NEW MYSKANIA PRESIDENT ELECTS STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Professor Risley Elected to Financial Board

Student assembly was opened Friday afternoon with the singing of Alma Mater, led by Elizabeth Archbold, '20. George Schuhmacher, President of the Senior class, welcomed the freshmen for Myskania, the Students and the student body. He gave a brief explanation of Myskania and its role and assistance in the entering class.

The subject of the Financial Board was the election of members for the fall. The entire constitution was read and accepted as amended. Professor Risley was elected by vote of the student body for Faculty member of the Student Board of Finance.

The interval during counting of hobbes, which were used to good advantage in the practice of college songs. Notices were given for class meetings.

G. A. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Harriet W. Cooper, President

At a meeting of the Sophomore class Thursday at the lunch hour, Alexander Levitt was unanimously elected as82nd member of the Student Board of Finance.

MISS JONES ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CORNELL ALUMNI OF ALBANY

The Cornell Alumni of Albany had their annual meeting last Thursday evening at the home of Miss Anna Keyser, in Christian Street. Miss Gertrude Martin, formerly Advisor of Women at Cornell University and now Secretary of the Associated Alumni of the American Women in the United States.

The following officers were elected:

President, Miss Jane Louise Foster; Vice-President, Miss June Kliffenberg; Treasurer, Miss Vera Thompson; Secretary, Miss Fanny Hartmann; Miss Jones, who is supervisor of the tennis teaching and an instructor of English, was graduated from Cornell 1922. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

ANOTHER SERVICE MAN TO RETURN

C. H. K. Murray, who is a graduate of State College and who has had a broad experience in newspaper work, is the instructor. The course as outlined promises to be of great practical value. Analysis and criticism of different newspaper styles, actual practice in news reporting, and exercise in the writing of all types of newspaper stories, embody the scope of the work. Plans have been made to have some of the leading newspapermen in the State address the class from time to time during the year.

The course has already been sent by the class to two publications—"The School Bulletin" and "The School Journal."

STATE COLLEGE NEWS, OCTOBER 2, 1919

BASEBALL PRACTICE

Coach Clarke has started "the ball rolling." Last Tuesday afternoon was the first practice. Because of classes some baseball enthusiasts could not come, and yet there were several from each of the classes. There were men for every position and all were eager to get after the ball. The Coach knocked off drills and grounders to the men, and gave them a field and outfield a lively workout. A time will be arranged when each player in the line will have a free period. Then, everybody out! The greater the competition for places the better our team will be next spring.

HOME ECONOMICS

The department is giving the services of the Junior Class to the Albany Gas Company. Helen Scott, '21, Dorothy Tempel, '21, Dorothy Horne, '21, and Mildred Veller, '20, are conducting classes in Cooking and Scouring there.

Hazel Brumme, '20, and Emily Hamilton, '20, are teaching classes in Cooking and Mealhay at the city Kitchen.

The Practice House has been bound to the College V.V. C. and the College House. The students will resume work in the house Monday, October 6th.

The department, through the Stewards, opened a wedding luncheon at today's dinner, Thursday, September 30th. The preparations were under the direction of Miss Wilson. The dressmaker and the workroom at the Central Avenue are now open to patrons.

Students desire work done in all the various lines of the department. Orders may be left at the door, or M. W. M., or may be telephoned to Miss Tempepe, West 240.

The department welcomes Miss Steele who has just returned from England, where she has been speaking the summer at her sister's home. Miss Steele was sent to England as a representative of the International Home Economics Association to investigate the possibilities of affiliation between the home economics of America and England. This project to improve the conditions and its development will give the women an opportunity to assist in the desired establishment of friendly relationships between the two countries.

Miss Steele visited many rural and city schools and observed Cooking,Dairying and Home management work in elementary schools. She also investigated public canneries and national kitchen. Miss Steele found the classes for nutrition girls of particular interest. This work is one of England's great projects in reconstruction.

G. A. A. Elects Officers

OCTOBER 10—IN GYM.

This is G. A. A.'s special welcome to you and we guarantee that all will enjoy the "eat," basketball game and other fun.

Perhaps you would like to know just what G. A. A. stands for. The officers—sides, girls, and frisbees, this organization governs all athletic events, namely, basketball games, tennis tournaments, volleyball and frisbees, not to overlook the Soph-Fresh Meet. Ask your Junior sister to describe for you the decision-making, friendship, games, the thrillers of the moment.

She will also tell you to get into form so as to defeat the Sophs in the annual meet.

Watch the bulletin board and sign up!

MISS TAFT FOR A STRIKE

Advises College Professors to Form a Union and Get More Pay.

Miss Helen Taft, Acting President of Bryn Mawr College, declared in an address before the Alumni Convention in the Bryn Mawr campaign for $1,000,000 to increase Faculty remuneration, that she wished the professors of the country would organize a union and strike for higher salaries.

She said they had a better case than the ministerialists, Miss Taft holds that the Faculty of Bryn Mawr and other colleges are taking the most reasonable way possible to press their claims. She believed they are justified in refusing to serve the country. Miss Taft pointed out that she would not object to strike as a college executive because she believed it would not be a strike against the college executives, the college, its directors or trustees, but against the public, which ought to be made to pay for its education.

Save until it becomes a habit. Buying W. S. S. is the answer.
LOST AND FOUND

Perhaps some new students may be wondering about the purpose of that padlocked box attached to the wall of the “News” office just above the mail box. It’s a strong looking box and has a wide slit in the closed top.

In this box are to be placed articles found by students or faculty. Each day, during the lunch period, the member of the faculty who has charge of the box will be in the near vicinity. The person in charge this year is Van Lobell.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Two new courses are being offered by the Physical Education Department this year. The courses are Aerobics, which comes on Tuesday and Thursday, and the Nature and Function of Play and Recreation, which also is given on Tuesday and Thursday.

The Department is greatly encouraged by the registration in TA (Personal Practice). There are to be regular weekly hikes for the women students of the college on Saturday afternoon. Notices of the time and place for each hike will be given in advance on the Bulletin Board.

Miss Bennett announces that a swimming class for women students will be organized very soon. The class will meet one night each week in the city Y. W. C. A. Regular work for P. E. majors starts Wednesday, October 1st.

Dr. Crosswhite advises the students to make the best of these fine autumn days, and get as much outdoor exercise as possible.

CLASS DAYS

Seniors to Present First Program

Some two years ago the custom was started of devoting four Friday assembly periods to programs presented by the various classes. This plan worked out very favorably and was to have been followed out again last year, but the “flu” caused a delay of live weeks, so the attempt was not possible.

In the near future the first Class Day this year will be held. The Seniors will give the first program, then the Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen at intervals of perhaps four weeks. No definite date for any of these programs has as yet been set.

Much competition for the best program ensued when assembly mornings were before devoted to the various classes, and we hope to revive this custom in all its former pop and popularity.

Each class has an opportunity to furnish entertainment to the whole student body during a whole assembly period. Programs of music, speeches, dances, and plays are possible.

It is not definitely remembered that a formal decision was granted concerning the excellence of the competing units, but we know the Freshmen received much favor and applause.

SMILES

What He Really Needed

“My troubles are all right when I come to think of it,” said a patient to his doctor. “Don’t you think I need stronger glasses?”

The optometrist looked at the man closely. “No,” he said, “I don’t think you need any stronger glasses so much as you need fewer glasses.”

Wouldn’t Be Missed

“May I get off this afternoon?” asked a boy of his employer on a sunny spring day. “I want to go to my aunt’s funeral.”

“No,” said the employer, “I can’t let you go, and I don’t think you will be missed, for the last time your aunt had a funeral there were all of fifteen thousand people there.”

Mark Twain on the Move

When Mark Twain was a young and struggling newspaper writer in San Francisco a lady of his acquaintance saw him one day with a cigar box under his arm, looking in a shop window.

“Mr. Clemens,” she said, “I always see you with a cigar box under your arm. I am afraid you are smoking too much.”

“It isn’t that,” said Mark. “I’m moving again.”

How It Could Have a Seaport

The folks of Savannah, Georgia, do not like what they call the “bluster” of Atlanta, Georgia, about their town.

At a businessmen’s meeting in Atlanta there was under discussion an arrangement with the railroads that allowed merchandise to be shipped to and from that inland city on a through bill of lading. There was much joyous declaration, and one orator explained in enthusiastic periods that Atlanta was now the equivalent of a seaport and able to cope with all rivals.

At this the Savannah man, whose native city is the real seaport of Georgia, arose and said with some asperity: “If you Atlanta people would lay a pipe line to the sea and then seek as hard as you blow, you’d be a real seaport in no time at all.”

Not a Bit Afraid

“Tell me, Mr. Croswell,” asked a boy of his employer on a sunny spring day, “Do you think I’m afraid to work?”

“No, Father, that isn’t exactly true,” said the son. “I want to tell you that I’m not afraid of it by lying down right beside it and going to sleep.”

What He Really Wanted

A small boy went inside a store and displayed a sign, “Boy Wanted.”

“What kind of boy does yer want?” asked the merchant.

“A small boy, one point,” said the boy. “And the similarity or dissimilarity between your country and ours on one point. Does the butterfly because the tomato can’t?”

The Bishop laughed heartily at this vivacious sally.

Not so a young Englishman of his party, who, after dinner, sought his host. “I want to know, you know,” said he, “about that joke of Miss P’s. She asked if the butter flew because the tomatoes could. Do tell me what the point is.”

He Couldn’t See It

At dinner an American woman sitting near the Bishop of London said to him: “Bishop, I wish you would set my mind at rest as to the similarity or dissimilarity between your country and ours on one point. Does the butterfly because the tomato can’t?”

The Bishop laughed heartily at this vivacious sally.

Not so a young Englishman of his party, who, after dinner, sought his host. “I want to know, you know,” said he, “about that joke of Miss P’s. She asked if the butter flew because the tomatoes could. Do tell me what the point is.”
