The most significant feature of the Moving-Up Day exercises was the dedication of the tree memorial for State College and its heroes and heroines. Dr. Brubacher, as chairman of the exercises, introduced the speakers, Dr. Richardson and Edith Richardson.

Dr. Richardson gave the dedicatory address. He spoke as follows:

"We have passed for a few moments in the special exercises of the day to recognize in thought the sorrows and consecration of Memorial Day. For this day is near at hand. The day on which a national nation recalls and honors the memory of all those who laid down their lives in defense of their country."

"State College claims a share in the fitting tribute thus offered to their memory, for it recalls to us all those who fell during the Civil War and whose names are inscribed on the bronze tablet in the hall, but more especially at this time it recalls those other heroes who were recently went from us and offered."

"PRUNELLA"

On Saturday evening, May 29, the Dramatics class, under the direction of Miss Agnes Fullerer, presented the play, "PRUNELLA." The lighting effects were produced by students from the Manual Arts department. The stage setting was furnished by people from the Home Economics department. The incidental music during the acts was furnished by Miss Katherine Hinton. The College orchestra played between the acts.

The first scene showed the home of Prunella and her three aunts, Miss Margaret Markham, Miss Margaret Reuning, Miss Mae DeRitter, and Miss Florence Smith; Quaint, Miss Elsie Raymond; Cecil, Lillian Johnson; Anna Vavasour; Omar, Miss Helen Goldberg; Om' er, Miss Helen J. Booth as Love could hardly be distinguished from a real flower. The lighting effects were produced by people from the Home Economics department. The stage setting was furnished by people from the Manual Arts department. The incidental music during the acts was furnished by Miss Katherine Hinton. The College orchestra played between the acts.

The second act turned of Prunella and Pierrot and their meeting at the obi home after a long separation.

The incidental music during the acts was furnished by Miss Katherine Hinton. The College orchestra played between the acts.
Published weekly, on Thursdays, during the year, by the Student Body of the New York State College for Teachers, at Albany, New York.

The subscription rate is two dollars per year. This rate may be had on application to the Business Manager. Additional rates, etc., must be in the hands of the Editor before Monday of the week of publication.

E. Reginald Bruce, ’21
Managing Editor
Florence Stanbro, ’21
Business Manager
Mary Whilin, ’21
Assistant Business Manager
Hope Persons, ’22
Subscription Manager
Ethel Huynck, ’22
Associate Editors
Hug F. Armstrong, ’21
Helen Dangermond, ’22
F. Reginald Bruce, ’21
Assistant Business Manager
Edna Lowcre, ’21
Hope Persons, ’22
Assistant Business Manager
Ethel Huynck, ’22
Associate Editors
Hug F. Armstrong, ’21
Helen Dangermond, ’22
F. Reginald Bruce, ’21
Assistant Business Manager
Edna Lowcre, ’21

The Last Opportunity

As the college year draws near to its close, we like to review all that has happened. This has certainly been a great year. There have been many opportunities for State College to show off its spirit, and they have done it in a manner which has given the college a fine reputation.

One of the great opportunities was the Moving-Up Day exercises, the tradition of which is so deeply ingrained in college life, and the play, is simply an example of the same spirit which has prevailed all year.

But wait, this year at commencement time we shall have another opportunity—perhaps one of the greatest of the college year, the event of the year, and the last and necessary of the college will be celebrated. This will be the greatest event of the year, and the last and greatest opportunity to show real college spirit. Although we have tickets all ready for those who are going to attend. Let’s all get in line and make the close of 1919-1920 one of which to be proud.

On Becoming Sophomores

"Where, oh, where are the verdant Freshmen.
Safe now, in the Sophomore class.
We, nineteen twenty-three, neither voice nor gesture that we are Sophomores. From the moment we were greeted by our sister class, "moving-Up Day" we thoroughly enjoyed the role of Freshmen. This is something unique about being a Freshman, because it is quite different from any other experience. Freshmen are ambassadors of the university and they are regarded as such.

To the News:

"In forest all the natural questions which are being asked of the Pedagogue Board regarding the appearance of the year book, we have nothing to add. We are just learning ourselves and are not in a position to answer any such questions."

The Board.

Several hours passed before any movement of troops could be detected; then "Eddie" Link climbed out of the window. When he got on top of the roof, after a game of "Hangman" with clothesline taken from the neighboring yards. The unpleasant odors of canvas-woven material were detected, and he was called back up to the rafters to get a better idea. He had a tube containing this mixture broken in his pocket.

"Nancy" decided that the "Sophs" had left the field of battle and went to the shed to paint his "S" flag. The stake they had climbed up the inside of the chimney and took the colors off, while the "Frosh" say that the "Sophs" were afraid of them, and that they would not climb up and take the colors off, then climbed the stack from the outside and took the colors. It must be admitted, however, that the "Sophs" used strategy.

Recent Gifts to the Library

Students will be glad to hear that the private library of Gertrude Rigouard has been given to the college. The collection contains a number of books strong in the classics and English literature.

The Board regrets this situation, in behalf of the student body, the splendid volunteer work of Miss W. P. Claxton, Miss H. A. Cartwright, and the splendidly devoted, giving "stunts." Elsie Enrth is chairman of this committee.

To the Editor:

"I am going to move into Moving-Up Day exercises, the tradition of which is so deeply ingrained in college life, and the play, is simply an example of the same spirit which has prevailed all year.

While the Freshmen who have heard much about Moving-Up Day, on account of the biggest and gayest experiences of all the college year, the event of moving-up and the various celebrations of this day are most appealing. We, in coming years, shall join our upper classmen in glorifying Moving-Up Day to the new Scholars.

In 1920, for, indeed, we did follow the happy with the rest. It is now, not before, that the fresh men are willing to change with their fellow-classmen in exhibiting a true spirit of co-operation. We here generally quite true that we really and truly enjoy our selves mostly when pleasant surprises arise, since we are getting a little more than we planned for or anticipated. In regard to Moving-Up Day, we both anticipate and are at the same time surprised, knowing more or less of what was about to happen, and yet possess a certain amount of curiosity. This is certainly a time of great excitement in regard to these events.

The "Frosh" are not yet sure of what is in store for them in their next year, so we have been looking for a few of their experiences in the coming year, and this is what we have come across.

The "Frosh" were afraid of them, and that they would not climb up and take the colors off, then climbed the stack from the outside and took the colors. It must be admitted, however, that the "Sophs" used strategy.

To the Board of the News:

"This is just a small reminder that the library wishes to acknowledge, in its "stunts," the splendid volunteer work of Miss W. P. Claxton, Miss H. A. Cartwright, and Mr. G. W. Cartwright.

Student Assembly

Student assembly was given over almost entirely to the President, Mr. Finley, who read the report of the finance board for 1919-20. The report stated that the bonds were sold for what they would bring about a loss of some $25, while borrowing on their face value would cost little more than $32 for a period of three months. The motion made that the bonds be sold for less than their face value, with the financial board interested in borrowing the amount of money necessary for the college's use, was carried.

The "Sophs," overjoyed by their success, took the competitive Freshman Sophomore stunts, raised their banner on the flagpole contrary to all the traditions. This was not the anger of the "Frosh," but every effort was made to track of some as soon as possible. Eventually, after weeks, will get their Pedagogues.

The Board regrets this situation. We ask your patience in the same manner in which you would in the case of your interest and your cooperation.

Marion A. Brail.
REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF STUDENT BOARD OF FINANCE FOR THE COLLEGE YEAR 1919-20 UP TO THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON MAY 17, 1920.

RECEIPTS

Cash on hand at the beginning of the year $5.33

|$1,190.60

Student tax @ $9.00................. 1,386.69

Basketball......................... 44.00

Quarterly.......................... 10.00

Subscription........................ 28.52

Advertising........................ 26.02

Dramatics.......................... 179.05

Interest on investment securities. 38.66

Hockey............................. 87.25

Hand Book.......................... 14.72

Total receipts to date.............. $6,671.92

EXPENDITURES

Basketball......................... $1,086.24

Baseball............................ 391.53

Quarterly.......................... 55.35

News: 1918-19....................... 3,109.85

Myskania........................... 49.00

Dramatics.......................... 179.05

Girls' A.A............................ 67.00

Track.............................. 30.00

Continuing expenses.............. 30.00

Hockey............................. 148.80

Students' Hand Book.............. 125.00

Set aside for secretarial free. 27.00

Rebates, Student tax: 1 6. 0.0. 9.00

Installments on $1000 bond ........ 60.00

War Stamps........................ 15.02

Not cost to date................... $9,103.77

Cash balance to date.............. $1,011.86

|$8,382.61

Government securities on hand (face value), $983.02, owned by departments in the following proportion:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Department</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Basketball</td>
<td>$374.20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>News</td>
<td>170.84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Girls' A.A</td>
<td>37.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Track</td>
<td>48.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hockey</td>
<td>38.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Press Club</td>
<td>157.47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newspaper</td>
<td>56.06</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Total balance on hand to date: Cash $1,011.86

Securities $983.92

Total balance on hand to date: $2,005.78

1920 Budget $5,366.00

Student tax $2,166.00

Amount by which Student tax falls short of budget $190.00

C. A. HIDDLEY, Treasurer.
HISTORY TRIPS

Tuesday afternoon, May 4, and again that Thursday, about fifteen of the varsity group under the chair of Miss Helen Way, the second, won by Miss Agnes Marie, made a trip through the State Capitol. The parties visited the legislative and Senate chambers, the Governor’s room, the library, and other places, where they met a plenty of old Civil War relics to interest them. Strange as it may seem, there were few men through the Capitol and these trips were thoroughly enjoyed by all who went.

PATRIOTIC ADDRESS

By Edwin Nicholson

We, who are looking forward to a future in which we go out into the world with the knowledge that the teacher occupies a unique place in social and political life, and that we are responsible for shaping the minds of young people, are faced with the responsibility of ensuring that our education system remains a bastion of democracy.

In some ways, we are in a similar situation to the young women of the American revolution. They realized that their time was ripe for a great forward movement of democracy. So must we, in the face of the challenges we are currently facing. A time when democracy must find a viable application and a more far-reaching influence in the life of all people.

One of the most strikingly significant events of the 20th century, the rise of the proletariat, has led to the development of a new form of class struggle. This struggle is not limited to the workers, but extends to all sectors of society.

In some countries on earth violence may be the only, and perhaps the only, means by which justice for the oppressed can be achieved. But our approach must be nonviolent and peaceful, seeking to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We cannot compromise with the forces of imperialism or fascism. Our patriotism, although in its essence the same as the patriotism of Franklin, Washington, Jefferson and others of that time, must also be based on the principles of democracy.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say. We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.

We must be true to our forefathers and carry on their work. We must work together to create a society where everyone has a voice and a say.
MOVING-UP DAY

(Continued from page 3)

that these letters are given, not as a reward but as tokens of grateful appreciation. Major letters were given to the baseball man, minor to the hockey and baseball men. The medals for the cross-country men were awarded at this time also. First, Thomas Hennessy; second, John Neumayr; and third, Louis Mason. Mr. Clark was presented with a gift in acknowledgment of the interest and effort he has put into developing athletes in the college.

Lucina Vedder presented the senior gift to the college. In addition to making a contribution to the college fund, 1920 has placed a beautiful window in the auditorium. It is dedicated to the people from N. C. T., who died in the Great War, and is doubly appealing in that the foreground is entirely of the red uniforms of France. Mr. Brandricker accepted the gift in the name of the college.

George Schiavone, as president of the senior class, gave an address, which was at once inspiring and compelling. He spoke of the place teachers and the teaching profession hold now, and why it is that the place is not what it should be. He went on to explain what the teachers must do to raise their position to the place it should hold. He closed his talk by thanking the teachers and advising the underclassmen to stand for American ideals and to endeavor to be worthy of their college.

The college orchestra struck up the opening bars of the “Moving-Up Day Song,” and slowly, singing as they went, the classes moved up to the places they will hold next year. Everyone was stirred by some strange emotion, an awesome, timid, yet brave feeling. When all were seated, the beautiful and impressive ceremony of choosing the new Myskania was begun.

(Continued on page 6)
STATE COLLEGE NEWS, JUNE 4, 1920

Keep Your Feet Strong and Healthy

Sock-It Shoes follow the lines of the normal foot and allow free use of the muscles.

Wear them this summer and build up your health. Endorsed by the College Department of Hygiene and also the Board of Y. W. C. A., Department of Physical Education.

Carried in stock in black, brown and white.

McAuliff & Gallagher
24-25 Steuben St.
Albany, N. Y.

MOVING-UP DAY (Continued from page 5)

Those chosen from 1921 were:
Katherine Ball, Alpha Ballach,
Reginald Price, Theodore Cassavann, Harry Grant, Maurice Hall-hen, Harrie Holmes, Hugo Poll, Marguerite Potter, Florence Stan-ard, Katherine Wansbro, and Mary Wilford.

Mr. Bullock, addressing the new Alysians, congratulating them upon the great honor bestowed upon them and reviewing their du-

The last events on this long procurating spring, like unto the trees of

The Senior stunt was particularly characteristic of its daintiness and originality. Nursery rhymes were

The Sophomore stunt was a

The Senior stunt was particularly characteristic of its daintiness and originality. Nursery rhymes were

STATE LOSES (Continued from page 1)

The Alma Mater was sung by the Class Stunts, the class being introduced by a Freshman marshal, after the singing of the

The ceremonies closed with the

TREES MEMORIAL (Continued from page 1)

Themselves willingly in the Great War. Mindful of their devoted labor, in their honor we have planted on the college campus seven trees, which are to be named after and to be associated with those good servants.

We, the students of the class of 1920, have planted seven trees, which are full of sap, even as the cedars of Libanus which God himself hath planted. And now, with heartfelt emotion, we dedicate them to their high and sacred office, to be to us and to our successors a constant reminder of the devotion of these members of the college who loved their lives unto the death that the nation might be preserved. With reverence, therefore, and affection for their memory let us pray to God and say: Al-

STATE COLLEGE

State College

M. N. Carusonp, p. 4 1

A. Wood, f 3

G. MARSALA

152 Madison Ave.
Albany, N. Y.

A Complete Plant for Composition, Electrotyping, Engraving, Presswork, Binding and Blank Manufacturing

The HAMILTON PRINTING CO.
PRODUCERS OF THE BETTER CLASS OF
BOOKLETS, CATALOGS, PUBLICATIONS AND DIRECT BY MAIL ADVERTISING

PRINTERS OF THE STATE COLLEGE NEWS

240 HAMILTON STREET
ALBANY, N. Y.

S. E. MILLER

FRANK H.

EVORY & CO.

Printers

Men's Outfitter and Custom Tailor

34-36 MAIN STREET
ALBANY, N. Y.

OPPENHEIM & McEWAN Co., Inc

Wholesale Grocers

42 Hudson Ave.
Albany, N. Y.

HORSTON & WADE, Inc.
Specialists in Equipping Complete
Lunch Rooms and Cafeterias

Everything Under One Roof

615 BROADWAY, ALBANY, N. Y.

Dolan Clothing Co.
The Men's Wear Store

Our Business Is Growing

T. H. McManus
E. J. Riley

ALBANY, N. Y.

PHONE WEST 2334

OSHER'S GOODYEAR SHOE REPAIR WORKS

26 CENTRAL AVE.
ALBANY, N. Y.

Good Printers

The Gateway Press

WILLIAM SPEIDEL

Confectionary

Cigars and Tobacco

CENTRAL AVE., CO. QUAIL ST.
ALBANY, N. Y.

good in the singing of the Alma Mater.