Home Nursing Course Free For Students

Marie Delano and Joseph Ruggles, States College, and George A.
Ruggles, Kingston, students of States College, have returned from a course in Home Nursing they attended in New York City in September. From the course, they returned to States College with a rationale that any student who wants to learn about Home Nursing should consider this course. The course is free for States College students.

Write Us...

Ever feel so put upon that you wanted to scream? We feel that way every time we approach a book stand, where we don’t want to scream because our Common’s is B.R.A.K.E., but we must. We have been hearing in Common’s for the last three years, a bunch of college students, we have a love attitude toward this school. Everyone always has something to say about their campus, some hateful or constructive.

The philosophy of the paper is a tough job. We realize that in a majority of the student body there just isn’t any interest in the reader to this college, in this state, in this world, if we may go that far.

We need a good look at ourselves—as the attitude of this student body. A professor has complained that “the lack of cohesion in the school organization is a result of the breakdown in the code of conduct.”

Looking through the bound issues of this newspaper, we realize how much the paper has matured. As a college, we’ve grown from a bunch of chicons-to-the-mail. There is not only in our student body. We seldom get a chance to form a clear idea of the problems facing us, or the attitude of the student body. We need that chance personal contact to the body. Any suggestions? Write us, we’ll print them.

So What...

In 1950 Student Association appropriated $510 to Outing Club, a newly formed organization, for the purpose of making a trip to the Malaysian coast. The club did not venture beyond the land of the United States. The budget was spent on way-fare, guide services, and food. The club met with the problems of a small group.

In the fall of 1957 the same club decided to make a trip to the Southland’s finest tobaccos. The club raised $125 to cover expenses. The club’s officers had a lot of fun. The trip was a success.

The only problem? The club didn’t have enough money to pay for the trip. The club was forced to borrow money from the Student Association. The club has a new attitude toward this school.

We somehow were unable to disagree with him. We were inclined to agree with him, and with the professor.

Maybe we need an All-College event. We don’t mean some-Council President Releases Sorority Rushing Regulations

At which refreshments will be provided, and at what hours, must be arranged before the day of the rushee's visit. The sorority houses must be made available to rushees either by sororities or sorority members with the consent of the rushee. The rushee must be accompanied by a member of the sorority, and the rushee must be escorted to the sorority house. If the sorority wishes to represent the rushee, a sign must be posted on the bulletin board in the sorority house to indicate this fact.

For Corrections

AMIA Elections Today: Bowlers Take League Lead

At the urging of the sorority members, the AMIA President has appointed a committee to review the directory lists for corrections. The directory lists will be checked and corrected as soon as possible. If there are any corrections that need to be made, please contact the AMIA President.

Judy Swan, '58, President of In-State Chapters News, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1957

1. In any discussion of sorority life, we must remember that there are differences in the sororities and the students who belong to them. Each sorority has its own traditions and customs, and it is important to respect these differences.

2. The rushee should be given the opportunity to make his or her own decisions about joining a sorority. The rushee should be encouraged to participate in the decision-making process and to express his or her own views.

3. All members of the sorority should be treated with respect and consideration. The sorority should be a place where members can feel comfortable and supported.

4. It is important to maintain a balance between the social and academic aspects of sorority life. The sorority should provide opportunities for members to participate in social events and to engage in academic activities.

5. The sorority should provide a supportive environment for its members. Members should be encouraged to help each other and to support each other in times of need.

Frosh Love Gym Class

by MARY WALKER

For those of us who are members of the varsity team, the gym class is a welcome break from the rigors of practice. The gym class allows us to work on our individual weaknesses and to improve our overall performance. For those of us who are not members of the varsity team, the gym class is an opportunity to develop our skills and to have fun.
