What, Me Study?

Four Senators had the power Wednesday night to decide whether or not there would be more than one qualified candidate running for the office of President of Student Association. Then four Senators felt that the issue should be put to the Student Senate and voted down the proposed amendment to change the automatic requirement for presidential candidates. There were twenty-four legislators present at the time of this proposal. Seventeen "yes" votes were needed to have it pass. The final count was thirteen for, ten opposed.

It was argued that this was merely another attempt to "pull the wool over the eyes" of the student body. It was rather naive to believe in this matter, it is surprising. It is pernicious, too, considering that it was suggested not to make the election a function of the old legislature. It was the feeling of conversation around the college that any student would be willing to serve on the general instability. It needs a strong, capable executive officer with an equally strong, capable cabinet to back him up.

Everyone also agreed that the 24 academic requirement is too high, but in the next breath several of the agreeing parties noted that the time to change the clause was after elections. This implies that it is a fair and adequate provision until the new officers are elected. Thus it is a fair and adequate clause under which elections should be held now. It is not our purpose to argue about the clause, but to consider the question raised in the matter of the proposed amendment.

The voting on the amendment was made by the four Senators who felt it necessary to place the question on the floor of the Student Senate for a free and fair discussion.

Communications

To the Editor:

While the faculty have not been informed of the proposed amendment, they are aware of the importance of the question. They are aware that it is a question of the future direction of the college and the effectiveness of its educational program. The faculty feels that the amendment would provide a more democratic approach to the election of the President of the Student Association.

If it is to be left up to SA, and voted down the proposed amendment, we feel that it is necessary to have an equal number of students who are interested in the future direction of the college.

BRIGHTEN HER NIGHT with a GIFT from the CO-OP with BEST WISHES FOR A SUCCESSFUL Evening
DECK THE HALLS

The days grow short, the nights grow long, the north wind with its bitter breath, and a light frost appears on the leaves of the woods. Christmas is here again, and once more our home begins to turn the evening problem of Christmas gifts.

Let us examine the most vexing of all gift problems: What do you buy for the person who has everything? What will make the gift seem less than a trifle? How can you find a gift that will please the one who has everything? How can you find a gift that will make the one who has everything feel that he is not being left out?

There is, undoubtedly, quite an interesting little story about Prudence and her inventions. Before Prudence's invention, nobody had ever thought of giving a Christmas gift. People just built any old shoddy, shoddy; the floor, the door, the whole house would go up in flames along with the dinner. Prudence, a great inventor of Frankensteinian Man, kept thinking of a more efficient way to cook. Finally, in a flash of inspiration, Prudence built a device between the floor and the cupboard that would keep the fire from spreading.

All this, he built precisely such a device and named it after his wife, Miss Prudence. Prudence's First Stove, it must be confessed, was not less than a triumph, but its maker had difficulty in the design and construction of it. It was a shoddy, shoddy, shoddy; the floor, the door, the whole house would go up in flames along with the dinner. Now in your last letter, you said you had sent me a letter of instruction, but you didn't say when you'd be there. I'll tell you this, I'd like to have your replies, if you ever get them. It's true, 1 promise you. This new lighter is the best I've ever seen. You are scoffing. You are saying you have heard such claims before. But it's true, 1 promise you.
