Every student in Milne Junior High school is interested in some form of extra-curricular activity, according to Dr. Frederick, president of the school, in an interview with the News reporter. "The backfield of a football team and the actors in a play must learn to work together. Capital labor would do well to cooperate and thus produce efficient competition," he added.

Dr. Frederick listed three new subjects in the ordinary class room that would be added to the regular curriculum, "are the idea of cooperation.
