Unbeaten Danes win four over Stony Brook

By Keith Master

Finally, it was the most important factor in the Danes’ 46-36 victory Thursday afternoon to the Great Danes fell to the host America East foe.

But as usual, when the game comes down to the wire and the outcome is still uncertain, the Danes have got the ball and it’s still in the hands of junior center Ivan "The Terrible" Katz.

"Ivan always comes through," said Sauers. "We always count on him to get us the wins." And he didn’t let them down Thursday, as he scored a season-high 19 points on 9-of-12 shooting.

The Danes (2-0) led for the entire game and never trailed, jumping out to an 11-point lead behind strong play by Hart and Kauppila.

By Marc Berman

But the best was saved for last. Katz went 5-for-7 in the final 1:31 of the game and made two key free throws in the closing seconds to seal the victory.

Katz’s performance was crucial to the Danes’ victory as they held off a late rally by the Patriots.

"I knew we had a good team going into this season," Katz said. "And I knew we could win if we played well."
Worldwide

Clean-up continues in Bhopal

Warren Anderson arrived in India and was prevented from entering the toxic gas leak area by Indian officials. He was shot in the head and body by one of the officials. Anderson was the Union Carbide Corporation chairman and was expected to arrive in India for discussions with the Indian government about the leak.

Reagan to meet Soweto mayor

President Reagan plans to meet Friday with the mayor of Soweto, South Africa's largest black township. The mayor, in New York City, is expected to discuss the South African government's policies and the possibility of American investments in South Africa.

National Taxation

Spokesman for the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees said today, "We are concerned about the increasing number of Americans who are being taxed to the hilt." The union is urging members to join the "Tax Maniacs" movement, which is designed to protest high taxes.

Law extends benefits

A new law has been passed that will extend benefits to the families of workers who have been injured or killed on the job. The law was passed after a series of accidents at a local factory.

Pay hikes proposed

Albany, New York (843-2457)

A study has been conducted by the Albany City Council, which has proposed a 5% pay hike for city employees. The study was conducted after a series of strikes by city workers.

Correction

In the December 4 issue of the Albany Student, a story about a new fee charged by the Albany Music Club was incorrect. The fee was actually charged by the Albany Union Carbide Corporation, not the Albany Music Club.

Panel urges South African divestment

By Lena Weinbergs

A panel of students and faculty members has urged the SUNY System to divest from South Africa. The panel was organized by the Africa Awareness Committee of SUNY.

"There are many reasons to divest from South Africa," said panelist Rich Schaffer. "The apartheid system is immoral, and it is time for the SUNY System to take a stand."
Survey may shed more light on housing crisis

By Jacquie Clark

Thousands of tenants may be forced out of some student-affiliated housing units, the Intercollegiate Athletic Council (IAC) has been told.

"There is no way to avoid it," said President Rob Pipia, who added, "The IAC will have to vote on the matter.

The story began with a report that SUNYA plans to renovate its housing facilities, the city council said. The city will then be forced to take over the college's housing units.

The IAC has yet to make a decision on the matter, but it is possible that the council could vote to purchase the buildings.

The IAC recently had a meeting with SUNYA officials to discuss the matter.

Meanwhile, the SUNYA housing facilities are in desperate need of repair, according to student spokespeople.

"The buildings are old and will be replaced," said SUNYA spokesman John Smith. "We are working with SUNYA to ensure that the new buildings will be adequate for student housing."
Kor:nwski also asked, "What is it coming to say on behalf of the Jews in Russian, who should be the aggressor? Should he be present and maybe, or should he be present?"

"Pros and cons should be weighed," Kor:nowski, adding, "we should consider many situations, which are different." He went on to say that it was important to consider the situation of Jews in Russia and that the United Nations should be aware of the situation.

Current news articles state that there has been an increase in anti-Semitism in Russian society. Kor:nowski is concerned about this and believes that it is important to keep a close eye on the situation.

Lastly, he mentioned that he is looking forward to visiting the Soviet Union and meeting with Russian Jews. He is eager to learn more about their situation and to bring attention to the need for peace in the Middle East.

The continued conflict in the Middle East is a serious concern for the United Nations, and Kor:nowski is determined to do his part in finding a solution. He is a dedicated and passionate leader who is committed to making the world a better place for everyone, regardless of their background or beliefs.
BACCHUS member toasts alcohol awareness

By Christopher Blomquist

Randy Weiss, a SUNYA student, says drunk driving is a dangerous activity that needs to be combated. Weiss began her work of combating drunk driving when she was 12 and her parents were involved in a drunk driving accident. Since then, Weiss has been an active member of BACCHUS (Building Awareness and Concern for Health: University Students), a new campus group which works to raise awareness about the dangers of drunk driving.

"I've always been involved in awareness programs," Weiss said. "I think it's important to do something to prevent drunk driving." Weiss believes that drunk driving is a serious problem on college campuses and she wants to help fight against it.

Weiss, a business major, hopes to get a job in marketing. She has previously worked for a company that produces promotional materials and she is very familiar with the field. Weiss is currently working on a project for the State Quad administration, which involves developing a video program to teach freshmen and sophomores about the dangers of drunk driving.

Weiss believes that the Breathalyzer test is an important tool in preventing drunk driving. She says that the test is easy to use and provides quick results. Weiss also believes that the Breathalyzer test can help prevent drunk drivers from driving.

According to Weiss, approximately 12 drunk drivers are arrested on a daily basis at SUNYA. She believes that alcohol is a big problem on college campuses and she wants to do something about it.

Weiss said that BACCHUS is working to raise awareness about the dangers of drunk driving. "We want to get the message out that drunk driving is dangerous," Weiss said. "We want people to think twice before they drive drunk." Weiss believes that the media can play a big role in raising awareness about drunk driving. She says that the media can help educate people about the dangers of drunk driving and the consequences of drunk driving.

Weiss believes that the BACCHUS program is making a difference. "I think we're doing something to prevent drunk driving," Weiss said. "I think we're making a difference on campus." Weiss wants to continue her work with BACCHUS and she hopes to continue to raise awareness about drunk driving.

Weiss said that she is planning to continue her work with BACCHUS next year. "I want to continue my work with BACCHUS," Weiss said. "I want to do more for the campus and the community." Weiss believes that she has a lot to accomplish and she is committed to doing her best to help prevent drunk driving.

Weiss is an active member of the SUNYA community and she is very committed to her work with BACCHUS. Weiss is a hard worker and she is very determined to do her best. Weiss is a role model for other students and she is very respected by her peers.

Weiss is a hard worker and she is very determined to do her best. Weiss is a role model for other students and she is very respected by her peers. Weiss is a hard worker and she is very determined to do her best. Weiss is a role model for other students and she is very respected by her peers.

Weiss is a hard worker and she is very determined to do her best. Weiss is a role model for other students and she is very respected by her peers. Weiss is a hard worker and she is very determined to do her best. Weiss is a role model for other students and she is very respected by her peers. Weiss is a hard worker and she is very determined to do her best. Weiss is a role model for other students and she is very respected by her peers.
EDITORIAL—
Stop all porn

While men are dancing around the Campus Center Ballroom stripping down in near nudity, the bookstore is coming under pressure to quit selling pornographic magazines. If you think that male strippers are okay, then think again. The fight against pornography must extend to men as well as women.

The effects of male strippers are different from the effects of the pornography they wear. They are not nude, but they are effects of a similar cause. The cause is making male objects of human beings. And until we can all learn a better way of treating each other, we are not ready to accept these transvestites at the cost of genuine fulfillment.

So, those who enjoy dirty magazines and strip shows ask, "what's wrong with superficial pleasure? If I enjoy it, why not indulge?"

Well, you may not realize it, but that magazine you bought in the bookstore last week or the strip show you went to last night has more to it than just a good time.

COLUMN—
Alternative ideas on government

In this, my final column as editor of the student paper, I will again appeal to all alternatives in the traditional conservative and liberal perspectives. The audience I wish to reach will be instructed to consider political ideas such as prayer in school or the abolition of a drug like PCP.

Edward Reines

The bookstore now has existed for quite some time. More recently it has acquired fame as a porn parlor. The major fault of this parlor has been its persistent degradation. A careful balance of dogmatism and pragmatism could turn this bookstore party into an important political force. The constituency definitely exists for these ideas to flourish.

Regrettably this paradigm is quite similar to the current conservative state. It is a mixture of dogmatism and pragmatic.

Throughout this article I have left room for further exploration of policy proposals. To me the Libertarian philosophy offers much, but we should consider the alternatives that are offered by our political spectrum.

Innovation should be explored more fully. For example, the issue of women's role in society is a major one. The emphasis of education should be in the social sciences, in the humanities.

Edward Reines

The libertarian view on education is quite similar to the current conservative state. In school children are taught to be obedient little pigs.

Edward Reines

The belief that all education is the same is not true. Each child must be taught individually.
by David L. Laskin

I was firmly embedded in my lap typewriter, contemplating a sheet of paper which, excepting the heading, Dante's Inferno, was completely blank. Sometimes a blank page can be a very evocative thing—a clearing of mind, a moment of peace. Yet, today, the page was just blank. Really blank. Not just an empty space. It was as if the very essence of ink were driven away by the force of my despair. A blank page can be a nightmare, a source of anxiety. It can also be a blank slate, a canvas waiting to be filled with words.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

I thought about the human condition. I thought about the human condition within the act of writing. I thought about the human condition within the art of storytelling. I thought about the human condition within the craft of literature. I thought about the human condition within the depth of human experience. I thought about the human condition within the breadth of human possibility. I thought about the human condition within the universe of human existence. I thought about the human condition within the cosmos of human potential.

I thought about the blank page, the blank space. I thought about the possibilities. I thought about the power of the pen. I thought about the power of words. I thought about the power of imagination. I thought about the power of the mind. I thought about the power of the soul. I thought about the power of the spirit. I thought about the power of the human condition.

by David L. L. Laskin

I was firmly embedded in my lazy-boy, contemplating a sheet of paper which, excepting the heading, "Dave's Inferno," was completely blank. Sometimes a blank page can be a very soothing thing: it's clean, neat, yet anticipating a wondering rash of print.

Not this one. This particular page gaped at me in defiance, complete emptiness which seemed to protest a lack of its very own.

Each line became a searing indictment of my inability to fill it. And every second spent agonizing over the paper I should have been writing, felt like a wasted, foretasting eternity.

"Who are you?" the page seemed to taunt. "Judge over good and evil, sin and suffering? You're no genius, no visionary, the ideal of perfect sight and sitting right angles beyond your Hippocratic horizon. You are ultimately a pompous ass like any human, and your ideas are nothing but pretentious, jejune drivel which will fall to pieces at even the slightest encounter with reality. Give it up!"

Wretched with despair, I could sense the entire mode of my intellectual potential collapsing, spiraling downwards into an abyss of radical worthlessness. More particularly, I needed a beer. The closer I came to the heading "Dave's Inferno," was contemplation of a sheet of paper which, excepting the blank sections, was bearing a large, bright-red "F.

Several inches beyond my outstretched leg rest, stark and lifeless, stood the Master himself — Rod Serling.

"Look, you need someone to guide you through Dante's Inferno. Get any better candidates?"

"Let's catch up with them."

We followed the gate at the foot of the cliff, shuddering at every step as we crossed the infernal regions of hell, and to the spiritual values you are trying to actualize. Got any better candidates? Good, Serling!"

"If there is one thing I believe absolutely it is that human beings can neither receive nor give what is absolutely true of a great deal of transcendental certainty and I can not, therefore, be without the alibi of that kind of objectification. To judge reified, of any of these men, may well be the most severe judgment. The only way to judge a person is to feel yourself off from these elements of intellect, emotion, memory and personality who live in those who are willing to exchange everything which we think of as being the essential ground of human existence into absolute darkness. It just seems to me that elements of intellect, emotion, memory and personality.

I hate to be pushy, but, I've got a lot of problems with this whole limbo scene.

"I caught myself on the brink of a philosophical trap. The prestige of the great poet thrust itself upon me with an arm's length among other commentators. I recall, after all, passing through one of the great works of literature, and discovering that said text could be said to be a book of pomposity. At least, being an outside observer, some of the characters within it were able to bear me, no offense could be transtended. I feel a

Several inches beyond my outstretched leg rest, stark and lifeless, stood the Master himself — Rod Serling.

"If you continually strive to objectify the phenomena of being, you will ultimately seek all the joy and wonder out of being, human.

"He is taking a direction I can not agree with. He knew I meant it all earnestly, and he

"Do — to deconstruct Dante's idea of Hell so that I might discover my own. But I did feel

"I hate to be pushy, but, I've got a lot of problems with this whole limbo scene.

"I was firmly embedded in my lazy-boy, contemplating a sheet of paper which, excepting the heading, "Dave's Inferno," was completely blank. Sometimes a blank page can be a very soothing thing: it's clean, neat, yet anticipating a wondering rash of print.

"Who are you?" the page seemed to taunt. "Judge over good and evil, sin and suffering? You're no genius, no visionary, the ideal of perfect sight and sitting right angles beyond your Hippocratic horizon. You are ultimately a pompous ass like any human, and your ideas are nothing but pretentious, jejune drivel which will fall to pieces at even the slightest encounter with reality. Give it up!"

Wretched with despair, I could sense the entire mode of my intellectual potential collapsing, spiraling downwards into an abyss of radical worthlessness. More particularly, I needed a beer. The closer I came to the heading "Dave's Inferno," was contemplation of a sheet of paper which, excepting the blank sections, was bearing a large, bright-red "F.

Several inches beyond my outstretched leg rest, stark and lifeless, stood the Master himself — Rod Serling.

"Look, you need someone to guide you through Dante's Inferno. Get any better candidates?"

"Let's catch up with them."

We followed the gate at the foot of the cliff, shuddering at every step as we crossed the infernal regions of hell, and to the spiritual values you are trying to actualize. Got any better candidates? Good, Serling!"

"If there is one thing I believe absolutely it is that human beings can neither receive nor give what is absolutely true of a great deal of transcendental certainty and I can not, therefore, be without the alibi of that kind of objectification. To judge reified, of any of these men, may well be the most severe judgment. The only way to judge a person is to feel yourself off from these elements of intellect, emotion, memory and personality who live in those who are willing to exchange everything which we think of as being the essential ground of human existence into absolute darkness. It just seems to me that elements of intellect, emotion, memory and personality.

I hate to be pushy, but, I've got a lot of problems with this whole limbo scene.

"I caught myself on the brink of a philosophical trap. The prestige of the great poet thrust itself upon me with an arm's length among other commentators. I recall, after all, passing through one of the great works of literature, and discovering that said text could be said to be a book of pomposity. At least, being an outside observer, some of the characters within it were able to bear me, no offense could be transtended. I feel a

Several inches beyond my outstretched leg rest, stark and lifeless, stood the Master himself — Rod Serling.

"If you continually strive to objectify the phenomena of being, you will ultimately seek all the joy and wonder out of being, human.

"He is taking a direction I can not agree with. He knew I meant it all earnestly, and he

"Do — to deconstruct Dante's idea of Hell so that I might discover my own. But I did feel

"I hate to be pushy, but, I've got a lot of problems with this whole limbo scene.

"I caught myself on the brink of a philosophical trap. The prestige of the great poet thrust itself upon me with an arm's length among other commentators. I recall, after all, passing through one of the great works of literature, and discovering that said text could be said to be a book of pomposity. At least, being an outside observer, some of the characters within it were able to bear me, no offense could be transtended. I feel a

Several inches beyond my outstretched leg rest, stark and lifeless, stood the Master himself — Rod Serling.

"If you continually strive to objectify the phenomena of being, you will ultimately seek all the joy and wonder out of being, human.

"He is taking a direction I can not agree with. He knew I meant it all earnestly, and he

"Do — to deconstruct Dante's idea of Hell so that I might discover my own. But I did feel

"I hate to be pushy, but, I've got a lot of problems with this whole limbo scene.

"I caught myself on the brink of a philosophical trap. The prestige of the great poet thrust itself upon me with an arm's length among other commentators. I recall, after all, passing through one of the great works of literature, and discovering that said text could be said to be a book of pomposity. At least, being an outside observer, some of the characters within it were able to bear me, no offense could be transtended. I feel a

Several inches beyond my outstretched leg rest, stark and lifeless, stood the Master himself — Rod Serling.

"If you continually strive to objectify the phenomena of being, you will ultimately seek all the joy and wonder out of being, human.

"He is taking a direction I can not agree with. He knew I meant it all earnestly, and he

"Do — to deconstruct Dante's idea of Hell so that I might discover my own. But I did feel

"I hate to be pushy, but, I've got a lot of problems with this whole limbo scene.

"I caught myself on the brink of a philosophical trap. The prestige of the great poet thrust itself upon me with an arm's length among other commentators. I recall, after all, passing through one of the great works of literature, and discovering that said text could be said to be a book of pomposity. At least, being an outside observer, some of the characters within it were able to bear me, no offense could be transtended. I feel a
Shadowfax At Troy: A Review

With the fresh scent of the fall, the audience gathered for Shadowfax's performance last Monday night at the Troy Savings Bank Music Hall. Their setlist included a mix of live versions of previously released songs along with several new numbers. The band's unique combination of acoustic and electric instruments, along with their harmonious vocal blend, created a captivating atmosphere that had the audience thoroughly engaged. Shadowfax's musicianship was on full display, showcasing their ability to blend traditional folk rock with contemporary music.

Ruth Young

Brightside opened their performance with their popular version of the song "Dreams of Children". Their energetic set drew the crowd in, setting the stage for Shadowfax's performance. Brightside's lead singer, Koenig, was particularly impressive, displaying a strong vocal range and expressive musicianship.

When the set began, the audience was immediately captivated by Shadowfax's dynamic stage presence and intricate musical arrangements. Their fusion of traditional folk elements with modern rock influences created a unique and compelling sound. The band's ability to engage and entertain the crowd was evident throughout the performance.

Shadowfax's setlist included a variety of songs from their latest album, "The Promise of a New Day". The band's成员 demonstrated exceptional musicality and coordination, seamlessly transitioning from one song to the next. Their technical skill and vibrant energy kept the audience entertained throughout the entire performance.

Shadowfax's performance was a testament to their talent and dedication to their craft. Their ability to connect with the audience on a deep and emotional level was clearly evident, making for a truly memorable evening of music.

The crowd was left in awe as Shadowfax concluded their set. The applause was deafening, with many members of the audience shouting and cheering as the band exited the stage. The atmosphere was electric, with everyone eager to hear more from this talented group.

A highlight of the performance was Shadowfax's rendition of their song "The Promise of a New Day". The band's members displayed exceptional harmony and technical skill, which were praised by the audience. Their passion and dedication to their craft were evident in every note they played.

In conclusion, Shadowfax's performance at the Troy Savings Bank Music Hall was a triumph. The band's unique blend of traditional and contemporary elements, along with their exceptional musicianship, made for an unforgettable evening of music. Their ability to engage and entertain the audience made for a truly memorable experience, and their talent and dedication to their craft were clearly on display. The audience was left in awe, with many expressing their desire to hear more from this talented group in the future.
LETTERS
Absurd actions
To the Editor:
I have been at the recent scenes; the activities at the University of Albany show how insatiable the students are for anarchy and chaos. The students have created a new,iset of rules and have refused to follow them. The recent protests have caused a great deal of disruption and have interfered with the normal op‐oration of the university. I am extremely disappointed in the behavior of these students and hope that they will learn to respect the lawful authorities that govern the university.
Yours truly,
[Signature]

Band-aid solutions
To the Editor:
I have been experiencing some frustration with the current band-aid solutions that are being used to address the issues facing our society. The problems we are facing are much more complex than these solutions can address. I believe that we need to take a more comprehensive approach to address these issues and work towards a more sustainable future. I urge everyone to join in the effort to create real change and to work towards a better world.
Yours truly,
[Signature]
Annual Editor in Chief Election

The Editor in Chief is responsible for the editorial policy and day to day operation of the Albany Student Press, and serves as chief spokesperson of the ASP to the university and community.

All candidates must be full-time undergraduate students at the State University of New York at Albany.

The Editor in Chief is elected by majority vote of the Editorial Board and all associate editors and managers.

All interested students are invited to submit letters of self-nomination to Jerry Campione, Managing Editor. Letters must be submitted by Saturday, December 8.

The election will be held

Sunday, December 9 at 7:30 pm in the ASP newsroom, CC 329.
A Holiday For All Ages
ONE STOP SHOPPING FOR ALL YOUR GIFTS

PAGE ONE
Major Events
1:00 to 180 on Father's Day. The Albanian Festivals and the Art and Craft Show are available. All stores feature unique one-of-a-kind gifts. Visit the main floor and enjoy the festive atmosphere.

THE GREAT GEOGRAPHICAL ATLAS
By Peter Gay. The second, deluxe edition of a massive (almost 4” thick, 10 pounds worth of information), maps, thousands of b&w illustrations, and easy-to-read type. The truth is that EOP students are achieving the same degree of success as others, and remaining in college when requested. The truth is that EOP students are achieving the same degree
of success as others, and
remaining in college when requested.

GAMES MONOPOLY
SCRABBLE
TRIVIAL PURSUITS
WITH BABY BOOMER
AND SPORTS CARDS

WEBSTER'S NEW UNIVERSAL UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY

PAGE TWO

BARNES & NOBLE
HEAVY-DUTY TOTE & BARREL BAGS

THE COLUMBA HISTORY OF THE WORLD

A Service of Barnes & Noble
Our Shoes Will Carry You
Down The Road To Success

People judge you by the way you look. That's why to succeed in this world we've got to look the part. Florsheim Shoe Shops can help you achieve success in everything you do. Whether it's for an upcoming job interview, your first job interview, on campus, on the town, or on the job, your quality, your looks aren't everything. They're a pair of Pro-Action® shoes. We'll help you put the winning look together.

Looks aren't everything. Florsheim quality isn't something you see. It's how they feel on your feet. Whether you're a pair of Pro-Action® shoes, Florsheim classic penny loafers, dress boots, or boots, they'll be comfortable. And Florsheim quality means you get a pair of shoes that lasts a long time. That's why top salesmen choose Florsheim, the best value.

Pushy salesmen?
You won't find them in a Florsheim Shoe Shop. That's because we believe that quality salesmanship is just as important as quality shoes. Our salespeople are trained to help you pick the shoes you want. Just ask. If you have any questions, like which pair of dress shoes matches your suit, just ask. Our salespeople are trained to help you pick the winning look together.

Quality is the key to success and the key to winning. If something doesn't feel right on your foot, it's not the shoes for you. Come into a Florsheim Shoe Shop today and find out how we can help you down the road to success in everything you do.

For reading this ad and trying on a pair of shoes, Florsheim Shoe Shops has a free gift for you. But don't cut the coupon below. Bring it to your Florsheim Shoe Shop and try on any pair of Florsheim or Pro-Action® shoes. We'll give you a free Pro-Action® duffle bag. Supplies are limited, so hurry in.

FLORSHEIM SHOE SHOPS
MAIL OR PHONE ORDER CALL 440-9198
Crossgates Mall
Albany, N.Y.
American Express and most major credit cards welcome.

For a Special Holiday Surprise.
add a...

TOUCH OF CLASS
STRIP-A-GRAM
Ask for our gift at 7:00-9:00 PM or call 440-9198 and figure your order and place on.

During Our Special Holiday Surprise.

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION & CULTURE, W.E.O.
THE NINETEENTH SUMMER ACADEMIC PROGRAM
ISRAEL

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1984
ALBANY STUDENT PRESS 18

People judge you by the way you look. That's why to succeed in this world we've got to look the part. Florsheim Shoe Shops can help you achieve success in everything you do. Whether it's for an upcoming job interview, your first job interview, on campus, on the town, or on the job, your quality, your looks aren't everything. They're a pair of Pro-Action® shoes. We'll help you put the winning look together.

Looks aren't everything. Florsheim quality isn't something you see. It's how they feel on your feet. Whether you're a pair of Pro-Action® shoes, Florsheim classic penny loafers, dress boots, or boots, they'll be comfortable. And Florsheim quality means you get a pair of shoes that lasts a long time. That's why top salesmen choose Florsheim, the best value.

Pushy salesmen?
You won't find them in a Florsheim Shoe Shop. That's because we believe that quality salesmanship is just as important as quality shoes. Our salespeople are trained to help you pick the shoes you want. Just ask. If you have any questions, like which pair of dress shoes matches your suit, just ask. Our salespeople are trained to help you pick the winning look together.

Quality is the key to success and the key to winning. If something doesn't feel right on your foot, it's not the shoes for you. Come into a Florsheim Shoe Shop today and find out how we can help you down the road to success in everything you do.

For reading this ad and trying on a pair of shoes, Florsheim Shoe Shops has a free gift for you. But don't cut the coupon below. Bring it to your Florsheim Shoe Shop and try on any pair of Florsheim or Pro-Action® shoes. We'll give you a free Pro-Action® duffle bag. Supplies are limited, so hurry in.

FLORSHEIM SHOE SHOPS
MAIL OR PHONE ORDER CALL 440-9198
Crossgates Mall
Albany, N.Y.
American Express and most major credit cards welcome.

For a Special Holiday Surprise.
add a...

TOUCH OF CLASS
STRIP-A-GRAM
Ask for our gift at 7:00-9:00 PM or call 440-9198 and figure your order and place on.
Sports Briefs

Upcoming events

The undefeated Albany State men's basketball team will move on to Philadelphia for a Big South Conference game against the Campbell Camels. The men's basketball team will also face Davidson at UAlbany Convocation Center on February 5. The women's basketball team will face Wagner at the two-day tournament in Connecticut. The J.V. basketball team will also face the Columbus College of Art & Design on December 10.

Hockey club

The Albany State hockey club that was released from its first loss of the season when it took on Le Moyne College on Tuesday night. The men's hockey team will host the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Friday night. The J.V. hockey team will also face the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Saturday night.

Women swimmers top RPI

Mary Anne Schmidt nailed first place in the 50-yard freestyle with 27.1. Nancy
Smith's 6:06.4 in the 500-yard freestyle was also good enough for first place.

Sports Briefs

Upcoming events

The undefeated Albany State men's basketball team will move on to Philadelphia for a Big South Conference game against the Campbell Camels. The men's basketball team will also face Davidson at UAlbany Convocation Center on February 5. The women's basketball team will face Wagner at the two-day tournament in Connecticut. The J.V. basketball team will also face
the Columbus College of Art & Design on December 10.

Hockey club

The Albany State hockey club that was released from its first loss of the season when it took on Le Moyne College on Tuesday night. The men's hockey team will host the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Friday night. The J.V. hockey team will also face
the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Saturday night.

Women swimmers top RPI

Mary Anne Schmidt nailed first place in the 50-yard freestyle with 27.1. Nancy
Smith's 6:06.4 in the 500-yard freestyle was also good enough for first place.

Sports Briefs

Upcoming events

The undefeated Albany State men's basketball team will move on to Philadelphia for a Big South Conference game against the Campbell Camels. The men's basketball team will also face Davidson at UAlbany Convocation Center on February 5. The women's basketball team will face Wagner at the two-day tournament in Connecticut. The J.V. basketball team will also face
the Columbus College of Art & Design on December 10.

Hockey club

The Albany State hockey club that was released from its first loss of the season when it took on Le Moyne College on Tuesday night. The men's hockey team will host the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Friday night. The J.V. hockey team will also face
the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Saturday night.

Women swimmers top RPI

Mary Anne Schmidt nailed first place in the 50-yard freestyle with 27.1. Nancy
Smith's 6:06.4 in the 500-yard freestyle was also good enough for first place.

Sports Briefs

Upcoming events

The undefeated Albany State men's basketball team will move on to Philadelphia for a Big South Conference game against the Campbell Camels. The men's basketball team will also face Davidson at UAlbany Convocation Center on February 5. The women's basketball team will face Wagner at the two-day tournament in Connecticut. The J.V. basketball team will also face
the Columbus College of Art & Design on December 10.

Hockey club

The Albany State hockey club that was released from its first loss of the season when it took on Le Moyne College on Tuesday night. The men's hockey team will host the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Friday night. The J.V. hockey team will also face
the University of Pittsburgh in Connecticut on Saturday night.

Women swimmers top RPI

Mary Anne Schmidt nailed first place in the 50-yard freestyle with 27.1. Nancy
Smith's 6:06.4 in the 500-yard freestyle was also good enough for first place.
Sports Friday

Danes slay Red Dragons, raise record to 5-0

By Dean Chang

Allen Scott were harassing Dane...gave the Danes a 13-point lead this occasion, Croutier get the throw to give Albany a nine-point steal and Croutier dribbled Jan Zadoorian and got almost im- substituted Chapman and Brian full-court trap, Dave Adam Kauppila in for Pete Gosule and their fifth win, 74-59.

The women won the game, 84-48.

Cortland's Dave Wilson and their fifth win, 74-59.

The women won the game, 84-48.

Cortland's Dave Wilson and their fifth win, 74-59.

The women won the game, 84-48.

Cortland's Dave Wilson and their fifth win, 74-59.

The women won the game, 84-48.

Cortland's Dave Wilson and their fifth win, 74-59.