25 Per Cent Increase Gives College Record Faculty; Miss Godding Released To Teach At Hanover College

With nearly 25 per cent increase in faculty, the college will team the largest number of graduates, advanced professors, and in experienced teachers ever employed.

Twelve newly appointed instructors will assume their teaching duties Monday. While their first day of the second semester, as well as the head of the department of the University of Pittsburgh, will not be able to influence the students' studies in the department.

The newly appointed instructors are: Alice A. R. Johnson, Miss Anna E. Pierce, and Miss Helen M. Kincaid.

 Miss Mary A. Cope, head of the department of the University of Pittsburgh, will not be able to influence the students' studies in the department.

NEW COURSE OFFERED IN ADVANCED WRITING

A new course will be offered in advanced writing, which is to be known as English 306, and will be given to students who have completed the course in English 206. The course will be taught by Miss Helen M. Phillips, who has been a member of the English faculty for several years.

The new course in the English department will consist of four main units: composition, grammar, rhetoric, and literary criticism.

NEW BUILDINGS WILL BE FINISHED BY MARCH 1

The new buildings will be finished by March 1, as announced by Dr. T. Frederick Hustings, president of the college. The work, begun on August 20, 1927, will be completed by March 1, according to the schedule.

The buildings will consist of 100,000 square feet, which is the equivalent of about 10,000 square feet of office space. The buildings will be located on the site of the old dormitory, which was destroyed by fire in 1927.

160 COUPLES DANCE AT PROM TONIGHT

Allice Walsh and Leonard Shea To Open Dance at Prom in Ten Eyck Hotel.

More than 150 couples will dance tonight from 9 to 2 when the class of 1928 organized junior prom to the music of Jack Symonds' orchestra in the grand ballroom of the Ten Eyck Hotel.

The grand march will be opened by Miss Walsh, chairman of the decoration committee, and Miss Harry E. Meigs, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The dancing will continue until 2 a.m., after which the couples will return to their rooms to prepare for the formal dinner.

The dance will feature a variety of social dances, including the waltz, foxtrot, and swing.

The-weekend will conclude with the grand banquet on Saturday evening, which will feature a variety of musical performances and speeches.

IT'S HIS SUNDAY LODGING
Still a class in his honor be solicited? That is the question confronting the freshmen class as long as it persists to find its name to be used exclusively as a freshmen team, two members of which are freshmen. When the freshmen quartet scores a victory, that victory cannot be counted, because the freshmen class is not always in a position to carry its team over the finish line. Furthermore, it is unreasonable to expect that a team composed entirely of freshmen can compete with a team composed of outstanding players from neighboring colleges.

NEED FOR A TRAFFIC LIGHT
Installation of traffic lights at two street intersections west of the college will meet with the general approval of the students living in that direction. Though many students feel that the traffic should be allowed to flow freely, there are many more doors that open for directions in the world. Although a door may be closed to the freshmen, there are many more doors that open for directions in the world. Perhaps, no other or college will soon be left where the traffic administration will not give a reflection of student thought, and the express of freemen opinion.

EXEMPLARY EXPENSE
When one is offered a position at practically no expense, he must answer the question: "Do I want to work here?" Though the ruling of the regents will not go in the matter of salaries, there are many more doors that open for directions in the world. Perhaps, no other or college will soon be left where the traffic administration will not give a reflection of student thought, and the express of freemen opinion.

OMIT USELESS DETAILS, MOOR TELLS STUDENTS

Omission of unnecessary and irrelevant details from histories and vacations was requested of Arthur Moor, a graduate of the State University and Columbia University, at a call meeting of the Y.M.C.A. and V.M.C.A. of Milne High School, Monday, January 6.

Only by such omission can one find time to do what one really wants to do, he declared. "Semitiminate your day and you will find it easy to balance. and variety are two of the most beautiful things—unity without monotony and variety without chaos. Most of us are trapped between the two," he said.

WHERE'S YOUR FRESHMAN BUTTON? Her Response Is A Mykonian Key

"We have it that Hetty Pulver, named for the buttons on her dress, received her Freshman button, and the subsequent creation of buttons and markers. He said that it is the mark of a true scholar."

"The appearance of the idea has been transmuted," Dr. Risley said. He conducted the search that has been done, and the subsequent creation of buttons and markers. He said that the student will do the work on his own, and present it in a way that he feels is best for his purposes.

BOARD WILL RAISE TEACHING STANDARD

Special Subject Teachers Must Have 4 Years Training. Regents Rule

Steps toward the raising of the standard of teaching in special subjects in the secondary schools of the state were taken recently by the board of regents of the University of the State of New York, when it ruled that, beginning in September, 1930, candidates for such positions must present credentials showing the completion of four years training in the subject. Eighteen hours of professional courses will also be required.

Among the special subjects mentioned in the ruling of the board of regents was physical education, home economics and drama. A bachelor's degree or its equivalent will be demanded.

To comply with the ruling, the Cortland Normal School will change its three-year course in physical education to a four-year course. Among the other schools affected by the ruling, is the Plattsburg Normal School which at present gives a three-year course in chemistry.

Changong Horses

At the portals of our large cities—New York, Baltimore, Detroit, and soon Cleveland—a semaphore hails a luxurious flyer drawn by a pulling steam engine. A simple switching maneuver, and electricity takes charge. A giant locomotive, quickly under way, glides silently into the house streets with its long string of Pullmans.

"Like a thoroughbred it makes the run tirelessly. Passengers alight in a clean terminal, clean because there is no smoke or soot."

Another milestone in transportation—another event in the life of the iron horse!

CIVILIZATION IS PROGRESSING, WITH ELECTRICITY IN THE VAN.

The average $81.25.

The barber shops get $200.00 more of the total fund for the achievement further shares in which the college men indulge.

MID-WINTER HIKES

For kicks and fun, St. Mary's students are scheduled by the Girl's Athletic Association for the remainder of the winter season. Two or three hikes are scheduled each week, and two are eight mile hikes. Normally, a hike is cut down to an eight mile hike, but that will be the exception. Saturday will be the first outing, and the second will be for two miles, and will be in the neighborhood bar.

Buildings Not Made By Slapping Bricks Together;
100 Drawings Required, Superintendent Declares

"If anybody thinks that building a school or college is a simple matter of laying the foundation on top of it, and then laying down another brick, he is distinctly wrong," William C. Crack, superintendent of construction, who will quit the registrar's office next month to become building superintendent, told the Housing court Monday night.

"There must be more than a hundred drawings, from the original plans drown by the New York State architect's department," Crack said, "by the final working plans made by each carpenter, electrician, plumber, or plumber. When these drawings are made the contractors may make slight deviations from the figures. This means that every layer of work is a hand laborer trying to build to specifications." Crack said.

"Art Work More Thorough"

"This art work must go through even more hands than this. First, the director of the art department must look over the work. Then, the art department chairman must look it over. Then there is the junior college's position and the New York State Free College, which is to do a thorough job of examining the work," Crack said.

"Walls Are Relit" This is a scheme that Crack suggested as a way of getting the student body to do more of the work of painting the walls in the school. Crack said that this would be a better way of doing the work than the present system of having the student body do the work.

ALUMNAE AND VASITY WILL MEET TOMORROW
