Once More with Feeling...

Another opportunity for the student body to improve itself is coming up next Thursday and Friday. Once more there will be voting on the 2.5 average requirement for present second and third year students in the College.

In our column, reviewing the 2.5 average was the most serious mistake that has ever been made in student government at the College. Before you vote—remember—

1. A 2.5 average does not insure administrative ability in a person.
2. Constructive, efficient government comes from experiment, not tradition.
3. The best candidates have often been proven from day one.

The principle behind this provision was beautifully idealistic but two per cent experience has shown that it is impractical.

It is important that you vote this week and vote wisely—not idly.

Go! Go! Go!

Attention Juniors: By next Saturday your ability to consume food should have reached its peak. If you live at home, even mother's cooking can get dangerous. So the class is offering to help you out of this rut you're in—without a banquet at Beta Chi. Actually this is sound business procedure. You know where else you can get a $2.50 meal for a dollar?

Prom Ball which should be interesting and entertaining as always.

Class ring sales will be discontinued that evening in a ring ceremony. If you didn't order a ring, don't worry about it. Go to the banquet, and join the rest of us who couldn't afford them; it's okay, you're one of the crowd.

The big whigs of the class have gone wild and worked out their plans and have planned real entertainment, but don't worry, it won't last long.

If you do attend, you'll be able to practice your dancing skills, without the going weekends coming about.

That's a fair deal, isn't it?

See you there.

Social Disorganization...

We witnessed this week the kind of a Senate meeting we hope never to see again. Disorganization of thought and emotion mingled gloriously through a sequence of speeches, panicky and its subordinates governing formerly clear-thinking students and students became completely baffled as they were dazzled and discomfited by a parliamentary maze and completed their business on a scale of idealism.

No one could say with any authority whether the procedures follow the rules or even to keep or should keep one. It seems almost as if I would say that the illegal is no more needed than the legal, a new section of Senate business, "I forget what we're talking about again...

The idea is to have a Senate which will be responsive to the students' needs and to the students' wishes.

Educator Discusses the Trials Encountered in the Field

By BOB KAMF

At the request of the staff of The State College News, Ed Zajac, a professor of education at the university, gave a talk on the subject of the trials encountered in the field of education.

Zajac stated that the trials encountered in the field are often more difficult than those encountered in the classroom. He mentioned that the problems of discipline, motivation, and student behavior can be particularly challenging.

Zajac also discussed the importance of continuous professional development for educators. He emphasized that staying up-to-date with the latest research and educational trends is crucial for effective teaching.

Finally, Zajac encouraged educators to seek support from colleagues and mentors. He stated that collaboration and mentorship can provide valuable insights and strategies for addressing the challenges faced in the field.
Eight State Seniors Receive College Teaching Fellowships

Twelve seniors at Union College have been named to the College's annual College Teaching Fellowship. The fellows were named by the Division of Student Affairs and the Department of Curriculum and Educational Services. The following faculty members were named:

- John Yager '59
- James G. Balfour
- Russell J. Sage
- Skidmore

The fellows will hold a coffee hour for Phi Delta Theta on Friday, April 6, for the men of Kappa Delta Phi Sorority. The event will feature a genuine article of a LUCKY STRIKE cigarette, as any black-and-blue freshman can testify. When he cracks a book, he's pleased as Punch. The possibility of a LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is the second initiation the society has held. Members of the panel are: David Anderson, Ralph Peterson, and Elizabeth Spence.
