A Living Easter

This is an age of science. We have facts to chase. We demand proof for the ideas and statements set forth. We are a sceptical breed of generation and set the scales of literal, factual and spiritual. Faith is another term in our vocabulary which is reflected in our daily actions. In the spiritual sense of life, faith is a basis of hope, the foundation of trust, the mainspring of action. And so, as our life is built, it is upon faith that we proceed.

At State College there are a number of religious organizations. There is a Student Church and there are a number of groups who have planned revival services during this past season. All these groups have their own ideas about how faith should be practiced. Very few, comparing the use of our study halls, are able to come to the conclusion that the idea of the church is not the same as their own ideas of life. These points, if not properly understood, may bring about considerable strife.

Among the newer candidates for Vice-President, the greatest enthusiasm is shown for the idea of the Student Church. Almost everyone will have a chance to vote for their candidate, and all will have a chance to vote for the church. If they do not take part, their votes will be left to the judgment of those who did.

The recently elected President of the Student Church is a new freshman, Mike Parks. He will act as chairman for the next year. The new President is well liked for his ability. He has a great influence over the elections, and reads with interest the President's message. He was elected on a platform of honesty and integrity, and has promised to lead the Student Church in the right direction.

She has just returned from her home country, where she had been teaching for several years. Miss Kiley is a member of the Student Association and has been involved in many activities on campus.

Last Friday, our assembly was tending the most satisfying attention to the President's message. This is a message to the nation which reflects the ideas and sentiments of the Student Church.
