State University of New York
New York City, October 19, 1957

Dear Mr. President,

As you know, the State University of New York faces a financial crisis due to the lack of state funding. The proposed bond issue is aimed at providing the necessary funds to expand and develop State University facilities, which are critical to providing college opportunities to the people of New York.

On November 20th, a meeting will be held in the Senate Chambers of the Capitol to discuss the bond issue. We urge you to attend this meeting and support the proposed bond issue.

The bond issue will provide significant benefits to our college and the State University as a whole. It will allow us to improve our facilities, such as the library, gymnasium, athletic fields, and residence halls. It will also enable us to create a debt of up to $250 million dollars for needed expansion.

The future of our college, and that of the State University, is in our hands. We must take action now to ensure that our college can continue to provide quality education to all New Yorkers.

Sincerely,

[Student's Name]
