Watch out for the signs of jangled nerves

You've noticed other people's nervous habits—and wondered probably why such people didn't learn to control themselves.

But have you ever stopped to think that you, too, may have habits just as irritating to others as the key juggler or coin jingler is to you?

And more important than that, those habits are a sign of jangled nerves. And jangled nerves are the signal to stop and check up on yourself.

Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation—and watch your smoking. Remember, you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle the nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOs
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOs than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

ARE YOU A NAIL BITER?

Habits that come from jangled nerves are a warning

Perhaps you don't bite your nails—but if you aren't the stoic, phlegmatic type, you probably have other nervous habits.

You may drum on your desk—chew your pencils—these and countless other seemingly unimportant nervous habits are a warning of jangled nerves.

Why not play safe? Protect your nerves. Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation. And make Camels your cigarette.

For Camels' costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves—no matter how steadily you smoke.
