Those untidy habits come from jangled nerves

It's bad enough to look untidy—ill-groomed.
But it's twice as bad when you think that those nervous habits are a sign of jangled nerves...a friendly signal that says, "Find out what's the matter."

So, if you catch yourself mussing your hair, biting your nails, chewing pencils—or suffering from any other of those countless little nervous habits—

Get enough sleep and fresh air—find time for recreation. Make Camels your cigarette. You can smoke as many Camels as you please, for Camel's costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves.

CAMEL CARAVAN travels from coast to coast; MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes;

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN featuring Glen Gray's CASA LOMA ORCHESTRA and other Headliners every Tuesday and Thursday at 11:00 E.S.T. and 12:00 C.S.T.; and 10:30 M.S.T. and 11:00 P.M. E.S.T. over NBC.Columbia Network.
Outstanding College Graduates

Charles Edward Tuck Dartmouth College '62
"Dartmouth's greatest benefactor", one-time member of the American consulate in France and international banker, founded the first American school of administration and finance at Dartmouth. His many other gifts to the Hanover institution have aided in raising it to its present high position.

Borden Burr University of Alabama '96
President of Alabama's liar Association in 1932, three times president of his alma mater's Alumni Association, a Democratic party leader, past regent of Sigma Nu—Borden Burr has had an active and intimate association with the University of Alabama since his graduation.

Franklin Pierce Adams University of Michigan '03
Better known to millions of readers as "l'P. A.", the initials that top one of the most famous newspaper columns in the world, Mr. Adams is one of the outstanding deans of American journalism. Poet and humorist, he has published several volumes and has collaborated in one musical comedy.

This is the last of a series honoring the living graduates of American colleges and universities whose achievements have been particularly noteworthy. Next week we shall honor graduates of Harvard, Wisconsin, and Alabama Polytechnic Institute.
THREE SHADES OF LAUGHTER — Minnesota fifty-six half-tone illustrations in this volume you will be in a capacity to distinguish between a Lebretta, an Atlantic Salmon, and a Rainbow Trout. It's not an easy task, but you will be able to do it with the help of these illustrations.

In one big family, will no longer which cannot live happily together with those who share the same environment. This is the case with many different species of fish. The chemical balance of water, treated by your local fishmonger, will soon make of you a leading sporting figure in a country of which you are now a stranger.

Increase by breeding, correct nothing more futile shall we say, Dr. Coates. His book, with its simple language, is a welcome addition to the literature on tropical fish. The New York Aquarium, has felt the dire necessity of offering information to its friends of the sea.

Tropical Fishes As Pets. By Christopher W. Coates. Liveright $2.00.

Fancy of a nation, as to protect and enforce our laws, let us reflect. A man must be a fish monger, this era of the jig saw craze is now in its obsolescence, the efficient advocate of his central theme is lack of interest in nature, the profound delight of the heights in a novel with such a tragi-comedy. It would rise above mediocrity. It would take a more sensitive mind and a little more than a few dollars in advance to bring a story like this to life.

The metaphysical theme upon which this novel is based demands a fort toward clarity, it falls far short of triumph. It is the love story of a vaudeville team, man and wife. The man, Carl Hathaway, is the star of the show. She falls in love with a young aristocrat. Mrs. Hathaway, the young widow's effort toward faithfulness to her husband and to the friendship of her son. The author does not have these rare qualities. The story of this promise and the struggle of the man, Carl Hathaway, when his sporting lust and parlor proclivities into the convenient mania of his central theme is lack of interest in nature, the profound delight of the heights in a novel with such a tragi-comedy. It would rise above mediocrity. It would take a more sensitive mind and a little more than a few dollars in advance to bring a story like this to life.

Mr. Gregory fails to create for us the ability of telepathy which they all possess. Laboratory experiments on Mr. Gregory's part have not contributed to his theory. His story has no blue prints are submitted to assist the owner of which is also the proud possessor of a warped mind.

The Bowstring Murder. By Can Dickson. A number of boys, abnormal liking for the underworld and characters of low morals. A blood money. Another racket melodrama in which Prances O'ee plays the paradoxical role of the beautiful debutante with an abnormal liking for the underworld and characters of low morals. The British Admiralty is the target for bombing practice, you'll know why.

Another sign of jangled nerves...

Door banging, teeth grinding, foot tapping, arguing over trifles — or the old favorite — telephone slamming... Just little ways which prove nerves are getting out of hand... Danger signals... If you're guilty of such gestures, check up — Watch your nerves... Get your full amount of sleep every night.
