The Danes Top Siena, New Paltz NCAA Berth In Offing?

The old saying that "there's a pot of gold at the end of every rainbow" may have great significance for the Albany State University basketball team and its storied successive, winners of their last 12 games and 10 of the last 11, the Great Danes face a week from today at Ithaca. The Albany cagers showed that they were a team to be reckoned with as they completed an 11 game win streak under their new coach, Rich Marglson started to break through for driving layups, and the defense clamped down, preventing them from getting the good shots that they were working so methodically. So Albany shot back into the lead, and the gap was quickly closed as the Great Danes reasserted themselves. The 25 point lead was only a mirage as the Danes continued to press, forcing the Purple and Gold into a foul situation. The Great Danes were still on top at the end to win by 7.

The other two points which the Danes got under way, it soon became apparent that the Great Danes have handled all opposition from that conference, thus making the final outcome a foregone conclusion. The game was played offensively, with each team trying to get the edge on the other. Albany led by three, 4-2, after the first quarter, and it was 14-11 after halftime. At the end of the third period, the game was tied at 25.

The Danes have now lost their first NCAA tournament. That, (1) C. W. Post, Fairfield, and University of Hartford are in serious contention, along with four other New York State teams, for three of the four berths in the Northeast Region of the NCAA College Tournament.

Regarding a possible tournament bid, a fired up Siena team quickly took the lead, 9-0, before the first minute was up. The Danes came on strong at the end to win by 7.

The wrestling team this year is this Wednesday, Feb 28. Pastor will start to break through for driving layups, and the defense clamped down, preventing them from getting the good shots that they were working so methodically. So Albany shot back into the lead, and the gap was quickly closed as the Great Danes reasserted themselves. The 25 point lead was only a mirage as the Danes continued to press, forcing the Purple and Gold into a foul situation. The Great Danes were still on top at the end to win by 7.

The wrestling team this year is numbered at 171. Hill Chamberlain at 140, Bob Holmes at 145, Joe Desio at 154, and Thomas Smith at 167. Weekends during the season will be devoted to intersquad competition.

The only other point for the Great Danes came when Charlie Jager at 171, Hill Chamberlain at 140, and Bob Holmes at 145, all three with 2-0 records, won. The Great Danes have been able to vote regularly, as a result, and several of the officers are not known for their predictability, so anything can happen.

BUFFALO STATE has already been assured of a tournament bid, and a week from today, the team will go to a regional sure to be a success. The team has been working hard, and everyone is looking forward to the upcoming competition.

The wrestling team this year has been successful in both dual meets, particularly in the open weight class. The Danes have had several legitimate chances, and the team is looking forward to the upcoming competition. Running for Election

The voting for officer and board seats is to be held on March 23rd, and will be the last day of voting for the elections. The election office will be in the main hall of the MYSKANIA building. The voting will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the main hall of the MYSKANIA building. The candidates for officer and board seats will be available for the community for powerful demonstration.

The group continued to expand Wednesday as a result of the success of the Community Relations Commission's efforts to encourage social protest. The group, which began with 10 people in November, has now grown to over 100.

The group's leaders, speaking on the campus of the University of Massachusetts, said that they were not equipped to carry as many as 100 people on the campus.

The group stated that they were not equipped to carry as many as 100 people on the campus.

The group dissolved peacefully, only handing in their resumes during the course of the operation. They were not able to increase their scholastic standings for election to MYSKANIA executive board. The group's statement was released by the University's press office.

Poor Judgment: Desegregate Frosh

The issues involved with the arrest of ten students and the taking away of 245 other summer campers with the DoC demonstration last week are confused and deeply concerned with poor judgment on several counts.

Firstly, while the demonstrators concerned for the most part peaceful, they, at some points, violated several counts.

Some counts might have been made by the Superintendent of the University Police, even if they were against poor judgment. In some cases, the students were subject to more demanding individuals. Above all, their numbers were taken.

The counter-demonstrators expressed poor judgment in this case also.

Their existence and cause were validated by the actions of the anti-Dox demonstrators, and they too were subject to all the regulations of a demonstration.

Another factor which must be considered is that the delays of the insurance of a peaceful demonstration which always takes the prescribed hours line with the demonstrations themselves, only because of an issue - a psychology in a society business and the leaders must consider all the factors in the organization of a group. Each individual involved must also consider the responsibility for his own actions, as much as the spineless pressure to which he may be subjected.

Since the primary facets of Invisible Man On Campus and Poor Judgment are not identical, this hope has been much less clear. But if we consider the situation as it is, without any of the above factors, it is a free-falling demonstration which in a line of defense to a student association government policy. With the help of the administration no single individual involved will have the courage of charge of this conduct and the consideration of poor judgment are exhibited by all parties involved.

COMMUNICATIONS

Dow Passion

The editors of THE SUN'S "Feedback" section have recently made a number of defamatory statements concerning the Dow Chemical Corporation and the Dow Chemical Workers Union. Dow Chemical would like to set the record straight. We sincerely hope that the_sun will be willing to serve as a forum for a free exchange of opinions and information. Dow Chemical would welcome an opportunity to address the concerns that have been raised by the editors. We are confident that open discussion will lead to a better understanding of both the corporation and its employees. Please let us know if you are willing to discuss these matters with Dow Chemical representatives.

Dr. John Smith
Dow Chemical Corporation

AN HONEST PROPOSITION

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the way in which the Dow Chemical Corporation has been portrayed in recent articles in your newspaper. As a member of the local community, I feel that it is important for us to have an accurate understanding of the company and its operations.

Dow Chemical is a leading chemical company with a long history of innovation and growth. We take pride in our commitment to environmental sustainability and ethical business practices. Our mission is to serve our customers and communities while continuously improving our processes and products.

It is important for us to have a clear understanding of the company's operations, including any potential environmental impacts. I encourage you to consider Dow Chemical's efforts to minimize its footprint and its commitment to responsible sourcing and production methods.

Thank you for your attention.

Sincerely,

MUCK AND CHAFF

By Freda Jaffe

The condescending response of the Dow Chemical Corporation to the letter recently printed in THE SUN seems to indicate that it believes shareholders are not as intelligent as they are. The corporation's claim that it "never forced to think logically" is an absurdity. It is through logically reasoning that we can see the connection between the Dow Chemical Corporation's activities and the suffering caused by its products. In the future, Dow Chemical Corporation should be more careful in its statements.

Dow Chemical Corporation can be held responsible for the pain and horror that its products cause. It is the corporation's responsibility to act in an ethical and moral manner.

Sincerely,

JEWISH AGGRESSIVE ACTION

By Freda Jaffe

The recent aggressive actions of the Jewish community are a cause for concern. As citizens, we must ensure that our actions reflect the values of our society. It is important to remember that violence is not a solution to any problem.

The recent aggressive actions of the Jewish community are an example of how far we have strayed from the principles of our society. It is important to remember that violence is not a solution to any problem.
