Vol. 27 No. 13
Constitutional?

This is the question before Student Assembly today. For the first time in several years, it has been operating under a statute that has not been updated for a number of years. The Student Assembly is not authorized by law, and it does not have the same power over the members as the Constitution of Student Assembly which could "all legal rights and privileges enjoyed by the members of the Assembly...".

Under Article II requiring membership, it is therefore, the duty of the student body and the Student Assembly to agree to the facts presented by the President in his report. The President has made the facts clear in his report and they are not disputed.

The facts are as follows:

1. The Student Assembly is not authorized by law.
2. The Student Assembly does not have the same power over the members as the Constitution of Student Assembly which could "all legal rights and privileges enjoyed by the members of the Assembly..."

Under Article II requiring membership, it is therefore, the duty of the student body and the Student Assembly to agree to the facts presented by the President in his report. The President has made the facts clear in his report and they are not disputed.
