It is important that the student body considers the qualifications of each candidate before casting their ballots.

HALF AN HOUR, she makes the trip to Albany—a forty-five mile ride. In New York City she is housed in a room crowded with students. At last, after a succession of trips, which have consumed two hours, she is at College. Before classes Mrs. E. Van Rensselaer, editor-in-chief, and Messrs. Van Rensselaer and Van Rensselaer, managers, meet her at the railroad station. The students are not admitted to the house until 7:30. After this twelve hour day, a hot dinner is quite Gratuitous, and if it is to be eaten at all it must be eaten with the utmost of its possible palatability. The meal, however, becomes a virtue when the play is given a free reign. Through the year for which the play is given, all is permitted and even encouraged, as long as it is not to the detriment of the public.
Who'll ‘Make’ Myskania? Is Question College Asks With Moving-Up Day Two Weeks Away

IDENTITY OF HONOR SOCIETY DISCUSSED

Undergraduates Tabulate Own Guesses Of Who Will Be Chosen

Followings are the names of juniors who are eligible for membership on the Myskania society, elected by vole of the student body: William J. Clarke, Troy, former manager of varsity basketball; Helen Zimnovitch, two of whose seniors: William J. Clarke, Troy, former president of the present student association; Helen Zimnovitch, two of whose seniors: William J. Clarke, Troy, former president of the present student association; and who are the most likely candidates, the object being to choose those who can come closest to a coveted list.

Number Varies

The Myskania members are chosen for leadership in athletics, debate, dramatics, scholarship, literary effort and undergraduate affairs generally. This year and last year there have been two members. In each of the two years preceding there was only one. Last year's group had twelve members and that this year eleven, the minimum number.

The president-elect of the student association is the only member who is chosen by vote of all. From this, methinks little help to those who are interested in the school. There is little help in consulting precedent.

Results of student elections and votes of all sorts are being watched closely by the politically interested, as every indication of some of those whose chances might be considered. Records are being compared, and the annual custom of “making lists” has already started. This custom consists of the preparation by students not members of Myskania of sets of names as possible indicators of some of those whose chances might be considered. Opportunities lie in Administration

Dr. Brubacher tells Kappa Phi That Women Are Taking Other Fields

The best classroom teaching opportunities for men today lie in college work, President A. R. Brubacher told the first regular meeting of Kappa Phi, professional education fraternity, Monday night in the basement of the Memorial Student Center.

A short business meeting was held at which the minutes for next year were read. President Potter, '28, and Esther Layser, '28, made a report on the research in education which is to be carried out under the Junior collegeздание.

The greatest financial rewards are in the administrative field, he said. "In the future the field will be either a financial expert or a curriculum expert," Dr. Brubacher declared. "The time is coming when every large city will have two superintendents, one to regulate the business affairs of its schools, the other to change the curriculum of its schools." He pointed out that most of the new schools, large and small, are being opened in the larger cities. These schools, he said, are opening in larger cities because a man can make more money in a larger city, and that a man can make more money in a large city where he is in charge of a large school system.
