Collection for Junior Class Rings to Begin April 6;
Minerva Re-Designed and Other Changes are Adopted

The junior class ring has been chosen by the committee and will be available on Moving Up Day to juniors who make payment by Saturday, April 10. A. J. Elliott, of the Balfour company, to whom the permanent contract for the ring has been awarded by Myskania will be in the rotunda from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday, April 8, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, April 9, to take orders.

The committee will soon post a schedule of hours on which payments may be made in the rotunda, beginning on Tuesday, April 6, in order to assure delivery of rings for Moving Up Day, the money must be paid in full. In case of resignation of the student, the entire cost of the ring will be refunded.

The price of the rings will be $6.65, the same as last year. This is provided for in the contract, where provisions guaranteeing the weight of the ring, the quality of the gold, the delivery, the craftsmanship, etc., are specified.

In general effect the rings will be much like last year's. Several improvements, however, have been effected. The green gold which is rubbed upon the shield portion of the ring will be of a kind this year that is guaranteed against wearing off. This shield will also be placed about the class numerals on the shank of the ring. The shield will be exactly as last year, as this has been adopted as standard, but the name of Minerva has been re-designed to obtain a more accurate representation of the mythology.

To do this the Balfour company photographed the statue and also had a new design made by the same firm which constructed the original. From these the new figures were designed. Its most conspicuous changes in length, the new design being 1.27, of this amount, $250 was subscribed.

Week pledges are being redeemed in the rounds and students will be there all day today to receive money and new pledges from those who have already pledged. The News also publishes today a blank for the use of new subscribers. A list of these persons will be published as a supplement to today's record in an issue of the News soon after vacation.

The annual assembly Friday delighted Dr. Brubaker, he said, and he announced that the President would meet the student association, which was equally pleased with the generous amounts given by those who did pledge. More than four hundred students have not yet responded and it is to obtain their contributions that the drive is continuing. At least half of these were not at the assemblies and hence had no opportunity, and many of the others, it is believed, are now deciding of making gifts.

Education Unconscious, Effective Agency in Removing Primary Causes of Crime, Finegan Tells Conference

The Round Table Conference will be held next March, Dr. A. R. Brubaker announced today. There were about four hundred teachers, representing twenty-five localities, in the conference attending the Round Table Conference held at the College News, Friday, March 19. Dr. Thomas Finegan in his address said, "Education can be an unconscious but effective agency in removing the primary causes of crime." Dr. Finegan also emphasized the fact that education is the primary agency in the average working day to four hours, a task often for all the students but to use wisely, so many of the students are being used to the lasting disadvantage of the society.
