Lake Minera

To Draw Crowds

By Bill Emery

"All things come to him who waits." So the saying goes. But it may not be true for Lake Minera. Today the lake was practically deserted as we made the rounds of the University News offices. But we speak, of course, of Lake Minera, the largest in the state. It is a natural wonder, and we have never been so disappointed by a lake in our lives. When we arrived at Lake Minera, we expected to see a beautiful lake surrounded by a charming village. However, when we arrived, we found nothing but an empty shell of a lake. It seems that Lake Minera has been drained for fishing purposes, and we are left with nothing but a large, empty hole in the ground.

But hold, you say, there must be something more to the story. Indeed, there is. We have heard that Lake Minera is being drained for the construction of a new dam. This will greatly improve the lake's fishing opportunities, and we are looking forward to the day when we can once again enjoy the beauty of Lake Minera. So, if you're visiting the area, be sure to check out the lake, even though it may not be as big as you expect.

March On Capitol Follows

Student Conference Meeting

Members of the Confucian Council, composed of students in languages, sponsored the annual meeting of the Confucian Council on the State Capitol. The meeting was attended by over 100 students from around the state, and the council discussed the importance of maintaining cultural heritage and the role of Confucianism in modern society.

University Band to Present

Pop Concert in Page Hall

The University Band will present a pop concert at 8 p.m. in Page Hall this Saturday. The concert will feature a variety of popular songs and arrangements, including classics from the 1950s and 1960s. The concert is free and open to the public. So come out and enjoy a night of great music with the University Band.

State Fair

Booths and Shows to Highlight

"Grecian Earn" at State Fair

The New York State Fair is set to open on Friday, September 5, and will run through Sunday, September 14. The fair is expected to attract over 1 million visitors, and will feature a variety of attractions, including livestock shows, agricultural exhibits, and entertainment acts.

Some of the highlights of this year's fair include the "Grecian Earn" exhibit, which showcases the rich culture and history of Greece. Visitors can learn about Greek art, architecture, and mythology, while enjoying delicious Greek cuisine. Other attractions include the hay ride, the petting zoo, and the mini-golf course.

The fair is open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and admission is $8 per person. Children under 12 years of age are admitted free of charge. For more information, visit the New York State Fair website or call 518-474-2111.

RESOLUTION ADVOCATES MORE TUITION FIGHT

The Student Senate has passed a resolution advocating for more tuition freeze measures. The resolution calls for the state to provide additional funding to public universities in order to help reduce tuition costs for students. The resolution also calls for the state to explore alternative funding sources, such as private donations and corporate sponsorships.

The News would like to commend the Inter-Fraternity Council and the fraternities concerned on their faculty committee action in regard to the recent events at the Cornell Football. In fairness to the involved parties we are refusing from printing any specific information at this time, but we do hope to have a complete account in the next edition.

We would also like to make some further comment on the spirit that seems to be engendered as a result of this unhappy incident. For a long time there has existed in the fraternities an element that felt dissatisfied with the fraternities. Recently these people, predominately fraternity and campus leaders, have been exercising the role of fraternities and particularly their place of work or frath on the new campus.

Cornell has succeeded in amusing almost everyone in the loquax pledge, a story anonymous of individual and group standards. Fraternity men have become trimunantly aware of their failings and their unrealized potentials. With this attitude, and action to back it up, fraternities have a much better chance of realizing their potentials. With this attitude, and action to

Commissioner Explains Election Difficulties

To the Editor:

Mr. Matthew's letter is an excellent explanation, not an excuse, for the vice-president elections.

The vice-presidents were in the field while they were in college, and they were not elected by their fraternity. The students were elected by the faculty. It is not a clear-cut argument against the vice-president election, but it does present a weakness in the system.

Mr. Walker's letter is one of several presented anonymously to SPC and CCC. Last week Mr. Walker, editor of The Collegian, wrote to the president of the Student Association, expressing his concern over the lack of interest in student affairs. In addition he has been transgressed as a result of the Middle East and North Africa situation.

DIPPIKILL OFFERS MANY CAMPING OPPORTUNITIES
Camp Ready for Use by Students and Faculty
Accommodations Available for Thirty People

March 15, 1963

To: All students, faculty, and staff.

Dippikill has been opened for use by students, faculty, and staff. Groups may pack up and leave the camp at any time during the day. The weather is expected to be pleasant and comfortable.

It might not be home, but the quarters at Dippikill are both adequate and comfortable. The group leader must complete the group work order and return it to the group leader. It is understood that the group leader will be responsible for the group's conduct.

Procedures to Use Camp Disclosed

Every group planning to use the camp must clear the following requirements:

1. Clear an application in the Student Association Recreation Office.
2. Clear the Group Leader's Office.

The group leader must ensure that the group members are informed about all the requirements and procedures prior to leaving the camp.

Communication

To avoid any misunderstanding, the group leader should discuss the trip with the group members and ensure that everyone is aware of the rules and regulations.

A tranquil scene. This is a far cry from the slush of Albany.

Easiest Route to Dippikill Given

The Easiest Route to Dippikill is:

From Albany, take I-287 to exit 23.

The camp provides a place where a group can start a fire. All groups should leave enough snow on the ground at the camp. This may lie one large group or several small groups. Each group may be considered separate, although the groups may work together.

The scene of many a friendly card game. Dippikill has many facilities. The group leader must ensure that the group members are aware of the rules and regulations prior to leaving the camp.

Dean of Students
The New York State Intercollegiate Athletic Conference will hold its annual meeting at Cortland this April 4 and 5. In many ways the conference will be much like a crossroads in the athletic history of State.

State has been circulating around campus for months concerning whether the conference will remain in the University or not. What happens at Cortland April 4 and 5 will determine what the future of the conference will be.

The conference is a member of the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) and the Intercollegiate Conference of Eastern States (IC4S) which are both connected with the American Intercollegiate Athletic Association (AIAA).

The conference also has a standing relationship with the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP) and the Intercollegiate Sports Press Association (ISPA).

The conference is made up of six member institutions:

- Binghamton University
- Colgate University
- Cortland State University
- Oneonta State College
- Oswego State University
- Plattsburgh State University

The conference meets annually to discuss various matters affecting collegiate athletics in the state. The topics to be discussed at this year's meeting will be:

1. The status of the conference as a member of the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) and the Intercollegiate Conference of Eastern States (IC4S).
2. The future of the conference as a member of the AIAA.
3. The status of the conference as a member of the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP) and the Intercollegiate Sports Press Association (ISPA).
4. The status of the conference as a member of the AIAA.
5. The status of the conference as a member of the ECAC.
6. The status of the conference as a member of the IC4S.
7. The status of the conference as a member of the AIAA.
8. The status of the conference as a member of the ECAC.
9. The status of the conference as a member of the IC4S.
10. The status of the conference as a member of the AIAA.

The conference also meets to discuss other matters affecting collegiate athletics in the state. The topics to be discussed at this year's meeting will include:

1. The status of the conference as a member of the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP) and the Intercollegiate Sports Press Association (ISPA).
2. The status of the conference as a member of the AIAA.

Election Tabulations Show Fresh Influence on SA and MYSKANIA Elections, Margins, Votes Cast

Final tabulations from the elections a few weeks ago have finally revealed what many people have been watching for since last year. The question that has been debated on campus is whether or not freshmen have had an influence on the final SA and MYSKANIA elections. Although the results are not final until the roll of the student unions are cast, it appears that freshmen have had a significant voice in the election results.

CAMP COUNSELOR OPENINGS

STATE UNIVERSITY NEWS, FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1963

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor,

"Save me, that I may be saved," said the man in the nursery. This was the first time that the man had ever said anything to the nursery boy, and the nursery boy was not at all sure what to make of it.

"Why, what is the matter with you?" asked the nursery boy.

"I don't know," said the man. "I feel funny, somehow."

"You feel funny? What do you mean by feeling funny?"

"I don't know," said the man again. "I just feel funny."

"Well, don't feel funny," said the nursery boy. "It's not good for you to feel funny."

"I know," said the man. "I shouldn't feel funny, and I'll stop feeling funny."

"Good," said the nursery boy. "Now, let's get on with the work."

"I'm sorry," said the man. "I shouldn't have felt funny."

"Don't worry about it," said the nursery boy. "We can't all be feeling funny all the time."

"I suppose," said the man. "But it's just such a terrible feeling."

"It is terrible," said the nursery boy. "That's why we have to learn to control our feelings."

"I will," said the man. "I won't feel funny any more."

"That's good," said the nursery boy. "Now, let's get on with the work."

SON Initiates Editorial Policy

We, the non-editors of The Sun of SUN, wish to establish our editorial policy.

We are a free press paper group, as a result we are allowed to appear only one a year. We have worked extremely hard to make this happen.

We wish to comment Food Service for its excellent meals, it's hospitable climate for eating, and its friendly policy toward future students.

We wish to commend the janitorial and maintenance divisions of the staff. We have always encouraged dirty and joy side ways. They have many beneficial side effects which would not have people ignor. First, the dirt helps support the surface color. Secondly, the fine snow guarantees the cleaning of products, health insurance, books, rubbers, patch shoes, sand, salt, and pebbles to control clogged areas.

We wish to commend the administration for its newly found high velocidad policy about immorality, bluney, ownership, and prudency. We wish to compliment one of our more active friends for its support of our team at the Camelot tournament, not to mention its upcoming behavior and hyper singing. Those student's willingness to support our University's team are clearly differ from their less active fellow students.

We complain the liberal new attitude in all of our prestigious clubs. The Old Man Society has be especially active this year.

Most of all we love our governor, wherever we may be. We admire the way he has things working down in the State Capitol, the plant which manufactures president.

SON Discovers Anti-Ups Plots

We the editors of The SUN are probably the most deeply religious group in the country. We have never a full week when we do not uncover another again of the communist anti-up plots.

Every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday we have prayer meetings. These meetings have become so popular that they now have to be held in the Capitol. We meditate we have had real a rest of the related anti-up brainwashing.

We have instituted rifle and hand grenade practice among our students. Friday it dark and snowing there is heavy fog we are able to hold our meetings during the winter legs.

Our spiritual evangel has continued in the face of all other epistles and apocalyptic rumors of communism. We have distribute our leaflets and pamphlets on street corns. We distribute them from door to door.

This door to door method has proved to be one of the most remarkable weapons of our group. One school teacher who refused to listen to our advice was hoarsely by our agents that the stupid liberal lost his mind.

Our efforts will continue. We will continue fighting for our basic freedom to destroy such evil communist inspired terrorism as freedom of the press, of speech, of religion, of expression, and of petition. We will not be stopped by anyone.

We are thankful to our hero, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Our leader is the only one who has stood for our rights, and who has not been postage and wrong.

We must not be lost ansey or clerk politicians who promise things such as progress. Go right and stay.

To the Editor

I am writing to voice my fear that the student body of Albany State University is becoming strange.

Early last fall I purchased a Volkswagen bug from a friend of mine who had just brought it back from a trip to the states. It was a great car, and I was very excited to have one of my own. I had planned to drive it around the county, but something happened that changed my plans.

Several weeks later I woke up in a hospital bed to find out that I had been injured in an accident. I was completely unaware of what had occurred, and I was in the hospital for a few days before I was released.

I have since learned that the accident was caused by a drunk driver who was uninsured. This has made me extremely concerned about my ability to drive safely in the future.

I would like to express my gratitude to the staff of the hospital for their care and support during this difficult time. I am grateful for the opportunity to write to you about this important issue.

Sincerely,
