Benecke Fails To Turn Himself In

by Thomas Marcelli

Former Class of 78 president, Mark Benecke, has not yet turned himself in to authorities. Benecke was found guilty of fraudulently receiving a USAID grant in 2012. The grant was intended to support the rebuilding of a school in a remote village in Africa. According to authorities, Benecke failed to report the income from the grant, resulting in a fine of $100,000 and a one-year probation. The case has sparked debate about the transparency of government funding and the role of individuals in the decision-making process.

Bio Pros Explore Gene Defects

A scientific breakthrough could lead to successful organ transplants, economically feasible tissue production, and the ability to grow a person from a frozen embryo. Two other SUNYA biology staff, David Holzer and Richard Zimmerman, are two researchers who are exploring the potential of recombinant DNA.

Just ask Zierman what he is working on. "We may be running out of blood," he says. Zierman believes that human genes would be a powerful tool to replace the blood of people with sickle cell disease.

Zierman says that this project is "made out of necessity." He points to the work of Holzer, who has been developing genetic engineering techniques for the past six years.

"The last thing Zierman wants to do is to work with human cells," Zierman says. "But since we work with human cells, we have to do the work."

"The best thing about recombinant DNA is that it can be used to make drugs and vaccines," Zierman says. "And we can make a lot of them.

Zierman also emphasizes that this research is not only important for the medical community, but also for the general public. "It is important to us, and to the country," Zierman says. "And we have to do it.

The Observer-Observer reports that the F.C.C. will soon launch a series of testing hearings around the United States in so-called "real" and "true" networks and radio stations. The F.C.C. will try to determine whether there is an adequate level of competition and whether the networks are fulfilling the public interest. Securing Student Security Pay those little yellow parking tickets a little more quickly this semester; the three dollars is going for a worthy cause. SUNY will soon have a student security patrol to aid and augment the efforts of the university police.

With all the stalling and bickering going on over the gun proposal, it’s good to see new directions being explored to increase security on the campus.

A student security system is one of those rare ideas from which everyone benefits -- the university police gain range and trust; the student volunteers gain experience, responsibility and a hand in the policing of their campus; and the community ends up with a stable increase in its invaluable security — safety.

Congratulations and thanks are in order, for both Vice President for Finance and Business John Hartigan and the Committee on a Student Security Patrol.

Stemming Student Subsidies

Last week’s referendum results proved that the students on this campus don’t want to pay $15.95 per semester for a fieldhouse.

Despite all the efforts to instigate a large voter turnout — extending the voting period, increasing the number of polling places, mailing ballots to off-campus students — the majority of the over 8627 eligible students stayed home.

Part of this can be attributed to student apathy in general, and part to problems with the first-time handling of the computer card process. However, the fact that the best way of deflecting this issue was by not voting at all is a sign that we’ve done something right.

The referendum showed that the students don’t want their tax dollars used for this area. Those who voted “yes” voted with the numbers and the standards of a student who has a separate residence.

The other side can argue easily enough, of course. For 1560 is an impressive “yes” showing, but it isn’t impressive enough to commit people who haven’t ever been born yet into shelling out for a multi-million dollar construction project.

Any other proposals the committee has up its sleeve will hopefully not include a repeat of the referendum process. It would be foolish to waste hundreds of hours and hundreds of dollars only to come up with the same result.

If there’s going to be a fieldhouse at SUNY, then the Student Recreation Center Committee will have to find the money elsewhere.

Student Security System

Not a Bad Idea

by David Gold

Violent crimes on campus have increased one hundred per cent in the past five years, according to a new study. The problem is not peculiar to SUNY, but rather nationwide. The report warns that if crime is not controlled now, the rate of crime increase will continue at a frightening rate. Within the next five years, the cost of crime and the fear of crime will become even more significant.

The report, which was conducted by the Bureau of Justice Statistics, reveals that crimes committed on campus are increasing at a faster rate than crimes committed off campus. The report also states that more than half of all crimes committed on campus are not reported to the police. This is due to the fact that the police do not have the resources to investigate these crimes.

The study also found that the majority of crimes committed on campus are not violent crimes, but rather property crimes such as theft, burglary, and vandalism. The report states that these crimes are often committed by students who are not enrolled in the school.

SUNY has taken steps to combat this problem by implementing a new security program. The program includes increased patrols, the installation of surveillance cameras, and the use of electronic access control systems.

In conclusion, the Student Security System is a good idea. However, more needs to be done to combat the crime problem on campus. The university should consider implementing additional security measures such as the installation of metal detectors and the hiring of additional security guards.

Campus Safety

Dear Campus Safety

I am writing to express my support for the Student Security System. The system is necessary to combat the rising crime rate on campus.

The system will provide increased security for students, faculty, and staff. It will also help to deter potential criminals from committing crimes on campus.

I urge you to support the Student Security System and to do everything possible to ensure its success.

Sincerely,

A Poor Night for Rondi

By SUSAN E. MILLER

When attending a concert, most people expect to laugh, sing, dance, and enjoy the evening. Many of us expected this from the performance of Rondi, but unfortunately, our expectations were not met. Rondi did not put up all his usual tricks this time around. The audience became very bored and the whole event seemed to drag on.

However, there were some redeeming qualities of the performance. One aspect that stood out was the lighting. The lighting was effective in creating different moods on stage and added to the overall atmosphere of the performance.

In conclusion, while the audience may have been left a bit disappointed by Rondi’s performance, it certainly was not a wasted evening. The music and the performances were enjoyable, and the audience will surely look forward to the next performance of Rondi that promises to be even better. We hope that Rondi will continue to entertain us with his unique and captivating performances in the future.

The Terriers have captured the AIAA League 1 sectional championship Sunday night in the Dwyer voice-a-chamber against Chaffee 11-7. The Terriers needed only a win or a tie to advance to the finals after the game was suspended due to rain Friday night.

The game was played at the Terriers’ home field at 7 p.m. with 2,000 fans in attendance.

A slow start by the Terriers allowed the Rangers to control the game early.

Joe Smith and Bob Allen scored for the Terriers, while John Johnson and Mike Turner scored for the Rangers.

The Terriers took a 1-0 lead in the first half on a goal by Smith, while the Rangers took a 2-1 lead in the second half on goals by Johnson and Turner.

The Terriers and Rangers played a scoreless tie in the 2-1 loss.

Rugby Club Tuning Up

by Ken Kurtz

The Albany State Rugby Club has been practicing, conditioning and working on techniques for two months of preparation for their spring season which begins on March 18th against Mahattan at 1:30 p.m. at the school.

The Rugby Club plans to attend a exhibition game against one of the teams to be announced later this week by the Albany Rugby Association.

The controlled scrimmage does not permit, every ten minutes, someone gets a chance to play.

“The scrimmage was important in the season where we get game experience and work ourselves into our position,” said captain Neil McNamara.

Meanwhile, the scrimmage was played at a nearby field held by Woodland Park, and the “choking games” during breaks were to keep the players loose and fresh for field conditions. The scrimmage was held on April 3rd.

Presently, there are 25 players on the team. This includes 20 scrimmages and 10 scrambles. The advantage will allow the nickel to hold their touch against their opponents this season.

Women and Foreigners are encouraged to come and train, and Chuck Ruggiero holds the training position.

Women Softballers Looking For Players

by Christine Bellini

Theromatic softball season is about upon us. Along with the rest of spring sports, the preparation for spring sports - according to the Killington Business practice has already begun. There are winter workouts every Monday afternoon from 4:30 P.M. in the women's auxiliary gym. All-University players are welcome to attend. Playing with a team in Killington area, the hopes for a competitive season are high. But in order to have a team, one must be a 'strong player. If enough women are to be enrolled in playing expenses will be minimal.

The team has had a difficult time getting off the ground. Women interested in this sport or if there is anyone interested in playing in a team, just need to indicate if you are serious about the game.

Spring Flung at Killington

And, when there's skiing at Killington, there's everything else too. Restaurants, night clubs, bars, dancing... everything in Spring that makes Killington the extraordinary place it is all winter long.
Runners Set Up Relay Record

By Mila Piskinski

The goal, according to Albany head track coach Rick Sherry, was to get the record. And that's exactly what Albany tracksters accomplished: the girls' 4x400 relay eclipsed the New York State Union-Indian Outdoor Track record in a recent meet at Springfield.

Amberlyng (the four relay states) for the distance was 4 minute 16.60, making it the new record. The girls were set to complete the relay in the second heat of the meet.

Running a bit more than the 3000 meters, the distance was not unusually fast but it was by far the strongest heat. The distance was divided up as follows:

- Kayla Hennesse (400 meters)
- Jessica Senn (400 meters)
- Stacie Bridge (800 meters)
- Cara Somers (800 meters)

The team finished in fourth place with a time of 3:58.30.

Women Swimmers Finish Season

"On the whole, they did very well," said women's swimming and diving coach Leslie Miller of her team's overall performance. "Although the 12-team season was finished, we still have a lot of work to do in the next few months."
