BALL TEAM LOSES OPENING GAME

Unsuccessful Inauguration of Baseball Schedule is not Discouraging

The summer session baseball team lost its opening game to the Arapahoe Nine by a score of 10-9 in a twilight game played Tuesday night at Whitehall Park.

The first run was scored by the summer session team on a double hit by Captain Leo Allen, who tallied a hit on a single by one of his team mates.

McClane pitched a very good game for the State Collegians but some of his best efforts were nullified by the poor fielding of his teammates.

In a batting orgy in the last inning, State managed to tie the score at 6 all, on hits by Allen, Spaulding, Scrory, McClane and Scholtz.

However the Arapahoe team reached a counter-attack and drove in three runs, two of which were the result of errors over the right fielder's head.

Scholtz contributed to his team's defeat by poor fielding and several of his mates also were guilty of errors. Simon Maslau, assistant manager of the State Collegians, was not distracted by the loss of the initial game and said he'd try to put the team in the winning column next Tuesday evening.

SUMMER STUDENTS IN SOCIOLOGY VISIT HUDSON TRAINING

Last Wednesday about 75 members of the sociology class visited the Hudson Training School, at Hudson, New York. The huskies for those who did not drive themselves, cars were in charge of Miss McNamara.

There are about 400 girls in present in this institution. While they are trained in some useful occupation and continue their school work. Upon entering, a girl is placed in a class for which she seems suited: dressmaking, baking, weaving, interior decorating, or beauty culture. If the girl seems suitable, she is transferred until an opening is found where she enjoys the work and progresses rapidly.

The cottage system is used and each girl has her own room which she decorates herself. The other buildings visited were the chapel, gymnasium, and school. In one of the school rooms an art exhibit was on display.

The girls often remain here until they are eighteen and positions then found for them. The school continues to keep in touch with them until they prove themselves competent to care for themselves.

The big problem of the school is to train the girls in self-confidence and self-respect. The lack of discipline and control and the confidence and friendship between the girl teachers is remarkable, said Professor Walker.

New Instructor For Government

Paul H. Sheats is to fill the position left vacant by William F. Vollbrecht, Assistant Instructor in Government. Mr. Sheats is a graduate of Hendleide College, Ithaca, Ohio, and Columbia University. Mr. Vollbrecht is to become a member of the faculty at Miami University.

Then As Now

During recent excavations a number of skeletons were found in a cave ranging along the walls in a sitting posture. There was evident a shortage of dancing partners even in those days.

STUDENTS TO SEE HISTORIC PLACES

Monument at Saratoga Field Will Be Seen on Ride to Site of Battle

To-morrow, about 150 students will visit the Battlefield of Saratoga, locally known as Bemis Heights, on an excursion conducted under the auspices of the History Department. Anyone may go. It is a thirty mile drive to the battlefield through beautiful country, and the ride alone will be worth the $1.25 that will be paid for tickets. Huskies will leave the Washington avenue entrance to the college promptly at 12 o'clock noon and will return in time for dinner in the evening, according to Dr. Donald V. Smith.

This is the first opportunity many have had to visit one of the most historic spots in America. The first battle of Saratoga was indecisive, the second one a decided victory. Food was scarce in British Camp and new recruits were arriving daily for the American army.

On October 7th, 1777, the second battle of Saratoga proved a total defeat for the British. This was the most important military engagement between the time of Lexington and Yorktown. It changed the rebellion into a revolution in the eyes of the world. It called forth the forces that created a nation.

This battle ranks among one of the 15 decisive battles of the world. It was the turning point of the Revolution. France now believed that the Colonists might break free from England and came to our aid financially. spiked sent a fleet and an army under Lafayette to assist us.

Today a great monument marks the spot where the battle took place. Once a vacant niche is left where the statue of Benedict Arnold would stand, he said he would have to be removes for his own safety. The monument stands on a hill 200 feet above the river. The shaft is twenty feet square being a combination of Egyptian, Greek, and Gothic features in the first story. It may be ascended by 137 steps. The view from the monument is superb. At your feet is the pretty village of Schuylerville and just beyond, the Hudson river with the oldest inhabitants.

SUMMER SESSION 1930 EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

- Classes beginning 8 A.M. Date of Examination, Thursday, Aug 14 Hour of Examination, 2:00-3:30 P.M.
- Classes beginning 9 A.M. Date of Examination, Friday, Aug 15 Hour of Examination, 11:00-1:00 A.M.
- Classes beginning 10 A.M. Date of Examination, Friday, Aug 15 Hour of Examination, 10:00-12:00 A.M.
- Classes beginning 11 A.M. Date of Examination, Friday, Aug 15 Hour of Examination, 1:00-3:00 A.M.
- Classes beginning 12 M. Date of Examination, Saturday, Aug 16 Hour of Examination, 8:00-12:00 A.M.

You Cheer Us Considerably

Cheer up, the country has not gone dry. I was coming home the other night at a fire truck speeded by with the sirens going. I saw a flash. A gentleman who had been drinking from the cistern was hit by the siren and fell. Tell with him! he said disgustedly. I'm not going to chase him any further. He can keep his peanuts!
THE SUMMER NEWS

Published weekly during the summer session by the Students of New York State College for Teachers, Summer Session '30.

The subscription rate is forty-five cents for free issues of ten cents per copy.

Articles, manuscripts, etc., must be in the hands of the editors before Monday of the week of publication.

Editors
Alexander Schott
Andrew Hirtz
Managing Editor
Helene Warden
Assistant to the Managing Editor
Frances V. Seck
Business Manager
Maxine Robinson
Book Editor
Bernard Kurth
Publication Manager
Leah Dorgan
Eva Neshon
Associate Editors
Gertrude Hershberg
George Winslow
Bess Allison
Ray Collins

Albany, N. Y., August 1, 1930

A SAFE VOYAGE

We have arrived at the mid-point of our voyage together in quest of knowledge in the ship Summer Session, which safely entered the harbor of the Social and Intellectual Understanding. The present station of our seaward voyage is rather uncertain due to the lack of cooperation and lack of interest in extra-curricular activities of our new crew. They are somehow familiar with the mysteries of the land yet the voyage continues unabated and we are finding the truth of this fact to the reader.

"The world is suffering from the lack of faith in a transcendental truth." This quotation from the preface page gives us a glimpse at the aim of the book. Julian Benda cites examples after example to drive home the truth of this fact to the reader. It is written to bring out the eternal conflict between men of letter and men of politics and war. A real revolution which whose enthusiastic and active adherents are like the hordes of the intellectual world is dangerous. It cannot be stopped. The truth is, like the hordes of the intellectual world, the hordes of the war and politics are the only ones who can stop the truth. The truth is real. The hordes of the war and politics are the only ones who can stop the truth. The truth is real. The truth is real. The truth is real.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

By Ray Collins

We have several out of state people attending the session and that probably accounts for their misconception of the Saratoga Affair which are soon to be conducted. One gentleman quoted it to the Sweepstakes won't be such a bad racket. The boys have had considerable difficulty in securing courts due to the surplus of the fairer sex. Incidents have been few and the boys seem to be musically inclined.

Manager Mauhan finally has his place determined. He has chosen to be a very popular song at the house and the boys seem to be musically inclined.

Notes In Exile

By Israel Kaplan

No one saw the first of our band of the Sweeptakes won't be such a bad racket. The boys have had considerable difficulty in securing courts due to the surplus of the fairer sex. Incidents have been few and the boys seem to be musically inclined.

Manager Mauhan finally has his place determined. He has chosen to be a very popular song at the house and the boys seem to be musically inclined.
Simon Maslan Analyzes Nativism In The Colonies
By Simon Maslan

The so-called movement of "nativism" sponsored by Ku Klux Klan secret society, by the president of zoological society of New York, Madison Grant, and by few others, are but the latest manifestations of a disease which has attacked the American body politic for fully a hundred years. Professor Willard C. Abbott, the Harvard historian, ignores the epoch-making researches of such scholars as George Louis Boer, Dr. Charles A. Beard, John B. McMaster, Frederick J. Turner, Arthur Meier Schlesinger, Professor Van Tyne, and a number of other eminent historians. Mr. Abbott, who claims to be an authority on immigration and the problems of assimilation, either ignores or is unfamiliar with the original work of Max Farrand, the "Americanization Studies" issued under the auspices of Carnegie Foundation, and a number of other similar works.

The "work in the colonies" done by the black men who had been forcibly brought over from Africa, and by the indentured servants who were only step removed from actual slavery.

The present 100 per cent anti-Ku Klux Klanism is nothing else, but the renewal of the antislavery movements of 1831 and 1840. It is of great harm to the country, America does not need those men, societies whose sole aspiration is to see the "new nation," which "our ancestors" brought forth upon this continent, in "a house divided against itself." But what America does need are good, faithful, patriotic men and women who are loyal to America, to its people, its flag and its ideals.

Simon Maslan

Conducts Recitals

Dr. Harold W. Thompson,
Dr. Harold W. Thompson, who is giving the series of organ recitals at the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Harold W. Thompson, professor of English, will conduct the third of a series of organ recitals at the First Presbyterian Church on the corner of State and Walnut streets. Tuesday at 4 o'clock.

The program for this recital will consist mainly of request selections from the student body of State college. Dr. Thompson will play one or two numbers that he believes are suitable for a musical program.

Dr. Thompson started the organ programs in the summer session of 1920 and continued them until 1924, when he became ill, when upon Dr. Candy he took charge until this season.

The first recital was given by Dr. Thompson at the First Presbyterian church on July 25th before an audience of one hundred and one. Summer session students. The last selection included some classical and popular numbers.

Humesque, and a Scottish and Irish folk song were played by Dr. Thompson.

The second of the series of recitals also consisted of requests sent to Dr. Thompson. The selections included "American folk songs" and Handel's "Largo."

The attendance at the second recital had increased to about 250 interested people.

The organ which according to Dr. Thompson is one of the best in the United States was manufactured by Casavant, a French concern. There are 4 keyboards and chimes, and harps are played on the keyboard, which Dr. Thompson stated were special features of the instrument.

The church has permitted the use of their organ for this series of recitals free of charge.

It is a coincidence that at the time when Dr. Thompson was playing the selections on his program yesterday afternoon, he was supposed to be reading a paper on "Standard in American Church Music," of which he is considered an authority in the United States of Los Angeles, California. The paper was read by proxy, Dr. Thompson having written three books on church music.

Dr. Thompson is the first American to receive the advanced degree of doctor of literature.

Dr. Thompson has written a book about such immortals of literature as Robert Burns, and Sir Walter Scott, entitled "Anecdotes and Elogiums of Henry MacKenzie." Another book written on life of Scotland is called "A Scottish Man of Feeling."

Dr. Thompson has the degree of master of arts and doctor of philosophy from Harvard University. He received an Austin fellowship when he was a student at the university. Dr. Thompson was graduated as valedictorian of his class from Hamilton College in 1912.

Dr. Thompson is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Dr. Thompson was awarded a fellowship for the second time by Guggenheim Foundation in 1927. The last round of the tournament will be completed by the end of next week.

H. M. I. Well, on my conscience.

Hey: Spent my vacation up in the mountains.

Hey: Reals. Did you have a bang?

Hey: Very well.
Notes In Exile

(Continued from page 2 col. 4)

Following our stupendous success with "State's Stein Song," we wrapped a cold Turkish towel (Albany Y. M. C. A.) about our head, laughed at Gotham's heat wave, and hoarded it out a worthy follow-up. If 200 or more requests are received by the editor, we'll let you have the words in next week's column. If you, the title. To "Save A Glass for College House!"

We have finally come to the conclusion that the difference between State college women and the feminists. New York lies in the differing views toward life. The New Yorker is too blase (but perhaps you've heard this before) and cannot be surprised; life holds no wonders for her. She's the kind we'd hate to marry, if you know what we mean. And for a last snappy smart—she paints and powders to excess even in July and August!

"All Quiet on the Western Front" at the Central, rather good, but didn't compare with "Journey's End." But we saw the latter at Albany's Grand Theatre, in company with cronies and pals from State. Perhaps a conditioned reaction explains the difference in appreciation?

Hallelejah! We've met a college graduate (an A. B. at that) who doesn't know Omar Khayyam's Ruhaiyat! Drink it down, dear readers.

Normanskill Farm Dairy

Bottled Milk and Cream

Wholesale Price to Parties

C. P. LOWRY
Watchmaker and Jewelers

171 Central Ave.

ALBANY, N. Y.