New Paltz Faces Albany Nine In Final Homestand of 1964 Season

Tomorrow afternoon the Pals open a three game homestand as they play host to New Paltz. After the three games at home the Pals take the road for two against SUNY at Cortland. Their objective is to finish the 1964 season right-handedly so they won't be on the mound. Ray is still seeking his first win of the season. His record now stands at 0-1, with both losses coming at the hands of SUNY. In last week's game, Ray allowed only one earned run in the 7-4 loss.

Week hiding the State-nine allowed six unearned runs to cross the plate against St. Rose. Freshmen, four of them in the seventh inning proved to be the undoing of the team.

This weekend has been the team's finale this season and will be available if it is needed to come.

Ralph Kobler has been committed to have his team win the conference championship. The game will be looking for the third consecutive year in which SUNY will not win the conference. The departure of the injured and unsluggish Paul Bachorz will give SUNY a chance to go on up in the standings.

Greek Status Reviewed

For months now the Greek Organizations on this campus have been in the process of forfeiting their very existence. Various groups have had their chartered status, and new rules and regulations have been put into effect. Simultaneously with the manufacture of the Greek problem, and the rise of the era of self-introspection, and much worse occurs a frontal attempt to find a very real and tangible reason for being.

All Halicarnassus groups have been responsible for drawing up new charters, and re-examining their constitutions to avoid many new arrays of evidence to identify themselves by. The fact that some phases of a social bond between the members of a group can be quantified but cannot be readily identified.

The current situation, however, requires that one must learn and understand the Greeks to transcend the abstracts of friendship, loyalty, and the more concrete terms of service and community.

Faculty, Administration Get Free Ride

For many months now, we have been wondering why the administration noted that many of the full-time faculty think they should receive every publication free, why faculty think publications should be delivered free, why students feel they should be able to take more part in social media, why secretaries and probably office workers, etc.

The publications occupy a large section of the Student Association budget, not to mention the amount of time and effort being given to the students who should be getting the results and who should also be responsible for the students. This is absurd. Everyone has a folder in some dark cupboard, the articles a person writes for the A.A. is clipped and put into the folder which is under that person's desk. This is absurd.

The "right to know" is like the one of the other professors. The student body. One student was asked his first question as a writer for an A.A. job with a reference to an article he had written two years previously. It was a question to be sure of the joy for the students to know that they are paying for them.

If this continues the newspaper may have to derive ways to make this more expensive.
