ROCO Tompkins to Leave

v Wayne Percivall

Dr. Philip Tompkins will tail from his post as Department Chairman in the fall. Dr. Tompkins has been for 30 years, and it is said that he will be deeply missed by his colleagues and students. He explained that he agreed to remain if it were possible, but that it would be best for him to move. The decision to leave was made in the interest of the school.

According to RCO news, Dr.

Tompkins will not return as Rho­ to the University Archives, at 457-8562. The Archives are working on good deadlines for professors. According to the Archives, deadlines for submitting book lists must be met, as the college's library must be used the following semester.

by Bob Bellafiore

They were the SUNYAC in the fall and the East Coast Indoor Track League in the winter. But the Danes (0-1) are not the Danes (1-0), and they are looking for a different kind of success. As the Danes prepare for the 1980 Spring season, they hope to "rattle some cages."
Gymnast Elaine Glynn Takes 13th In Nationals

By Amy Keene

Elaine Glynn, a senior at Albany State College, placed 13th in the 1980 NCAA Regional Championship with a score of 34.05. She shared the score with 11 other girls on the uneven parallel bars.

Aspart of her routine, Glynn executed aatsu jump, a technical maneuver, off of the bars. This skill was executed flawlessly by Glynn, indicating her dedication and practice towards her sport.

Duval-Spillanc, a junior from the Albany State gymnastics team, spoke of Glynn's performance. "She is a true competitor and sets a high standard for others to aspire to," Duval-Spillanc said.

Glynn's performance at the nationals was significant as it marked her 13th appearance in the competition, setting her apart from many of her peers. Her dedication and hard work have paid off, as she continues to excel in her sport.

Boy, Did the Guv Ever Screw Up!

Governor Hugh Carey, calling the cancellation of the last Connecting Train a "foul-up," talked about the situation on his recent trip to Westchester County. "It was a damn shame," he said.

"I don't know what happened," Carey said. "I was told that the train was going to be stopped because of some kind of problem. Then I was told it was going to be stopped because of another problem. Then I was told it was going to be stopped because of yet another problem. And then it was stopped."

"I've never seen anything like it," Carey said. "It was a total disgrace."
An Open Letter From The Governor

The issue of money and political economy, as it relates to your recent inquiry, is a complex one. However, I would like to address your concern in a straightforward manner. The government's primary responsibility is to ensure the well-being of its citizens. This includes maintaining a strong and stable economy, which is essential for the long-term prosperity of our state. To achieve this, we must continue to invest in education, infrastructure, and healthcare. These investments are crucial for the future of our state and its residents. It is important to remember that every dollar spent on these essential services is an investment in our future. Thank you for your understanding.

Yawn

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent LGBTQ+ pride month activities in our city. As a resident, I believe it is important for the community to come together and celebrate diversity. However, I also believe that our city should respect our Christian faith and values. I urge the city council to consider the viewpoints of all constituents when making decisions. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Mobile Green

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my support for the Mobile Green initiative. This program is essential for promoting environmental sustainability and reducing our carbon footprint. As a resident, I have noticed a significant reduction in traffic congestion and improved air quality since the program was implemented. I urge others to join me in supporting this initiative and taking steps to protect our environment. Thank you for your commitment to a greener future.

Henry Exclusus

By Mary Cohen

Henry: Well, I'm not sure what you mean. What do you want?

Conscience: I want you to understand the importance of your actions. As a leader, you have the power to make a difference. What do you want to be remembered for?

Henry: I want to be remembered as a great leader, someone who made a difference in the world.

Conscience: That is a noble goal. But remember, great leaders are those who put the needs of others before their own. What will you do to ensure that your actions are consistent with this goal?

Henry: I will work hard to make the world a better place. I will listen to the needs of the people and act on them. I will always strive to do what is right.

Conscience: That is a powerful statement. But remember, words are easily said, actions are harder to put into practice. What will you do to ensure that your actions are consistent with your words?

Henry: I will do my best. I will make mistakes, but I will learn from them. I will always strive to do my best.

Conscience: That is a good start. But remember, the true test of a leader is not what they say, but what they do. What will you do to ensure that your actions are consistent with your words?

Henry: I will do my best. I will make mistakes, but I will learn from them. I will always strive to do my best.

Six Coaches Storm Out To The Tune Of 'Later Albany'

By Paul Sports

In a matter of weeks, Coach Ford, Athletic Director Dick Sauers and others have announced the resignations of half a dozen coaches of the basketball program. The resignations were propelled by the university administration's decision to construct an indoor skating rink that would take up the space used by the basketball program.

Ford, Sauers, and others have expressed their disapproval of the decision, stating that it is a waste of money and a distraction from the university's athletic programs. However, the administration has stood firm, stating that the indoor skating rink is a necessary addition to the university's facilities.

Despite the resignations, the basketball program will continue with new coaching staffs. The university has announced that it will begin the search for replacement coaches immediately.

Carey Vetoes Budget

Legislature Voted to Restore Cuts

By Tom Hogan

Although the Legislature voted to restore cuts in the SUNY budget that were proposed by Governor Carey, Carey has vetoed the legislation. Carey has stated that the budget cuts are necessary to balance the state's budget.

In a letter to the Legislature, Carey wrote, "I believe that these cuts are necessary to ensure the fiscal stability of the state. The cuts are part of a broader effort to reduce state spending and address the state's budget deficit."

The Legislature has vowed to override Carey's veto, stating that the cuts are needed to ensure the state's financial health.

Group Examines Racial And Sexual Harassment

In a recent move to address the issue of sexual harassment on college campuses, the SUNY system has formed a task force to examine the problem. The task force is made up of representatives from SUNY campuses across the state.

The task force will be charged with investigating incidents of sexual harassment and making recommendations for how to address the issue. The task force will also be responsible for developing policies and procedures to prevent sexual harassment.

Hot Pot Causes Suiteroom Fire

A hot pot caused a fire in a dormitory room on the SUNY campus. The fire was contained to the room and did not spread to other dormitories.

According to witnesses, the hot pot was set on fire by one of the students. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

Two Nabbed For Stolen Property

In a recent incident, two individuals were arrested for stealing property from a campus dormitory. The suspects were caught on campus surveillance cameras.

According to the police, the suspects were caught on camera stealing a laptop computer and a cell phone from a student's dormitory.

The police are seeking the public's help in identifying the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to contact the campus police department.

And the Envelope Please

In a recent event, a group of students were awarded scholarships for their academic achievements. The scholarships were presented during a ceremony on campus.

The students were chosen based on their academic performance and were presented with envelopes containing the scholarship amounts. The envelopes were opened in front of the entire student body.

Two students were named as the recipients of the scholarships. The recipients were chosen based on their academic performance and were presented with envelopes containing the scholarship amounts. The envelopes were opened in front of the entire student body.

The scholarships were awarded by the campus foundation and were presented to help students finance their education.
