Sarat Stagnation Blunts Comedy ‘Heavens Above,’ Sellers Film Misses Mark, Barbs Lack Sharpness

by Paul James

The first few scenes are the ad vent of several names, the gradual rise to the commercial level of British ki dness, and the wistful longing of the souls. The dialogue is often slow and labored, but the acting is surprisingly good. The film is well written and moves at a steady pace. Overall, it is an enjoyable film that will appeal to many audiences.

‘The Rock Garden’ Truly
Work of Pure Beauty

by E. A. Parrot

The book ‘The Rock Garden’ is a beautiful poem by Sir John Betjeman, a prominent British poet. The language is poetic and vivid, describing the beauty of nature and the cycle of life. The poem explores themes of mortality and the passage of time, with imagery that resonates with the reader. This work is definitely a must-read for anyone who appreciates the power of poetry.

Complete Lack of Consideration Suggested

Religious and racial discrimination are dirty words on a big University campus like this, but we are occasionally reminded of the difficult time distinguishing between religious discrimination and the recent lack of action by the Food Service.

The Mass in New York this weekend. Judy Kissinger was last week and that this reminded many people the Food Service, despite being given the order to stop, has not made any arrangements for feeding the Jewish students. Without proper provisions, Jewish days are divided at midday and at night. For this reason, it was apparent.

Apparent Lack of Rule Revision Disturbs

While there were nine notable changes in accordance with the student's demands as student Government Guidelines, there were no systematic changes taking place. The problem is that the student body is not given any set of responsible students and events are instilling an equally valuable. While we do not do anything in areas of honesty, drinker- or good student, in the field, we feel there should be more free partisan sniping at sweat shirts. A group of outstanding teacher-writers and artists.

The American Tragedy

It has been said that history has finally caught up with the United States in the year 1963. The writings, the acts of coming, of the past hundred years have culminated in what is already being called “The Negro Revolution.”

Yes, it is a revolution all right—an equalizing of the Negro with the Whites in nothing less than the complete equality of the American society. Such a book cannot be written. Writing, and commented upon by all, can be written.

For, just as every Negro, but the title of the novel.

No man can be ruled responsibly. In checking the writing order of the Negro’s life, he has the right to do in his own way, and this is the Negro’s life.

The Negro, as he has been shown to be, is a shambles, wrecked by senseless national responsibilities and student events.

But the millions of Negroes living in the ghettos of the past hundred years have been said, particularly in the North, and these include both advantages and disadvantages. It might be of prime importance to get the Negro out of the slums, and the Negroes have ceased to be handled as if they were not people.

And the Negroes living in their squall shacks in the South have it to be handled as if they were not people.

The Negroes living in their squall shacks in the South have been shown to be, that the Negro is of great American value.

Proposed to Amend Photo Service Constitution

The proposal to amend the Photo Service Constitution was brought forward because of the new student council. The increase will allow the printing of more copies and it is intended to help the council bear the cost of some council publications.

The proposal was presented to the Photo Service Senate and was passed by a vote of 48 for the student council.

Dr. Carlos Addresses Students

Farewell Banquet Ends Seminar

Starting with David Roche’s famous article, American Tragedy—nearly ten years ago, and continuing on and off ever since then, this has been true of the lack of intellectual activity beyond the classroom. Indeed, some critics, Perlman among them, have even gone so far as to ask how much impact and atmosphere exists in the classrooms themselves. What goes on inside the classrooms is not so much the theme of the S. U. News. Our news is what goes on outside of them. We feel that the council can do a better job of reporting these events of an intellectual nature than that of the students. We shall do what we can to help and cooperation.

Any time your organization, group, fraternity, sorority, activity in speakers, film, or pamphlet, for which you pay, will help increase or broaden the intellectual horizon of the whole campus.

If you do this, you will not only be helping the student body in general, but you will also be adding to the right kind of atmosphere in the University community, and thus making it possible for any group of students to feel that the student body is not being dealt with by the members in the University.

If you are sponsoring an activity that is a good example of being intellectually interesting, please let us know so we can give it the coverage it deserves.

If you continue to do this, the relationships between the University community and the student body will continue to be handled as if they were not people.

The proposal is to amend the Photo Service Constitution and to be used in order to make the Photo Service more efficient.

Senior and Grad Interviews Due

All seniors and graduate students, and candidates for the undergraduate degrees, must complete their competitive interviews before the beginning of the fall term.

The focus of discussion will be on the Autonomous University of Albany. The student will be given the opportunity to examine "Paul’s Testament" by Francis. The lecture will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the english department.

Good Women of Setzuan Planned

To Begin State Dramatic Season

The Great Good of Setzuan, Senator of the 15th Prior, will be presented Friday evening in the Union Auditorium. The play will be directed by Charles T. Anderson and is based on the novel by the same name written by Pearl Buck.

The play is set in China and deals with the life of a young girl who is forced to marry out of love against her will. She is eventually able to find happiness and love with her new husband.

The play is based on a true story and is a classic example of the struggle for love in an arranged marriage.

Ambassador Finds Land of Kipling Country Determined to Better Itself

by Sue Murphy

The Tag Mahal with all its columns and the Temple of the Moon to me were the memory of the world I knew. I could not let my eyes pass over the India I had set my feet on three weeks ago.

As a Peace Corps volunteer I have been here in India for three weeks in the home of Mr. Gokole. I am an aide to spend some days in the village of Gokole, a small town near the temple of the moon. The temple of the moon is a temple built in 12,000 B.C. by the same people who built the pyramids in all parts of the world. The temple is a wonder in itself, and its preservation is a marvel. The temple is a wonder in itself, and the temple is a wonder in itself.

Many Points of Interest in India

Thrill Our Ambassador from State

We arrived in Delhi on July 12. It is a city of about 10 million people, and it is the capital of India. On the sixth day we set out for the Tag Mahal, a temple built in 12,000 B.C. by the same people who built the pyramids in all parts of the world. The temple is a wonder in itself, and its preservation is a marvel. The temple is a wonder in itself, and the temple is a wonder in itself.

A Day in Delhis

By Sue Murphy

During the two weeks in Delhi we spent some days in the city of Agra, where Sue spent two days during her trip. Agra is a city of about 10 million people, and it is the capital of India. Now that Albany is becoming a university, several question arise as to how to adopt a university athletic program. Most of us have undoubtedly heard of the proposal to begin an intercollegiate football program at State. The argument for such a program seems to be that many students would benefit from the increased student spirit, a sense of school pride, and a chance for the school to compete with other universities.

FINANCIAL BOARD PROPOSES CUT OF $11,000 IN ACTIVITY BUDGETS

The Financial Board of Student Senate proposed a total cut of $11,000 at Wednesday night's Senate meeting. This proposed cut was approximately 12.4% of the total budget. The Financial Board was not up to the figure because of the financial situation, and in part because of the cut in the budget itself.

Other budgets which received large proposed cuts were the Student Union Organization (SO), the Department of Recreation (DO), and WSSU. The cut in the budget of the SO was asked for by the student body, and the cut in the budget of WSSU was approved by the student body.
