Common-Staters

By COMMUNICATIONS EDITOR

I have been told that the idea has come to certain destinations and that it is really a good idea. The idea is that we can all use some common-staters to help us communicate. If you have any ideas or suggestions, please let me know.

Communication

They are not the only ones who want to see this system implemented. Many others have been working on similar ideas and are looking forward to Monday, when others will be able to try it out.

There is still another group. These are the ones who, by some means, have recognized the servant as the champion. Although they dislike the harsh and thoughtless attitude of the others, they will submit to it. I am convinced that this group will become a part of the monster by February, ready to destroy the world in the hands of their enemies. These girls will not make a choice between courage and safety; they will have made a choice between justice and safety. Those of us who do not choose will be destroyed, but we will have made the right choice. This is not just a matter of personal principle, but it is also a matter of self-protection. We must be ready to destroy a murderer when we regard it as unjust. We must be ready to destroy a murderer when we regard it as an enemy. All we can do is warn, warn, warn, warn, until the day when we are no longer needed.

Common-Staters

By COMMUNICATIONS EDITOR

We wish that people from whom we are getting good and bad news can be counted on to help us. We want to make sure we are not being misled by the latest election commission. The society's election commission is a branch of the student government and it is their job to ensure that the election is fair. They will consider the complaints of the candidates and see that rules are followed.

PRO AND CON

How the stars got started

LIZA FRIEDMAN

How the stars got started is one of the things you have to learn. If you don't learn how stars get started, you can never be a star. How the stars got started is by studying the history of the universe. There are many different theories about how stars get started, but the most widely accepted is the Big Bang theory. According to this theory, the universe began about 13.8 billion years ago with a massive explosion called the Big Bang. This explosion created the universe as we know it today. The stars were formed from the hot, dense gas that filled the universe after the Big Bang. Over time, this gas cooled and collapsed under its own gravity, forming the first stars and galaxies.

Pi Omega Pi, Honor Fraternity, Initiates Students

The Ceremony of Installation for the new initiates of the Pi Omega Pi, the national honor fraternity, will take place tonight in the Union Lounge. The ceremony will begin at 7 p.m., with Dr. Charles W. Ralston, professor of history, presiding. The installation will be followed by a reception in the Union Lounge.

As part of the ceremony, Dr. Ralston will present certificates to the new initiates, recognizing their academic achievements and contributions to the university community.

Local Faculty Honors Students

The faculty and administration of the university have met the qualifications. Both members this Thursday evening at the Guild will deliver addresses. The full meaning of the lines was good, there was no need for us to read, and come to the conclusion of the speech. Miss Barrett. Her accent came across extremely well. It seemed to us that neither of them had been moved as we expected, but the full meaning of the lines were delivered. It is clear for the part.
