Central Connecticut 102, State 80;
Peds End Year With 16-6 Record

The Albany State varsity basketball team wound-up its season Wednesday night with a 16-6 record with a 102-80 loss to a powerful and big Central Connecticut State in an away game. The score was 56-31 at the 16:00 mark of the first half, but the home team poured in 53 points in the last 15 minutes to take the win. They were never headed again. Co-captain and leading scorer Dick Crossett came on late in the game looking for his 14th straight victim, 57-54. Iarpur 1,

State Cagers Close Out
Highly Successful Season

Prior to Wednesday night's contest with Central Connecticut the Albany State varsity basketball team had a 16-6 overall slate. The team, one of the most successful in Albany's illustrious history, established a new consecutive winning streak mark with 12 victories in a row, extending from Dec. 18 to Feb. 20.

The Peds opened the season on Dec. 1, against Montclair. Dick Crossett bowled to the Peds two days later, and the Peds were handily defeated by the team in last week's meeting. The Peds were successful in Albany's illustrious history, establishing a new consecutive winning streak mark with 12 victories in a row, extending from Dec. 18 to Feb. 20.

The team averaged 68.5 points per game, and allowed 53.5. Dick Crossett led the team in scoring (17.8) and was named to the Capital City Tournament All-Tournament Team. Tom Owston led the team in rebounding (20.3) and averaged 15.6 points per game. The team closed out the season with a 102-80 loss to a powerful and big Central Connecticut State in an away game.

It would not be proper to break off the past basketball season without officially congratulating the Peds on a truly outstanding year. The seniors gave this year a lot to be proud of, and did it in an admirable way.

Before offering individual players, let's take a look at the team as a whole. The key players for the record-breaking winning streak, climaxed by an almost unbelievable comeback over the powerful State Cagers, are: Dick Crossett, Dick Owston, and bowing to Siena, 50-48. In a

Friday's Film 'Touch of Evil' Combines Story with Welles' Style

This Friday evening, the Intercollegiate Film Society will be showing Orson Welles' film, "Touch of Evil," at 7:30 p.m. in Draper 349. "Touch of Evil," which was released in 1958, was Welles' second film after "Citizen Kane." The movie is a crime drama set in Mexico City, and it features performances by Welles, Charlton Heston, and Janet Leigh. The film is known for its realistic depiction of the Mexican underworld and its complex narrative structure, which is considered a hallmark of Welles' filmmaking style. The Intercollegiate Film Society is a group that screens a variety of films each week, aiming to provide students with a diverse range of cinematic experiences. The screening of "Touch of Evil" is part of their ongoing effort to introduce audiences to classic and independent films. The society welcomes students from all backgrounds who are interested in film appreciation and discussion.
