FRESHERMAN LEAD, 8-3, IN INTERCLASS RACE

When the freshmen class debate team won a unanimous decision from the sophomore team in the auditorium Friday, in a new point in the interclass rivalry, it came as a surprise to many.

The freshmen team, which upheld the negative side of the question, presented a successful argument with great strength.

The sophomore team was evenly divided, however, in the negative argument.

In the freshwomen's debate, the team won by the same score, 8-3.

One of the freshwomen, who was selected by the debate council, was chairing the debate.

Debate teams were fair in the construction of their arguments.

Schneider, 29, and James, 30, was the affirmative team.
