of life, our free institutions, the very foundations of our faith in Divine Providence are on trial. Here at State College we mean to do our part to serve the heritage of our country and to sustain the spirit of the war slogan, "to make the world a fit place for free men to live in must be carried through."

TO THE ALUMNI OF STATE COLLEGE

In the final and "big" issue of the State College News, there is proposed a splendid opportunity for present student body to address the student body, singly and collectively, of former years. If it is to be greatly regretted that the relationship between alumni and students is not stronger—and it is to be hoped that bonds of contact shall be strengthened and established in the coming years. In the publication and collections of this time the student body is making the first advances. Will the alumni (and alumnae), too, answer?

The primary purpose of the big issue is, as it has been stated before, to advertise the college and to interest prospective students in this fine college of the State. There is a second reason for the final publication. A copy of the big issue had been promised by each member of the Alumni Association who paid his dues, and it is necessary to have the student body represented by the student body, to keep this promise. Accordingly, the big issue was published and copies are to be sent to loyal students.

The question now is, will the alumni meet us half way? The News and Echo both have received but little alumni support in the past. The alumni mailing list of both is pitifully short. Only recent graduates, and for means of bringing each ex-student to the attention of each member of our college, a new and typical example of alumni support was called "Alumni and Faculty Roster." The faculty and alumni, whole heartedly and without exceptions, to appear for articles, but out of thirty-five personal letters of appeal to alumni, only three were even answered. Is this loyalty? The answer is obvious.

It is not necessary to illustrate further. It can be only evident that it is necessary for co-operation between alumni and student body. Will every member of the Alumni Association and members of the Student Tax, for their part, accept with regret by the Board of Editors, for the years 1917-18 and 1918-19, Invaluable assistance was rendered by Miss Doris Sveen '18, Secretary of the Press Club, College of the Arts and Sciences, and by Miss Christine C. Fowler, '18.

THE LITTLE RED CROSS IN THE WINDOW

This is not a war alone of the armed forces; it is not a war for men from 21 to 31 years old; it is not a war only for those who have the time and inclination to prosecute it. This is the war of every American to every American. Woman and child is this your war, if you are an American. Are you doing your duty? Are you going ahead as if anything was at stake? Will you have the time and inclination to prosecute it? This is the war of our country to every country.

The government has not asked us! The government has not asked us! But the little red cross in the window. It stands for something, and it means something. It is the symbol of our united service. It is the symbol of our united service. It is the symbol of our united service. It is the symbol of our united service. It is the symbol of our united service. It is the symbol of our united service. It is the symbol of our united service.

The little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part.

TO PROSPECTIVE FRESHMEN

Prospective freshman, this is your issue. The upper classes of your alma mater have tried to put forth their best efforts to tell you about the place to which you are coming. Read every item thoroughly, and you will find a hearty welcome coming. Read every item thoroughly, and you will find a hearty welcome coming. Read every item thoroughly, and you will find a hearty welcome coming. Read every item thoroughly, and you will find a hearty welcome coming.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING TO HELP WIN THE WAR?

Now, all are not gifted nor fitted to take up the work "Over There," but a little red cross in the window. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part. And the little red cross in the window shows that each one is doing his part.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

MYSKANIA

One of the most important steps in the development of student spirit and power was the organization, in March, 1917, of a Student Council. The purpose of the Council is to serve as a means of communication between the students and the faculty. It is an honorary body composed of not more than twelve nor less than ten Senior members who have won places of prominence in scholarship, athletics, or other college activities, and who have capacity for leadership. The members are elected as follows: The faculty appoints five members before the spring recess of each year; the outgoing Council adds five, six or seven to this number. The President of the Senior Class becomes a member ex-officio, if he is not one before election to the class presidency. The duties and privileges of the Student Council are: To have seats upon the platform at student assemblies; to conduct interclass contests, other than athletic; to administer the rules governing the various competitions for offices; to administer the college customs; to control fraternity and sorority practices; to call the Freshman Class meeting for electing officers; to govern all class elections; and to make recommendations to the student assembly. The 1918 members of this year's council are: Harriet Church, Agnes Dennin, Francie Fitzgerald, Caroline Lips, Dorothy Roberts, Gertrude Schermerhorn, Early Suthendorf, Donald Tower, Lyra Waterhouse, Winifred Wemple and Henry Wood.

Y.W.C.A.

The Young Women's Christian Association is one of the largest organizations in the State College—housing in college who is a member of an Evens. It is an active member of the Association. Any other may be an associate member. Its main objectives are to develop teachers, students, members of the faculty or prominent outside speakers.

The executive body consists of a cabinet of five officers and eight committee chairmen. The cabinet has important business and to procure for themselves the inspiration they wish to pass on to their friends both in the Wednesday meetings and elsewhere. The officers of this year were: President, Verna McCann, '18; Vice-President, Caroline Lips, '18; Secretary, Anna Fortinier, '20; Treasurer, Louise Burkeson, '18, and Associate Member, Loveta Veeder, '21. The committee chairmen were: Social, Gertrude Schermerhorn; Religious Meetings, Maud Jones, '18; Social Service, Mildred Guernsey, '18; Conferences and Convention, Jennie Mulllmann, '18; Association NEWS, Beulah Kittle, '19, Voluntary Study, Anne Smythe, '18, Missions, Lyra Waterhouse, '19, and Lunch Counter, May Fillingham, '18.

As few people realize the amount of work accomplished by this Association, a few notes are in order. The President is chairman of the Membership Committee. In the past it has been her duty to see that letters were written in the summer to entering students, that they were read in the fall, helped to find rooms and adjust themselves to their new life in various other ways. It is the duty of the Annual Member to keep the Association in touch with other Associations all over the country. The Committee on entertainment the Freshman when they first arrive, gives a large reception shortly after the opening of college. The Social Service Committee, or Extension Committee, is one avenue through which C. A. serves the community and about which passes to others something of the joy, inspiration and spiritual help which we receive at college. Mary Moore, who has charge of this work next year, is planning to enlarge the work so that there will be sub-committees working with all for such institutions as the Reisslayer Street Mission, the City Association, the Deerubon Home, the Red Cross, and the Old Ladies Home. The Voluntary Study Committee takes charge of Sunday School classes for college girls, Bible and Mission Study Classes. Owing to the lunch counter, which has been run by the Association for the last four or five years, our financial budget has always been very extensive—this year it included sums amounting to about $2,000. The money is spent in running the various committees, the Lunch Counter and the Y.W.C.A. Conventions. Among other things, we gave a couple hundred to the Armenian relief this year.

CLASS OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR 1918-19

The list of officers of the three upper classes, as elected just before the spring recess, is given below. A meeting of the members of the incoming freshman class will be called by Mykskania soon after the opening of college in the fall, for the purpose of organization and election of officers.

The fact that the students paid $3,470 into this fund of voluntary taxes is sufficient proof that the student tax is an institution which has come to stay. Furthermore, the students have been well pleased with the results of the tax. Athletics, especially basketball, have been carried on in manner which would not have been possible this year without the tax. The games have been well attended and enjoyed by all. Each student has received copies of the Echo and the News.

Nothing else has ever been such an important factor in creating college spirit and bringing the students closer together.

DRAMATIC

The Dramatics Class, although a part of the Department of Dramatics, is essentially a club to which all students belong with the consent of the instructor. Here all those who feel that they have dramatic ability are given an opportunity to display it. The class puts on at least one regular play each semester, in which parts are taken, managing is done and stagework supervised by students.

Miss Potter, the instructor, is a spirited director of dramatics and succeeds in giving the class that interpretation. She is recognized as one of the most charming and capable artists in her work, and not the least among her appreciative audience are the students and faculty of State College. Within the past semester, in which the class has been active, the following have been produced in order:

1. "The Professor's Daughter," by S. B. Agard, which was attempted. Three one-act plays were given, each interesting in its own way. The first, "Playgoers," by Sir Arthur Pinero, was published weekly throughout the entire academic year. It aimed to represent all of the interesting phases of the subject, each one being interpreted by the students. The alumni department of this publication is the only alumni publication.

2. "The Pedagogue," an original work by several members of the class, including Professor Sayles, and two student editors elected from the student-body. The articles, poems, etc., are the work of the college faculty. The alumni department of this publication is the only alumni publication.

3. "The College Songbook is a collection of songs of our own Alma Mater, of those of other colleges, and of familiar songs. The price is $1.00. Books may be ordered through Miss Lois R. Knox, chairman of the Songbook Committee, at the college. Free book is to be mailed and 25 cents for postage.

DEMONSTRATION LECTURES

The oldest student publication is the State College News, a copy of which is distributed monthly by a board of editors selected from the student-body, consisting of about 40 students. This is a "news" publication. The oldest student publication is the Echo, a bi-weekly magazine published weekly in the winter by a board of editors selected from the student-body. The articles, poems, etc., are the work of the college faculty. The alumni department of this publication is the only alumni publication.

The Pedagogue is the annual yearbook, published by the Senior class. It contains a record of the year's activities, data and accounts of college life. It is distinctly a "news" publication.

The College Songbook is a collection of songs of our own Alma Mater, of those of other colleges, and of familiar songs. The price is $1.00. Books may be ordered through Miss Lois R. Knox, chairman of the Songbook Committee, at the college. Free book is to be mailed and 25 cents for postage.

SOCIAL ACTIVITY

The Student Life at State College is a busy one, with many social events which take place during the year, making the feeling of community a strong one. The social activities of the students and faculty are very active, and those who enjoy the company of the other students can find many events of great interest.

The social events for freshmen are the first things on the program. These are given by the faculty, with the cooperation of the seniors and the Junior classes. In addition each class has its own activities, which are significantly different from the daily gym classes.

NEW ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

High school students will be interested in a change in the college entrance requirements to take effect October 1, 1919. Under these new requirements, diplomas issued by the Regents become the basis of admission, the diplomas being the equivalent of the B. A. and B. S. courses in the high school. Applicants are not required to present credentials of secretarial training or other special courses. All candidates for admission to the college must present the required high school record, and the college will make its own examination of the student, either in person or by the college officials, to determine his qualifications for admission.

NEW REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

During the year the Faculty Council has materially modified the requirements for graduation, and the new regulations take effect on October 1, 1919. The requirements are more liberal than in the past, with the result that the time required for graduation may be materially reduced. The new requirements are as follows:

1. A student must complete a total of 120 credits, including 40 credits in the major field.
2. At least 24 of the 40 credits in the major field must be completed during the junior and senior years.
3. A student must maintain a grade point average of 2.0 in all courses.
4. A student must complete a minimum of 10 credits in the humanities, including 4 credits in English literature.
5. A student must complete a minimum of 10 credits in the sciences, including 4 credits in natural science.
6. A student must complete a minimum of 10 credits in the social sciences, including 4 credits in history.
7. A student must complete a minimum of 10 credits in the fine arts, including 4 credits in music.
8. A student must complete a minimum of 10 credits in the foreign languages, including 4 credits in a second foreign language.
9. A student must complete a minimum of 10 credits in the physical education, including 4 credits in athletics.
10. A student must complete a minimum of 10 credits in the service sciences, including 4 credits in business administration.

The new requirements are designed to provide a more flexible curriculum, allowing students to pursue their own interests and to complete their degree requirements in a shorter time.

CAPITOL DISTRICT ADVANTAGES

Albany and its vicinity offer many advantages for students in all fields of study. The city is the cultural center of the state, with a wide range of cultural and educational opportunities. The city is home to a number of colleges and universities, including the State University of New York at Albany, which offers a variety of degree programs.

Many of the advantages include:

1. A wide range of cultural opportunities, including museums, theaters, and concert halls.
2. A variety of educational opportunities, including post-secondary education and professional training.
3. A rich history, with a number of historic sites and landmarks.
4. A strong sense of community, with a wide range of community organizations and events.
5. A diverse population, with a wide range of cultural and ethnic backgrounds.

The Capitol District offers a unique combination of cultural and educational opportunities, making it an ideal location for students to pursue their studies.

RED CROSS AUXILIARY

The college Red Cross Auxiliary has been very busy this year. Organized late in the fall, rapidly growing in numbers, the Auxiliary has been endorsed by faculty and students, and it has been doing work that the college authorities had not planned. Every Tuesdays and Thursdays afternoons girls have been collecting blood in Red Cross Auxiliary boxes which have been in room E5 to make surgical dressings under the direction of the hospital. Monday and Wednesday evenings and Mondays the Auxiliary has made hospital garments and clothes for Belgian children. Girls who couldn't sew did their bit by pulling bastings. Girls who neither knew not needed to sew turned out in droves knitting in the corridors, on the street, in classes.

We already have gifts of $50 from the Dramatics Class and $5 from the Spanish Club with which to buy materials for next year.

Now we need girls to use that material, if we are to cut and sew garments to care and work in the rooms in Milne High School. If every woman in the Auxiliary will do her bit next year the Auxiliary will have a more successful year. We have had many successes and our boys will feel that the girls in State College are backing up their work at the front.

NEWMAN CLUB

One of the more recent organizations founded in State College is Newman Club. Like Newman clubs and similar organizations in other colleges, it was founded by Catholic students. However, its membership is not restricted. It was organized in order to afford an opportunity for social communication which would also result in moral development. The majority of the members are more advanced than Chemistry I, but they have done excellent work. The club is also a great deal of confidence in the work, and it is expected to advance the work of our college.

The officers for 1917-18 were: President, Margaret Shevlin, '18; Vice-President, Mary Hays, '18; Secretary, Marjorie Edgerton, '18; Treasurer, Helen Fay, '19.

MUSIC CLUB

The purpose of this club is to disseminate information regarding the college throughout the State and country. The President, Ray Townshend, '18, has gone into musical service. Dora Street, '18, has been elected as Secretary-Treasurer.

ART CLUB

An Art Club is to be started in the fall, which anyone may join. Dorothy Bacheller, '19, will go to the New York convention this winter and work in the Consumers' League. She was admitted to the Bar in 1916 and is still living in Albany, State of New York.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club was founded by M. Simonin, assistant professor of French. The purpose of the club is to promote the study in French, to teach an appreciation of the French people, their art, customs, government and so forth. Membership is open to all interested.

MANDOLIN CLUB

A new branch of the musical activities of the college has recently been formed by the organization of a Mandolin Club. The club consists of two members and is the only one of its kind. Florence Luber, '20, was president during the past year.

OMECRON NU

Omecron Nu is a national honorary organization, organized for the promotion of a high type of scholarship among the Juniors and Seniors who have attained a high standing in the college, as indicated by the scholarship, proficiency and character of each student, during the college course, in a determining factor in the election to membership. The officers of the Beta Chapter (State College) are: President, Dorothy Beacher, '19; Vice-President, Cora Ann Steele; Secretary, Gertrude Ellett, '19; Treasurer, Harriet Church, '19; council, Edna Woodward, '19 and Bernice Brumner, '19.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES

There are six sororities and three fraternities operating in State College to fill the need for social interaction among the students of college work. Membership in these organizations is allowed only to students who have completed a satisfactory average in their work. There are five local sororities and one national, the fraternities are made up of one local and two national. There are three fraternity houses which have been temporarily given up, but the majority of the sororities are located in rented houses.

The sororities with the year of organization, the president for next year and the location of the house are:

Delta Omega 1896—Edith Morrisson, President, 828 Jay St.
Kappa Delta 1886—Dorothy Roberts, President, 116 North Allen St.
Pe Gamma 1890—Ruth Patterson, President, 124 South Lake Ave.
Kappa Nu 1915—Alicia Russell, President, 193 Lancaster St.
Alpha Epsilon Phi 1895—Sophia Rosensweig, President.

The fraternities, which do not declare their members, were organized as follows:
Sigma Nu, Kappa, 1913.

ALUMNI NOTES

1854—William Pierce Payne and his wife, Adeline B. Payne, of Nevada, Iowa, alumni for 64 years, visited the college May 16th. He stated that the age of his father, editor of one of Nevada's newspapers, is 86. In 1906 his wife, a graduate of the State University, is making a tour of the East.

1890—Kate Steenman, for many years the editor of the local newspaper, is still living in Albany, N.Y. She was admitted to the Bar in 1886 being the first woman lawyer in New York State. It was through her efforts that the bill was secured granting women the right to practice law in the State of New York.
FACULTY CHANGES OF THE YEAR

DEAN HORNER

Dr. Harlan Hoyt Horner, who is connected with the administration of the State Normal School, has just come to us from the Examinations and Testing Division of the State Education Department. His previous work especially fitted him for the work of Dean. In his intimate relations with the student body he is contributing in a very real sense to the student life. He seems to understand the student point of view and can enter into student life with a spontaneity that is inspiring.

Dean Horner was born on a farm in southern Iowa on May 4, 1879. His early education was received in the public schools of Iowa. He was later graduated from an Iowa high school and from the University of Illinois with the degree of A. B. in 1901. He was an instructor in English for two years after graduation, and then went to the University of Nebraska to be President of the University, then the late Dr. Andrew S. Draper. When Dr. Draper became New York State Commissioner of Education in 1904 Mr. Horner came with him to Albany as his secretary, and has been connected with the State Education Department for the last 13 years. He was for a time Chief of the Administrative Division of the last seven years has occupied the responsible position of Director of the Examinations and Testing Division. He has spoken and written widely upon educational topics, and his experience in educational administration has given him the degree of M. A. from the State College in 1915, and spent the summer of 1916 in special study at Harvard University.

MISS EDNA AVERY

Miss Edna J. Avery, who has been instructor in Domestic Art at State College since 1913, resigned her position last week to become one in the University of Cincinnati.

MISS AGNES FUTTERER

Miss Agnes E. Futterer, our new instructor in English, is a graduate of State College, the Sargent Dramatic School of Columbia University, and the American Academy of Dramatic Art. The results of her extensively specialized preparation are apparent in the plays that have been given by the Dramatics Class. Every detail receives proper attention. This thorough study develops in the members of the Dramatics Class. Every detail receives proper attention. This thorough study develops in the members of the Dramatics Class. JAMES ALEXANDER

James M. Alexander, a graduate of the Williamsburg Trade School near Philadelphia, has had extensive experience in practical manufacturing and teaching in the engineering departments of Haverford College, Pa. He comes to the machine shop of our Industrial Department with ideas of his own. It is to be interesting to the regular students and to the Soldier School that will be set up here in the coming months. He succeeds Mr. William C. Randall, who accepted an appointment as inspector with a manufacturer.

MRS. MARONEY

Miss Mary A. McClelland resigned after nearly fifty years of service to the college. Her rare personality was an effective inspiration to all who knew her feel that she is one with us.

MISS JESSIE G. COLE

Miss Jessie G. Cole, for three years instructor in physical education here, has resigned to accept a position in the University of Wisconsin. She has had valuable experience both as an instructor and in practical work with women. He also studied abroad as one of a commission of twenty-five teachers selected by the United States government. He is now supervisor of the office teaching of women's chests and instructor in the Industrial Department.

MISS MARY SMITH

Mary A. Smith, the new supervisor of practice teaching in the Industrial Department, is a graduate of State College and has studied at the Colorado State College for Teachers and has studied at Columbia University. She has had wide experience as a teacher in the University of Porto Rico, and the University of Idaho, and as supervisor of Domestic Arts in the State Department of Education of Wisconsin.

CLARENCE DEYO

Clarence J. Deyo, the financial secretary of the college, came to us in July, 1917, with the end of War. His early education was received in the public schools of Iowa. He was later graduated from an Iowa high school and from the University of Wisconsin, where he obtained his degree of A. B. in 1901. He was an instructor in English for two years after graduation, and then went to the University of Nebraska to be President of the University, then the late Dr. Andrew S. Draper. He has spoken and written widely upon educational topics, and his experience in educational administration has given him the degree of M. A. from the State College in 1915, and spent the summer of 1916 in special study at Harvard University.

HARRY SMITH

H. B. Smith, the former Director of Practical Arts here, accepted an appointment as Regional Agent under the Federal Administration Board provided by the Smith-Hughes law. His work consists in marshalling the resources of the states for the advancement of industrial education. He has spoken and written widely upon educational topics, and his experience in educational administration has given him the degree of M. A. from the State College in 1915, and spent the summer of 1916 in special study at Harvard University.

MISS MARY McCLELLAND

Miss Jeanne M. Gray, for three years instructor in physical education here, has resigned to accept a position in the University of Wisconsin. She has had a very high standard for physical education for women. Her great ability is recognized in the university where she goes at a much higher salary. Her successor has not yet been appointed.

MISS JESSIE G. COLE

Miss Jessie G. Cole, a new instructor in Domestic Art, comes to us from the Albany High School.

MISS E. LOUISE CAMORDY

Miss Elizabeth Louise Carmody, State College '16, our new instructor in Chemistry, was added because of the growth of the Chemistry Department. Mrs. Carmody comes to us from the Imperial Color Works of Glen Falls. This plant is affiliated with the Industrial Water Paper Company of the same city. Her work was along the line of developing Paraffinum reds for use in paper and printing ink trade. She was very successful in the development of metatungstate colors.

We may well be proud of the fact that Miss Carmody originated the formula for a color which is now manufactured by this company. It is used in the best quality of print. When she put a roll of blue in the mill, she was to be under the immediate supervision of Miss Steele and Miss Wilson, as assistant to the Chemistry Department. The feeding of the students will be under the immediate supervision of Miss Steele and Miss Wilson, as assistant to the Chemistry Department. BANNER RUSH

By Marion A. Beale, ’20

Long ago there was a fresh class in the halls of alma mater, Which so smartly and so kindly Wished to start some college spirit. Never thinking, oh, those children, That they were still young and foolish.

Then it was they stole a banner From the Sophs, a yellow banner; Stole it, hid it, yelled and shouted: "Look at us, oh, Sophs, and wonder At our brain, our nerve, our sinew."

Then the council, wise and powerful, Met the Freshmen, looked them over, And with judges from the Seniors Spoke to them: "You must do like this."

Thus it happened that the Freshmen Met and held each other tightly, And with judges from the Seniors Spoke to them: "You must do like this."

So Lobell and L. McMahon, With two Frosh, Barry and Harry, And with judges from the Seniors Spoke to them: "You must do like this."

So Lobell and L. McMahon, With two Frosh, Barry and Harry, And with judges from the Seniors Spoke to them: "You must do like this."

The Frosh charged, and the Freshmen met and held each other tightly, And with judges from the Seniors Spoke to them: "You must do like this."

Neither of these poor Freshmen then did anything foolish.

Now, my children, have I told you Of the fate of those poor Freshmen? Thus it happens to all children. Who lack of proper deference Show to those who are their elders.
