1953 Baseball Season To Open Today;
Albany Meets Willimantic At Bleecker

Softball Season Finally Opens

Softball season finally opens in the Eastern Intercollegiate League with a game between the University of Albany and Willimantic. In 41 previous years before the advent of the Eastern Intercollegiate League, the New York State Collegiate League had been the major summer pastime for New York State college girls. This summer, however, the New York State league will not exist, and Willimantic will open with a game against the University of Albany on the state campus.

The Albany team will be without its No. 1 pitcher, Dick Anderson, who is serving in the armed forces. In the absence of Anderson, the team will open with Pete Teller on the hill. Pete is expected to lose against Willimantic.

Four Teams Reach Playoffs

Six teams will open in the Eastern Intercollegiate League, with four teams reaching the playoffs. The latter will determine the annual champion of the league.

In the past, the season would last for six or seven weeks, and the playoffs were not held for the team with the best record. This season, however, due to the number of teams involved, the playoffs will be held to determine the champion of the league.

The playoffs will begin with the opening of the season, and the winner of each match will advance to the next round. The winners of the first two matches will then play for the championship of the league.

The playoffs will continue until the championship is determined. The championship game will be held at the stadium of the team with the best record.

The playoffs will be held in a series of matches, with each match being played to a best-of-three basis. The team with the best record after the playoff matches will be declared the champion of the Eastern Intercollegiate League.
