The prompt and business-like way in which the student finance board has acted in the News' open letter of last week is another guarantee that a new record for tax collection is going to be set in the near future. The News will have the full moral support of the students in this work. It is well for the student and for the college as a whole that the matter is being handled in this manner.

The joint meeting of the student board and the faculty meeting will be held in Room 160 on Tuesday evening, October 24th, at 8:00 o'clock. All members of said committee are requested to be present.

The News does not necessarily endorse candidates expressed in comments of the personal and social integrity of those who are elected.

The News is very much in favor of the committee mentioned in last week's News. By the way, if you have not read your News of last week, get a copy and review that editorial carefully. It is well worth your while. It is intended to create several more offices to catch the inefficient ones we already have so much machinery here now that the place is finished, the surplus time will be at the disposal of the students either for amusement or for singing and cheering.

ESSENTIAL TO VOTE ELECTION DAY

Political Science Campaign to Precede Mock Balloting, Miss Gunn Says

"Political Science club will conduct a general election campaign which will be held next week. The purpose of the campaign is to educate the students in the tactics of mock elections. The campaign will be conducted by the Political Science club, under the direction of Professor G. W. H. Gunn, chairman of the political science department.

The campaign will consist of a series of meetings, each of which will be conducted by a member of the political science faculty. The meetings will be held in rooms 101 and 102 of the academic building.

The meetings will be open to all members of the student body, and all students are encouraged to attend.

The campaign will conclude with a mock election on November 2, at which time the students will be given the opportunity to vote on a variety of issues.

Your vote is important, and we urge you to attend the campaign meetings and to vote on November 2.

W. T. COPE, political science student, and chairman of the campaign, said: "We are conducting this campaign to educate the students in the tactics of political campaigns. We believe that the students should be informed on the issues and the candidates, and that they should be encouraged to vote."
