Says High School is In Uncertainty

Dr. Wiley Points To Emphasis On Social Studies, During Graduation Address

"This uncertainty is due to the lack of so many things which have taken place in the last few years. I refer particularly to the name change from George M. Wiley, assistant commissioner for high schools, who told the class of 1929 and its guests when the first commencement exercise was held in the auditorium of Page Hall."

"It seems to me that we have quite a state of uncertainty as to what the development of the next few years will be. Of course, I refer to our changing educational system."

Mr. Wiley indicated that the change was one of the most significant in the history of education in our state. He pointed out that the change was not only in the methods of teaching, but also in the methods of learning. He said that the change was a part of the larger trend towards modern education, which was characterized by the emphasis on social studies and the de-emphasis on book learning.

Margaret Steele Goes In Air
And Takes Reporter's Record

Besides being the only State College graduate of the class of 1929 to go into the air service, Miss Margaret Steele, 26, a junior in French at the time, in an airship in the United States. She is known to the family by the name of "Miss Steele," and is a member of the student body of the School of Aeronautics at the University of Michigan. She also is a member of the student body of the School of Medicine at the University of Michigan.

HAZING FORBIDDEN AT PARTY TONIGHT

Sophomore Class To Escort Freshmen To Welcome In Page Hall

With hazing forbidden, the Freshman Welcome Committee for the class of 1929, will make its debut tonight in Page Hall. The party is to be held in Page Hall at 7:45 o'clock tonight. The program is to include a speech by the class of 1929, and a welcome address by the President of the College. The program will be followed by a dance, with refreshments.

Miss Steele will be accompanied by members of the freshman class, who will escort her through Page Hall and introduce her to the faculty and students.

At 9 o'clock, the President of the College, Mr. Broncho, will address the crowd, with other speeches to be given by members of the faculty and student body.

Mr. Broncho will be the first to speak, followed by speeches by Mr. and Mrs. Effect, Mr. and Mrs. Effect, and Mr. and Mrs. Effect. Miss Steele will then make her speech, followed by speeches by Mr. and Mrs. Effect and Mr. and Mrs. Effect.

RUMOR OF TRANSFER DENIED BY PRESIDENT

Dr. Broncho will address an assembly of students and faculty members at the end of the morning's program. He will announce that the rumors of the transfer of the college to another location are unfounded.

"We have had some rumors of the transfer of the college to another location," said Dr. Broncho. "These rumors have been spread by those who are opposed to the policies of the college. I can assure you that the college is not going to be transferred to any other location."

Dr. Broncho then went on to say that the college was doing well financially and that it had a bright future.

College Gets 12 New Instructors

Two faculty members have received leaves of absence during the past few weeks, and new instructors have been appointed in their places.

Mr. and Mrs. Effect, who have been teaching French, will be replaced by Miss Steele, who has been teaching English. Miss Steele is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has received her degree in English.

Mr. and Mrs. Effect, who have been teaching mathematics, will be replaced by Mr. and Mrs. Effect, who have been teaching science. Mr. and Mrs. Effect are both graduates of the University of Michigan and have received their degrees in mathematics and science.

College gets 12 new instructors.

Will Broadcast

Professor to Speak On Program of WCY

Dr. C. Caroline Cross, college librarian, will appear before the members of the Freshman Welcome Committee, and will discuss the program of college life for the class of 1929.

The program will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock, and will be broadcast over WCY, the college radio station. The program will be followed by a dance, with refreshments.

The program will be broadcast over WCY, and will be followed by a dance, with refreshments.

Dr. C. Caroline Cross, college librarian, will appear before the members of the Freshman Welcome Committee, and will discuss the program of college life for the class of 1929.

The program will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock, and will be broadcast over WCY, the college radio station. The program will be followed by a dance, with refreshments.

The program will be broadcast over WCY, and will be followed by a dance, with refreshments.

Dr. C. Caroline Cross, college librarian, will appear before the members of the Freshman Welcome Committee, and will discuss the program of college life for the class of 1929.

The program will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock, and will be broadcast over WCY, the college radio station. The program will be followed by a dance, with refreshments.

The program will be broadcast over WCY, and will be followed by a dance, with refreshments.
The emphasis upon beauty and grace of body, developed through exercise among friends, instead of conflicts among rivals. In the deepest light of medical science, women are seeking a normal development which enables them to engage in sports which sap up the vitality and injure delicate nervous system. Doctors' reports, real or imagined, at the athletic events among collegiate women, were almost unanimous in their disapproval of contact which involved competition. Play, dignified by the athletic association, should lead to a milder way to settle disputes.

The new policy has particular significance for students entering the teaching field. It points to the need in trained teaching. The physical directors in the high school grades for girls, physical education directors, are pitted against each other, the freshmen somewhat uncertainly. Teachers can appreciate and understand the development of their students by checking all attempts of physical directors to force them upon the intercollegiate field. They should strive to build instead of browbeat physical education who measure progress, not by the number of victories they bring at their belts.

OUSTING PROPAGANDISTS

Resistance against the one-sided argument for propaganda is diffused by the strong declaration on this subject in the code of ethics for teachers formulated by the National Education Association. It implies the principle that the presence of the teacher is to train pupils, how to think, not to tell them what to think. This propaganda should have no place in the classroom, it states.

It is not easy to trace the line between valid and invalid appeals. Even the individual who places in the cornerstone of instruction. One of the commonest techniques of persuasion is to appeal to pride, and this is probably still the most often used. For example, many college courses are labeled as of value only to the students who can make the most of them, while his motive is to stimulate enrollment in classes at the end of the school year. This course is capable of being a distinct advantage to the student who has not been availed of classroom studies. In some form of this technique, or in a more pernicious one, of manipulation, is constant. If I want to increase my efficiency as a teacher of French or biology, or mathematics, then I shall sign up with the departmental rules.

I want to develop a true body, but my place is in the athletic association. I shall not accept the belief that the only way to get a healthy body is to sacrifice the enjoyment of other activities. I shall not accept the idea that the only way to acquire a healthy body is to sacrifice the opportunity to develop other interests.

Most of Uncle Sam's forces show the influence of a modern association with military standards, he was educated in farming and work raising and teaching in Indiana, Illinois. Like the other southernmost for the transformed forms of nature. One day, he came upon a river which had been dammed. The fish, blinded in its appearance, must have suffered a great strain of nerve from this.
Dr. Hastings Says In Radio Talk Over WGY Sunday

Dr. Hastings, chairman of the English department, declared in a radio talk on WGY, Schenectady, Sunday afternoon, that "too much emphasis should be laid upon correctness, there is a lack of good deal of correctness in the writing of the high school students these days. Hastings pointed out in his talk that there is an unseemly striving after correctness to the extent that the writer is no more acceptable as the more conventional it is in writing. This striving is more expensive than justified by the results. In this effort there is no more freedom in the use of words than if a good English is almost impossible."

Mrs. Brimmer Investigated the Problem

Mrs. Brimmer, director of the junior high school of this city, went into this problem after her graduation from State Normal School last year. Mrs. Brimmer investigated the problem of the student's writing, and in her study she gave particular attention to the various types of writing that are required of the student through the regular course of study.

She will write the results of her investigation of the problem of written expression. She pointed out the vain effort the students make to safeguard their usage which is authorized in books. Between the two arguments it is more conventional "it is 1"; that less confusing; "and ten visits adapt you to the reputable idiom of standard English regents and general regent's sections are divided into four groups Brimmer, dramatics; Gertrude Leonard, English; Victoria Raymond, history; Margaret Chalmers, mathematics; Emma Spence, natural science; a.d. Mrs. Brimmer, ad\visor to junior high school; Edna Parman, \advisor to senior high school; Edith B. Wetson, part\time advisor to senior high school; Miss M. Universal, advisor to senior high school, who is in charge of the English regents and general regents sections.

Between the two arguments it is more conventional "it is 1"; that less confusing; "and ten visits adapt you to the reputable idiom of standard English regents and general regent's sections are divided into four groups Brimmer, dramatics; Gertrude Leonard, English; Victoria Raymond, history; Margaret Chalmers, mathematics; Emma Spence, natural science; and Mrs. Brimmer, advisor to junior high school; Edna Parman, advisor to senior high school, who is in charge of the English regents and general regents sections.

Mrs. Brimmer, director of the junior high school of this city, went into this problem after her graduation from State Normal School last year. Mrs. Brimmer investigated the problem of the student's writing, and in her study she gave particular attention to the various types of writing that are required of the student through the regular course of study.

She will write the results of her investigation of the problem of written expression. She pointed out the vain effort the students make to safeguard their usage which is authorized in books. Between the two arguments it is more conventional "it is 1"; that less confusing; "and ten visits adapt you to the reputable idiom of standard English regents and general regent's sections are divided into four groups Brimmer, dramatics; Gertrude Leonard, English; Victoria Raymond, history; Margaret Chalmers, mathematics; Emma Spence, natural science; and Mrs. Brimmer, advisor to junior high school; Edna Parman, advisor to senior high school, who is in charge of the English regents and general regents sections.

Mrs. Brimmer, director of the junior high school of this city, went into this problem after her graduation from State Normal School last year. Mrs. Brimmer investigated the problem of the student's writing, and in her study she gave particular attention to the various types of writing that are required of the student through the regular course of study.

She will write the results of her investigation of the problem of written expression. She pointed out the vain effort the students make to safeguard their usage which is authorized in books. Between the two arguments it is more conventional "it is 1"; that less confusing; "and ten visits adapt you to the reputable idiom of standard English regents and general regent's sections are divided into four groups Brimmer, dramatics; Gertrude Leonard, English; Victoria Raymond, history; Margaret Chalmers, mathematics; Emma Spence, natural science; and Mrs. Brimmer, advisor to junior high school; Edna Parman, advisor to senior high school, who is in charge of the English regents and general regents sections.

Mrs. Brimmer, director of the junior high school of this city, went into this problem after her graduation from State Normal School last year. Mrs. Brimmer investigated the problem of the student's writing, and in her study she gave particular attention to the various types of writing that are required of the student through the regular course of study.

She will write the results of her investigation of the problem of written expression. She pointed out the vain effort the students make to safeguard their usage which is authorized in books. Between the two arguments it is more conventional "it is 1"; that less confusing; "and ten visits adapt you to the reputable idiom of standard English regents and general regent's sections are divided into four groups Brimmer, dramatics; Gertrude Leonard, English; Victoria Raymond, history; Margaret Chalmers, mathematics; Emma Spence, natural science; and Mrs. Brimmer, advisor to junior high school; Edna Parman, advisor to senior high school, who is in charge of the English regents and general regents sections.
DEAN PIECE WORKS ON LIST SUPPLEMENT

Miss Bertha A. Piec is working on a list supplement which will be published in the next issue of the magazine. The supplement will contain the names of students who have been admitted to the College since the last issue was published.

JUNIORS HAVE PARTY FOR FRESHMAN CLASS

The annual junior-freshman dance was held in the College Assembly Room on Friday evening. The dance was attended by many students and was a great success.

ORIGINAL BOOK ON CAREER GUIDANCE PUBLISHED

The first book to be published on the subject of career guidance has been released. The book is titled "Careers and How to Choose Them" and is written by Dr. Jane Goodall. It is a valuable resource for students who are trying to decide on a career path.

DEAN PIERCE WORKS ON LIST SUPPLEMENT

Dean Anna F. Pierce is working on a list supplement which will be published in the next issue of the magazine. The supplement will contain the names of students who have been admitted to the College since the last issue was published.

THE ANNUAL 111111

The annual 111111 was held in the College Assembly Room on Friday evening. The dance was attended by many students and was a great success.

THE ANNUAL 111111

The annual 111111 was held in the College Assembly Room on Friday evening. The dance was attended by many students and was a great success.

MISS PIERCE NAMED CITY SCHOOL DEAN

Miss Bertha A. Piec has been named the new City School Dean. She will take office on September 1st.

THE ANNUAL 111111

The annual 111111 was held in the College Assembly Room on Friday evening. The dance was attended by many students and was a great success.

THE ANNUAL 111111

The annual 111111 was held in the College Assembly Room on Friday evening. The dance was attended by many students and was a great success.

THE ANNUAL 111111

The annual 111111 was held in the College Assembly Room on Friday evening. The dance was attended by many students and was a great success.