We have many things to be thankful for here at State College. Not the least of these is the Inter-Fraternity Council and the role which this organization has played for the fraternity founding period.

The IFC has been a direct and indirect factor in the growth and development of the campus community. From the earliest days, the council has worked to improve relations between the various chapters and the student body as a whole. Through its efforts, the organization has helped to establish a tradition of cooperation and mutual respect among its members.

One Man's Opinion

Next Wednesday night the Student Senate will vote on a bill to appropriate $20,000 for the operation of the College Camp. It is my contention that the wrong people are asking on this issue. Student Senate has not represented the student body in the past two years. It is their responsibility to inform the student body of what is going on, to try to determine the wishes of the students. It would not be the next step in the right direction for the Senate to organize, but we have seen neither of these.

One of the important inducements to be presented to the students as a referendum vote is that the College Camp would not endanger their welfare or that of the student body. This argument is made by some members of the College Camp. According to high school in Student Government, this argument is not true. The College Camp will defend it because it costs too much money and they don't know enough about the bill. I say, in conclusion, that Senate is the fault for not reaching the student body.

A letter was then read from Ply

One man's opinion will be divided by the entire school not by 20 students.

Editor's Note: All editors and half-line stories appearing in this paper are the opinions of the writers and are not necessarily the opinions of the entire News Board.

The question is not how the freshmen have found out that many of the other schools are on the same page of SINDAY, as ALI, THE LORD'S DAY, or OUR LORD'S DAY.

Hamilton Discusses University, Family, School, College Football

By DAVID FELDMAN

Monday afternoon I listened with Dr. Thomas Hale Hamilton, the President of the State University. He is a modern, though not modernistic, office at Tallow Terrace. We discussed such subjects as his scholastic background, his family, his views on the college football.

Anyhow, I wouldn't want to charge nothin'

I always start my letters this way. However, in true State College fashion the office in the Page Building is as follows: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, and holidays, 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. And the office door is always open.

Absences

The following is a list of students who are absent from school this week. They will be in school next week:

President of the State University.

Dr. Hamilton told me that the study of the colleges and universities is a matter of the teachers' self respect. He said that the public university, even more than the privately endowed one, should have a symbiotic rather than parasitic relationship with the society. To be a good teacher, he said, is to forget his service to his neighbor.
